Senator Mahone's claim that Vir ginis had gone Republican on a popular vote is not sustained by the official figures. The State, in fact, is Demo-eratic by more than 2,000. The coun-ties also in which no elections were held this year gave Lee for Governor about 8,000 majority, which, added to those given this year, would make the State anti-Mahone by fully 5,000 votes. There may be some questions which the election in question does not decide, but it disposes of both Mahone and perger for at least six years to come; which is why Virginia is to be congratulated .- Times.

the Legislative Investigating Commit-tee when he was still buoyed up by confidence that his lifelong luck had not deserted him and that the law had no terrors for a man of his wealth and influence. Consequently he was more frank in telling of his boodle transact tions than was strictly prudent. When he found himself indicted and a prisoner arraigned at the oar of the Criminal Court he lost much of this confi dence and was disposed no longer to be communicative. His former testi-mony was admitted in evidence against proofs to establish his guilt to the satisfaction of the jury. The Court of Appeals now interposes and says that it was not proper to make Sharp thus convict himself, and all the fruits of a long and expensive trial are brought to naught.

The judgment of the court turn of the section of upon the construction of the section of the New York penal code which provides, in effect, that testimony given in regard to bribes "upon any trial, hearing, proceeding or investigation's shall not be used in any prosecution against the person so testifying. Judge-Barrett, the trial judge, held that this was intended to apply to judicial or semi judicial inquiries, but not to legis-lative committee investigations but the higher court holds that these come Within the rule, so Sharp goes free. Had he voluntarily told the committee hat he had been buying and selling New York Aldermen from his youth up and given it the full particulars of the Broa lway purchase, and had this testimony been published to all the world, it could not under this decision be used against him. No priestly con fession is half so sacred as the oper secrets told to a New York legislative investigating committee.

The Press and Plaguarism.

The modern newspaper often success fully plays the part of the literary de-tective. In the days when newspapers were not, it was safe for a plagiarist to ply his vocation with impunity there were not thousands of bright men and women whose trade was literature and whose memorie were marble in their retention of what they had read. Let a man deliver an if it is original or was stolen.

newspapers worked up a strong case through the bad eminence which it has against him. Now they think they have succeeded in catching a bigger fish in their net, no less a person than Dr. N. C. Shaffer, of the Kutztown General Tuttle secured his pension State Normal school. According to the newspapers, on Monday he delivered an address before the Lehigh county teachers' institute on "What is a Day. In the Allentown Chronicle the charge is made that of the 39 lines published in that paper giving a report of Dr. Schaeffers ad tress, 31 lines are almost word for word identical with that many lines from an article published recently in Chambers' Journal and republished in the N wember number of the Li brary Magazine, printed by John B.

Will it be Opened for Settlement?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 .- There is to be an earnes effort made in the coming session of congress to open a part Patriot. of the Indian Territory to settlement, and to legalize public entry upon the vast tract of unoccupied land, known as No-Man's Luid. One of the propositions is to divide the Indian Territory by a north-and south line, and to throw the western half open to settlement, retaining the eastern half for the Indians. The other is to make the public land known as No Man's Land a territory under the name of Cimar-

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29, 1887. Already I have reported to you the current capital gossip concerning the Cabinet changes—that Mr. Lamar will be translated to the Supreme Bench, that Postmaster General Vilas is to case of M. Iville R. Dell, who died unof Michigan, will be the latters successor. Still another rumor is that Mr. Whitney expects to resign from the Cabinet unless his health greatly improved the excision of two ulcerating proves within the next two months, his friends claiming that a man of the vast wealth and great social prominence of the present Secretary of the Navy, cannot afford to endanger his existence by further devoting himself to the onerous duties incumbent upon

Many New York Democrats were extremely solicitous for the President to go to his old home at Buffalo and vote in the late election, and much disappointment was felt that he did not gratify public expectation in that re-spect. But the President had a good reason for absenting himself, as he had learned from trustworthy sources, that his presence at the polls would have been the occasion of an undignified and unseemly demonstration on the part of a club of intensely partisan R-publicans, as it was their unpatriotpurpose to challenge Mr. Cleveland's right to vote, on the ground that he is not now a legal resident of Buffalo. In view of this exposed conspiracy, it votes during his Presidency, and when his motive is understood, it will be ap-plauded by all unbiased minds.

Messrs Carlisle and Randall are both the city, and while neither is willing o take the public into his confidence through the medium of the press, it is highly probable that these great lead-ers may have an informal conference efore the meeting of Congress, with he view of making "the two wings of the Democracy flap together" on the tariff question, in the language of Mr. Randail during a speeck in the Forty-ninth Congress.

The forthcoming report of Secretary Fairchild is awaited with no ordinary degree of laterest by the financia world, as it is expected that he will take advanced ground on the questions of the Treasury surplus, and the silver currency. Examination revealed, Dr. Agnew says, no ascertainable reasons why an anasthetic should not be given, as neither the heart nor kidneys were diseased, and the patient appeared to be in good health. Then the administration of the an methetic is described, the discovery of the cessa ion of res-piration, and the means employed, inffectually to restore it. Dr. Agnew further says:

"The post-mortem made by Dr Formad revealed complete colingre of the lungs, marked traces of an old meningetis, attributed to a former sun-stroke, and what satisfactorily explain ed the sudden termination of life, the rupture of a calcified vessel in the floor of the fourth ventricle, the recognized physiological centre of respira-tion, all the vessels comprising the circle of Willis were in a similar state of atheromatous degen-ration. It was evident, therefore, that the increased vascal tension of these cerebral vessels, caused by the ether, determined the esion, a result which might have fol lowed any unu-ual excitement mental or physical. The heart and kidn-ys were healthy.

"The question naturally occurs, could this sad disaster have been prevented? Certainly, in view of all the circumstances, it could not. First. The ether was that known as Squibb's. The can contained eight ounces, two onness remained in the vessel; two ounces, it is fair to suppose, had been retained in the folds of the towel, leaving four ounces, or, at most, less than ive ounces which had been inhated. S coad. There was a sufficient ad-mixture of atmospheric air with the respited vapor, as the anæsthetic was administered from an ordinary towel olded into a cone and with an opening at the apex. Third. The position of the administrator, Dr White, that boriously and carefully applying him-self to the important undertaking that with the face of the latter in full view, would have enabled him to detect at once any signs of approaching danger, which, from his long experience in giving anæsthetics, would have been privacy of his home, in order not to be diverted from his work by visitors to quickly recognized; and last, the impossibility of being able to ascertain the state of the blood yesduring life the state of the blood yessels of the brain disclosed by the autopsy, and rendered very improbable

"After forty years of surgical work, often, too, of the gravest character, and sometimes requiring prolonged amesthesia, without an accident in a single instance, I had come to believe that the exhibition of ether, unless that the exhibition of ether, unless recklessly administered, was entirely free from danger. Several deaths, I am aware, have been reported from time to time from its use, even in the hands of the most careful operators, but I never could divest my mind of he idea that in these cases there was
