Despocratic State Convention

The Democratic State Convention to nominate a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, a candidate for State Treasurer, and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought before it, will meet at Allentown on Wolnesday, August 31, at 12 o'clock noon.

The representation in the Convention will consist of representative delegates. one for each 1,000 Democratic votes east for Governor at the last guberna-torial election, or for a fraction of 1,000 such votes, amounting to 500 or more in the respective representative dis tricis, provide that each representative district shall have at least one delegate. DALLAS SANDERS, Chairman. WILLIAM F. DANKEHOWER, Secretary.

The Philadelphia democrats will support Samuel G. Thompson for Supreme Judge at the state convention.

Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland has accepted the position of associate principle in Mrs. Reed's school for young Indies in New York city.

Since the discovery of Harvey's defalcation a general and searching investigation has been set on foot in the United States Treasury Department, and it is said that important, if not sensitional developments, may be expected in that quarter ere long, for it has not been the custom heretofore to scratinize the accounts of disbursing officers. It is really small wonder that such loose methods have often led to official crookedness, as in the cases of Bacon and Harvey. The Inter-State Commission has taken emphatic and important action on the motion of the Missouri Pacific Railroad to dismiss the complaint of the wholesale grocers of St. Louis, as regards the issuing of mileage tickets—the corporation urging that the commission had no jurisdiction, but the latter body declined to take immediate action until the results of the case had been fully discussed.

In reply to a great number of inquiries, that, under the Mexican Pensions can be paid from the date of the passage of the Act, Jan. 29th, 1887, only when pensioners were sixty-two years old previous to that date; in the exceptions to this rule, the payment will begin on the day when the pensioner is 62 years of age, unless in cases of dependence and disability.

The Secretary of the Interior has officers. It is really small wonder that next week. the case had been fully discussed. purpose and policy will be to grant a full and prompt hearing to all causes submitted to its decisions, and that dilatory motions and legal quibbles and technicalities will not be permitted to unpresssarily hinder the transparence of the States and the transparence of the States and legal quibbles. The greatest good feeling prevailed throughout, and the such lands in several of the States and lant frame of mind. to unnecessarily hinder the progress of Territories.

and Jesse Rittenhouse of Beaver, nominees for county commissioners seem to have shared almost equally in popularity, there being a difference of only half a vote between them on the first ballot. They ran far ahead of all their competitors, and the large vote shows that the party has confidence that they will perform the duties of their responsible office fairly and honestly. E. M. Tewksbury of Catawissa, and

A. W. Hartman of Fishingereek, nominees for auditors, are competent men, and the public accounts will be carefully scrutinized by them.

There is no charge of any unfairness in any of the nominations, and the whole ticket will be elected by the usual majority. -

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., July 25, 1887.

President and Mrs. Cleveland, have President and Mrs. Cleveland, have returned from their pleasant tour of northern New York, looking and feeling all the better for the delightful outing and cordial reception throughout the trip, but more especially, at the boyhood home of the President, where his old friends and neighbors eagerly thronged about him, glad to honor the man, who had risen, like a meteor, man, who had risen, like a meteor, year since for less than $30,000. from the humblest to the proudest and greatest position on earth, and who greatest each and all with a good word and a kindly smile of recognition. lying between Tennallytown road and the private road leading to Grasslands was sold for the sum of $37,000.

At the White House, it is not yet think he can refuse assent to the importunities of St. Louis, Louisville, and other western cities.

There was no surprise in the Interior Department when the resignation of the chief clerk of the Patent Office who is one of those so-called "indispensable"

There is no doubt but what the various Departments are literally honey-combed with Republican rascals and thieves who should be sent on with Forger Harvey, who will serve his country twelve years in an humble capacity at Albany. In one of the Departments, a certain prominent holdover Republican, has been so urgent in insisting on the destruction of some official papers that he has been placed under surveillance as a suspect, because such great solicitude must be of much in defiance of the rules of the company significance either to this individual or to his associates.

Most men are content with holding one office, but I know of several. whose ambition cannot be bound in such narrow limits, and as my intelligent friend, the reader has divined, these gentleman are almost invariably. Re-publicans, as a good Democrat is gen-erally satisfied with one office. I was led to these reflections by contemplating the easy grace with which the Hon. Carroll D. The chairman in reply said that the commission would not sit here to try any mere question of damages, but this was much more. Here were charges of unjust discrimination against a class of citizens. If there were such a case it ought to arise upon facts which are and refused to go into the other car, and that it was the passengers and not the train men who assaulted him.

The answer admits the duty of the company to furnish equal accomoda-tions for all first-class passengers, but it claims the right to classify passengers either by the color line or otherwise.

After the reading of a number of depositions Mr. Council was sworn. He is an intelligent looking colored man, well dressed, self-possessed and of good address. He is a minister of the gospel and principal of the State Normal school at Huntsville. In reply o inquiries by counsel he told the story f his ejection from the car in which he had taken his seat. He entered the car without objection on the part of any one. He was told by some one whom he did not recognize as a train man, that he must go forward, to which he paid no attention. He was finally approached by two men, one of whom carried a lantern, and the other had his hand upon his hip pocket. The man with the lantern seized witness, hit him over the head several time him this was what he got for not moving when requested.

Counsel for the respondent opened his side of the case by realing a serhis side of the case by realing a series of depositions. From one by a passenger named Whitsett, the following appears to have been the style of Mr. Council's invitation to change cars: "I walked forward to the front end of the car and told Mr. Bivins, the flag-show our appreciation.

"I wanted his lantern a min."

One delegate election went off very looked moist but good humored. The president's appearance was also of the same description. The procession moved slowly up the asphalt walk at precisely noon, amid a forest of palmeleaf fans and sun umbrellas, and filed upstairs into the library. There they all, to the number of seventy-five, shook hands with the President.

Mr. Brown submitted a motion to dismitted printed briefs and the hearing ended. Defendant's briefs are two in number, the first maintaining the right of a railroad to classify its passengers on the color line: the second discussing the question of jurisdiction. The completion of jurisdiction. The completion of jurisdiction in the right of classification, maintains that it is the duty of the railroad to furnish equal October.
