CHAPPED hands result from two causes. Too much alkali in the soap, which draws the natural oil from the skin, leaving it harsh, dry, and liable to crack, or the fats, from which the soap is made, are not properly combined with the alkali, so, from its greasy nature, it is impossible to rinse off the soan after washing. Prof. Leeds. Ph. D., Stevens Institution of Technology, says: "The Ivory Soap, while strongly cleansing, leaves the skin soft and pleasant to the touch, instead of harsh, uncomfortable, and liable to chap."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'tvory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it. Copyright 1886, by 1 octor & Garate

the Earth, and, Though There Were Crimes, Disasters and Convulsions of Nature, and the Hand of Death Has Not Been Idle, Mankind's Progress Generally Has Been Onward and Upward.

True, also, there have been more important disputes in more highly organized societies; cabinet crises in France and Spain, a change of rulers in Germany and a continuation of the long and wearying contest in Ireland. But all have got through the year with less trouble than any expected at its beginning. Of calamities caused by great natural forces there have been comparatively few; the greatest were the floods and earthquakes in China, which caused the death of at least hundreds of thousands of persons and reduced ten times as many to extreme poverty and suffering. In Japan occurred a most atomishing phenomenon. A lake on a mountain troke through into a volcano, the whole upper half of the mountain was blown into the air by the steam thus created, and in its fail buried a number of small villages. in its fair by the steam thus created, and in its fair buried a number of small villages and several hundred persons. In the United States there were terrible snow storms early in the year, causing great loss of life; and in the guilf states the yellow fever caused some loss of life late in the season. But to king the year as a whole there has been unusual expension, there has been unusual expension, there has been unusual expensions. emption, there has been no blight upon the grain, no murrain upon the cattle; no general pestilence has anywhere fallen upon mankind, and the civilized nations have had no wars. ## A YEAR'S RECORD.

The year i888 has been comparatively uneventful, and yet an era of continuous progress and almost unbroken prosperity throughout the world. True, there have been local troubles here and there—an international dispute in Samoa, an imbroglio in Hayti, quarrels in eastern Europe and small wars in Asia, raids by American Indians and insurrections among West India negroes.
True, also, there have been more important disputes in more highly organized societies;
