Toothpicks From Japan.

A well-known New York firm recently tried the experiment of import ing 70,000 toothpicks from Yokohama ese "cure-dents," as they are described in the invoice, come in natty little boxes containing 1,000 each, in bundles tied round with green silk. They are cut from hard wood, have a point at only one end, and cost 35 Mexican cents a thousand.—New York Evening Sun.

Martha's Epitaph.

Down in Houston County, Ga., there is an ancient village called Old Wilner. In its most prosperous days there was a big school there, and a teach r came from the North to take charge of the academy. His name was Moore. He wife, whom he loved very dear ly. He had her buried in the old burying ground of Wilner, and out of the meager funds he erected a marble tombstone at the head of her grave. As it was in the wild wood, as ceme teries generally were then, it was a favorite butting ground for the juve-nile population. Thus it came about that the balf obliverated epitaph appearto-day, cut deep in the mossy stone. Don't Shoot Birds Around Martha's Grave." The name, Martha Anne Moore, with date of birth and death, appears above. It is a curious epitaph, and it is the only bla of history left concerning the old teacher and bi-
