He is lost in the blizzard." There is no doubt that the terror which seizes the bewildered traveler is similar to that which overcomes one when he learns that he is suffering from an advanced Kidney Disease, and is informed that he is in the last stages of Bright's disease. At first he is informed that he has a slight kidney affection. Late he begins to feel tired.
Slight headache. Fickle appetite.
Failure of the eye-sight. Cramp in the calf of the legs. Wakefulness.
Distressing nervousness. Rheumatic John Br and neuralgic pains. Occasionally pains in the back. Scanty, cark color-ed-fluids, with scalding sensation. Gradual failure of strength.

Any of the above symptoms signify Kidney Affection, but he is told that he is all right. His physician treats him for symptoms and calls it a di-sease, when in reality it is but a symptom of Kidney trouble. He may be treated for Rheumatic or Neuralgic pains, heart affection, or any other disease which he is most susceptible to. Finally the patient has puffing under the eyes, slight bloating of the aukles legs. His physician may inform him that it is but the accumulation of blood in his ankles for want of proper

Depend upon it, the man who will have most of the esteem of his fellow creatures and of the favor of heaven will be he who keeps unchanged all through life the mantle of heavenly devotion with which his mother clothed him. He who makes the retigion of his youth the habit of his life—his garment and way of acting all through —will come to honor and will enjoy the proud blessing of consistency. Booth "Barn-Storming."

A story is told of Edwin Booth's experience that is good enough to be true. Oace during the days of his early struggles Booth was "barnstorming" down in Virginia, at a place called Le's Landing. The improvised theatre was a tobacco warehouse, and it was crowded by the planters from mies sround. Booth and his companions had arranged to take the weekly steamer expected to call late at night, and between the acts were busy packing up. The play was "The Mer chant of Venice," and they were just going on for the trial scene when they heard a whistle and the manager came running in to say that the steamer had arrived and would leave again in ten minutes. As that was their only chance for a week of getting away, they were in a terrible quandary. The narrative proceeds:

"If we explain matters," said the manager, "they will think they are being cheated, and we shall have a free fight. The only thing is for you fe lows to get up some sort of a naturallike impromptu ending of the piece and ring down the cartain. Go ahead, ladies and gentlemen, and take your cue from Ned here," and he hurried away to get the luggage aboard. Ned, of course, was Bassanio, and he was resolved to rely on the ignorance of the Virginnians of those days to pull him through all right. So, when old George Ruggles, who was doing Shylock, began to sharpen his swell sessoned and none but skilled workmen knife on his boot, Booth walked straight are employed. up to bim and said: "You are bound to have your pound of flesh, are you?"

"You bet your life!" said Ruggles.
"Now, I'll make you one more offer," ontinued Booth. "In addition to continued Booth. this big bag of ducats I'll throw in two kegs of nigger-head terback, a shotgan and two of the best coon dogs in the State." "I'm blarmed if I don't do it!" responded Shylock much to the approbation of the audience, who were tobacco-raisers and coon-hunters to a man "And to show that there's no ill eeling," put in Portia, "we'll wind up with a Virginny reel."

When they got on board the steam er the captain, who had witnessed the onclusion of the play, remarked: "I'd like to see the whole of sometime, gentlemen. I'm blamed if I thought that fellow Shakespeare had so much snap in him.

Punishment in Turkey.

HOW THE BASTINADO IS ADMINISTERED TO THE SULTAN'S SUBJECTS.

I witnessed this punishment in tront of the Pasha's palace at Damascus
The culprit was lying foll length on the ground, with a brawny Turkish soldier sitting cross-legged on his chest, like a night mare, by way of making him comfortable, while two men held up the soles of his feet in the air and two others belabored them with long sticks, as if beating a carpet. The but the two who were thrashing him screamed and howled like demons, peraps to save him the trouble of doing

The moment the punishment was over up jumped the two other men and flogged the floggers themselves, doubtless for not hitting hard enough, and then a fat Turkish major, who had been watching the whole business with a smile of quiet, heartfelt enjoyment, waddled-placidity up and boxed their ears all round, as if he were giving them his biessing, after which the con gregation dispersed.

Hospital Remedies.

What are they? The growth of intelli-gence in medical matters has given rise to a demand for a class of genuine, reliable medicines. The opportunity of the ignor-ant quack, who grew rich curing everything out of a single bottle has passed. To supply satisfactorily this demand this list of reme-dies has been created. They are the favor-ite prescriptions of the most famous medi-cal practioners of the day, gathered from the hospitals of London, Paris Berlin and Vienna. Prescriptions which cost the the hospitals of London, Paris Berlin and Vienna. Prescriptions which cost the patients of these specialists from $25 to $100, are here offered, prepared and ready for use, at the nominal price of One Dollar Each. Not one of them is a cure all; each one has only the reasonable power of curing a single disease and each one keeps its contract. Sufferers from Catarrh, Diseased Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, Rheumatism, Dysprepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Fever and Ague, Neuralgia, Female Weskness, Leucorrhos, or Nervous Debility, should send stamp for descriptive castalogue to Hospital Remedy Co., No. 3 Si West King St., Toronto, Canada. TATE SPRINGS, TENN., July 4, 1887.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:
Gentlemen—Seven years ago I contracted an exceedingly bad case of blood poison. I tried a physician, the best at command, but secured no benefit. My throat began to get sore, and my body covered with sores and ulcers. Going from bad to worse, I felt that my grave must be reached in the asar future. I gave up the doctors' treatment, and with a despairing hope I commenced taking your medicine. I began to improve from the first bottle, and in a short time the ulcers healed, and my skin cleared off and was entirely well.

One year ago a case of catarrh developed in my system. The physician did his best, but could not cure me; but two bottles of Swift's Specific gave me permanent relief.
