Professor Baird was truly a benefactor of his race, for to him the people of the United States are chiefly indebted for the upbuilding of the Fish Commission, the propagation of fish in all their waters, and the consequent cheapening of that excellent article of food. The people of the District of Columbia are still groaning under their burden of debt and protesting against their form of government given them by the Republicans which is taxation without representation. They are carrying a debt of more than $21,000,000, consuming a million and a quarter annually in interest and sinking fund, and the District of Columbia would have been barkrupt long since, but for the fact that the United States bears half the expenses of Government. One public In the School Laws and Decisions 1885, page 36, appears the following: 'Neglect to provide a sufficient number of chools, it is believed, is punishable by removal from office of the board so neglecting its duty, and the appointment of others in their stead." Whether the failure to appoint a principal would come under this rule or not, would be a question for the court to decide, should the matter get so far as that. Whether the court has any jurisdiction in such a case is also uncertain. But at all events let something be expenses of Government. Opening of St. Charles Hotel.

The St. Charles Hotel at Berwick is fast nearing completion. G. W. Klase, the genial landlord expects to move all his furniture into the hotel Wednesday of next week, and will formally open the hotel on Thursday evening with a frog supper. Mr Klase has made several trips for fregs and will have an abundance for the occasion. Everything about the premises is being scoured and refreshed. W. T. Snyder is ornamenting the rooms with his fine styles of paper, while the painters are using the brush both inside and out. The building is much more convenient and attractive than it was before its partial destruction by fire in April.

The Difference.

A striking difference in the two styles set forth in the following stanzas: The first is taken from Dr. Franklin's "Poor Richard's Almanac." The last was doubt less written by an observing journalist:

Old style. Farmer at the plough, Wife milking cow, Daughters spinning yarn, Sons thrashing in the barn. All happy to a charm.

New style. The farmer gone to see a show, His daughter at the piano, Madam gayly dressed in satin, All the boys are learning Latin. With a moretarm on the fe With a mortgage on the farm

Time Needed for a Navy

The adage that "a navy cannot be built n a day" is clearly illustrated by the history of the construction of these vessels Although four years have elapsed since work upon them was begun, only two ar at the present writing ready for service a sea. Nor is it strange that this should be true. The experience of foreign govern ments shows that delays in the building of A perfect washing machine has never been invented, but a perfect washing soap has.
