

Prom our Regular Correspondent. Washington, Feb. 25, 1889
Senator Daniel, in a speech opposing the meddling Southern election investigation resolution offered by Senator Hoar, which the Republicans have determined in caucus to pass, told the Republicans some truths which they will do well to heed. He reminded them do well to heed. He reminded them that State rights, which they want to violate, had elected Benjamin Harrison President and recalled the Republican party to power, while a majority of 94,601 voters had cast their suffrages in favor of Grover Cleveland. The Republican party owed a debt to State rights for its incoming President, and the country owed a debt to State rights for the domestic tranquility which hailed his coming.

The Virginia Senator then alluded to the charges of bribery in New York during the recent election; to the purchase of voters in Indiana "in blocks of five", and to the colonization of aliens in West Va., as well as to the counter-charges made by the Republi-cans. He asked what a pandemonium, what a terrible suspense, what a paralysis of business would have followed had not State rights exercised their conservative and healing sway. Gen. Harrison's title of President, which has been sealed and given to him, was not given to him by a nation, or by a majority of its people, but by sovereign States, which had commissioned him as their Chief Magistrate. State rights held the ladder for Benjamin Harrison to ascend the Presidential chair, had given the Senators their prerogatives, and had lifted the Republican party out of the Slough of Despond and brought it within sight of the goal of its desires.

The Senator referred to the old axiom about praising the bridge that carried one safely across the stream. And now that the State rights has carried the Republican party safely over the turbulent stream of conflict, it was meet that that party confess that after all it was a pretty good bridg. That Republican would be an ingrate who would turn back and destroy what had done him and his party so much good. It would be indeed astounding if New England Senators would unite to break it down.

In conclusion Mr. Daniels said: "I was amaz d when I read Mr. Hoar's resolution, gravely requiring the Senat-to enter into an inquiry of the election of members of the House of Representatives. If anything mor- unspirit of the American constitution could have been suggested, I am at a less to conjecture what that thing is." Senator Blackburn, or Joe Blackburn, as his friends here call him, hagiven Billy Chandler a scare from which he may not recover for quit-awhire, and but for the interferance of Billy Chandler a scare from ate and was caused by a report which Chardler had made reflecting on Secretary Vilas and ex-Indian commissioned Atkins. The Kentucky Senator questioned the facts stated in the report and asked where Chandler got his information. Chandler became indig nant and said he did not propose to be buldosed by an ex-slave-driver This enraged Blackburn who reached across the desk catching Chandler by the ear and raising him up in the air as though he intended giving him a spanking with the other hand. At this stage Mr. Faulkner got his arm around Blackburn and Chandler was released from his perilous position.

Very appropriately on Washing on's birthday, the President signed the bi'l admitting the States of North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington into the Union. Representatives Cox and Springer have received many letters and telegrams thanking them for their persistant efforts in behalf of the bill.

Four New States.

President Cleveland, Friday of last week, February 22, signed the bill for the admission of four new States into the Union. Our flag will now bear forty-two stars.

The four new states will be represented in Congress, probably by next De-cember, by eight senators and five congressman. South Dakota the largest of the new states in population, will be entitled to two congressman the others to only one. Each state will have, of course, two senators. At the last election in November, when the heaviest vote ever cast in the territories was polled, the total vote for

The two first were Republicans at the last election, and the latter Democratic.

Happy Meeting of Two Friends.

John M. Allen of Charlotte, N. Y., said to his friend, "Parsons, I am about dead with the Gravel, and cannot find help." Mr. Parsons induced Mr. Atlen to give Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., a trial. Weeks went by and the friends met. country meets my hearty approval, and I hope our friends everywhere will adopt it and proceed at once to form their local organizations. I am satisfied that effective co-operation in the importance of Description in the importance of the control of the dissemination of Democratic principles can be more certainly and speedily secured in this way than in any other that has been suggested, and it will afford me pleasure to render you all the assistance in my power in the prosecution of your work.

Yours truly, J. G. CABLISLE. The GAZETTE, editorially commentng on Mr. Carlisle's letter, says: We publish in another column a very important letter from Mr. Speaker Carlisle. It consists of only two sen tences; but those sent-noes are as full of weight and meaning to the Demo-cratic party of this day as any two that were ever penned.

Mr. Carlisle has carefully examined, and studiously weighed, every plan of party organization, and every scheme of tarff agitation and discussion, which has been presented since No-vember 6th. He had before him, when he wrote, and for a long timprevious, all the publications of the Democratic Society of P nosylvania, all those of the National A sociation of Demouratic Clubs, and all those of the earious non partisan tariff reform leagues. It need hardly be said that Mr. Carlis'e, b-ing next to the President, the official head of the Demoeratic party, and being, besides, an intellectual leader of such a character Senator Faulkner he might have got intellectual leader of such a character a severe thrashing. The trouble took that his authority is little, if at all, enhanced by the possession of office, or diminished by the loss of it, has felt the grave responsibility of his position, and has not spoken without anxious and ample deliberation. This letter is brief because it was intended to be printed and emphatic. He unequivo cally endorses the Pennsylvania plan of Democratic societies as against all others, and urgently advises the Democracy everywhere to proceed im mediately with their local organizations. He is clear and decided that in no other way can Democratic principle be so readily taught and so surely viu dicted, and he pledges, without reserve his great influence and his persons evertions in the good cause. Like President Cleveland, he believes that the Democratic societies "are the most efficient agencies ever devised" for the purpose in view, and, like Mr. Jeff-rson himself, he regards them as the "very nurseries" of sound Democracy. No sign of these times casts a brightr promise across the heavens of the uture than this simultaneous recurrence of Democratic people and Democratics are smen to the simple device of Me efferson and our Republican fore fathers, calling the people together in primary Democratic societies to discuss their interests and defend their rights against the aggressions of paternal government in combination with po-litical rings and private monopolies. Around the "Democratic society" cluser the memories of the most glorious achievements of our ancesters—the election of Jefferson, and the long period of peace and prosperity which ensued—and and again it becomes, in the estimation of our wisest and puremediate future. We trust that in Pennsylvania at east the resolution of the Democratic State Committee, unanimously passed, advising and enjoining the people everywhere to enroll themselves in rimary Democratic societies, thus orming a vast fraternal union of the Democracy, from the Lake to the Maryland line and from the Delaware to the Ohio, will be promptly and generally obeyed. Let every Demoerat and every tariff reformer read Mr. Carlisle's pregnant letter, and give due force to each ore of its deliberate and

est leaders, the one great hope of the

Charlie Leeser lives cosily with his family in one side of his own double house on Front street just below the Reading railroad bridge in this city. On Sunday a few minutes before noon he and a friend who was with him left Dakots are likely to figure as sure Re publican states in the future. The territorial legislatures of all the New states are now Republican and the new United States senators to represent them are all more than likely to be Republicans.

The territory of Dakota is to be divided on the line of the seventh standard parallel produced due West to the Western boundary of the territory. The delegates elected to the Constitutional Convention North of this parallel will assemble at Bismark in their house to come up street. They entered the parlor before leaving and both stepped in front of the looking glass that is suspended from the wall over a table, to arrange their cravats and to see that they were in proper Sunday attire. The glass is framed in black and gilt and is about two feet wide by four high; it is suspended from the wall near the front door, which enters the parlor from the street.

It stands unequalled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general

Home Evidence

No other preparation has won success at home equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. In Lowell, Mass., where it is made, it is now, as it has been for years, the leading medicine for purifying the blood, and toning and strengthening the system. This "good name at home" is "a lower of strength abroad."

It would require a volume to print all Lowell people have said in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mr. Albert Lowell Estes, living at 28 East Pine Street, Lowell, for 15 years employed as boss carpenter by J. W. Bennett, president of the Eric Telephone Company, had a large running sore come on his leg, which troubled him a year, when he began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The sore soon grew less in size, and in a short time disappeared. Jos. Dunphy, 214 Central Street, Lowell, had swellings and lumps swellings and lumps on his face and neck, Hood's which Hood's Sarsapa-rilla completely cured.

Mrs. C. W. Marriott, wife of the First Assistant Fire Engineer of Lowell, says that for 16 years she was troubled with stomach relieved. The attacks came on every fort-night, when she was obliged to take her bed, and was unable to endure any noise. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after a time the attacks ceased entirely.

Many more might be given had we room.
