As the warm weather approaches, we naturally think of a vacation, and what to read during our few weeks of rest is often quite a serious question. In "Books and Travel" Rev. Washington Gladden has written a timely article, giving us a few practical bints on what to read during our sojourn at the seaside or in the country. "With the New Books" introduces us to the newest books in two pages of delightful reading, and the reviews are numerous and unusually interesting. Among other miscellaneous mat ter is an extract from Theodore Child's article "The Literary Career in France." The portrait is of Edward Eggleston.

To PRESERVE NATURAL FLOWERS .- Dip the flowers in melted paraffine, withdraw, ing them quickly. The liquid should be only just hot enough to maintain its flaidity and the flowers should be dipped one at a time, held by the stocks and moved about for an instant to get rid of air bubbles. Fresh cut flowers, free from molating ure, make excellent specimens in this way. If you would preserve your health and invigorate your entire system use Perrine's Pure Barley Mait Whiskey. For sale by C. B. Robbins, Bloomsburg, Pa. [cow.

The crown of Queen Victoria consists of diamonds, pearls, rubies, sapphires and emeralds, set in silver and gold. Its gross weight is 39 oz. 5 dwt. troy. The number of diamonds are 3,852; pearls, 273; rubies, 9; sapphires, 17; emeralds, 11. It is an old saying—Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown. SPECIALIST

IN THE

Treatment of Chronic Diseases!

And a physician whose experience is strictly un-limited by a practice which in extent, variety and successful results is equalled by few and excelled PRACTICE.

DR. CLARK confines his practice to CHRONIC DISBASES exclusively, and will treat only such coace as are susceptible of a CERTAIN and POSITIVE DIAGNOSTS as the basis for SPECIFIC TREATMENT. SERIOUS CASES. In cases seriously complicated or of une-riain diagnosts. Pattern's have the advantage of DR. CLARK'S CHEMICAS and MICROSCOPICAL Examinations, which are most complete. CHEMICINYALIDS about not fall to consuit DR. CLARK, as he makes all examinations without questioning Pattern's or silowing them to make any statement concerning their diseases or its symptoms. If their diseases are not sufficiently developed to make a positive and certain dispress in this manner DR. CLARK will not treat the case.

DR. CLARK'S METHODS for the CLINICAL EXAMINATION of PATIENTS CONSTITUTE a real advance in practical medicine, and

FROM A PHYSIOLOGICAL AND PATHOLOGICAL STANDPOINT Dr. Clark believes that every fully developed disease has its own definite diagnostic symptoms by which it is known. PATIENTS.

PATIENTS know how they feel, but the Physician, after examining his case, should not only know the patient's feelings and symptoms, but should know why they exist. DR. CLARK'S CLAIMS. DR. CLARK'S claims to the patronage of the afflicted public consist in his belief that every fully developed constitutional disease presents its own specific diagnostic or characteristic symptoms, which if theroughly understood by the examining physician, can be accurately pointed out and described to the entire satisfaction of every patient. Hence Dr. Clark makes his examinations withhout questioning patients, or allowing them to make any statement concerning their disease or its symptoms.

POSITIVE DIAGNOSIS. If such examination and description is not in trict accordance with the disease and its symp-oms, as patients know them to exist, all such nationals are advised to go elsewhere for treat-ment, as by this standard only will br. Clark ex-unine and treat diseases.

This method of examination prevents the Doctor's judgment from being in any way blased by what the patient may say; and the doctor's treatment of the case is based upon his own knowledge of the discase, derived from a thorough examination of the outlen's condition, and not from anything the patient may say AN EXAMINATION.

THOROUGH KNOWLEDGE.

An examination from Dr. Clark, or an interview will convince the increditions or satisfy any one of his professional ability derived from a large ex-perience. In this way fpatients receive satisfac-ion before inquiring expense for medical treatmen DR.
