BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1889.

The legislature at Harrisburg on Tuesday attempted to pass a bill prohibiting the sale of liquor on Decoration day. The vote was 102 yeas and 73 nays, lacking one of a constitutional majority.

The House on Tuesday night by a vote of 116 to 73 passed finally the bill increasing the salaries of the Judges of the courts of the commonwealth. The bill is now ready for the signature of the Governor. The salaries will be in-creased from $4000 to $5000 per year; except in cities of the first class where it will be increased to $6000. The bill was a republican measure and nearly all republicans voted for it. Representatives Fox and Krickbaum yoted against the bill. a republican, said that the passage of the Judges' bill was the most infamous piece of legislation ever enacted by the Pennsylvania legislature, and that if he were a democrat he would want nothing better nor stronger to secure the defeat of the republican party this fall.

The House at its session Tuesday afternoon passed finally the following bills which originated in the Senate: Authorizing county commissioners to employ detective officers and pay re wards for the detection, arrest and conviction of felons; to regulate the em-ployment of women and children in nercantile industries and manufacturing establishments, and to provide for the appointment of inspectors to en-force the same; providing that after publication of description of names or marks impressed upon bottles intended for the sale of beverages or other articles of merchandise the same may be registered in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth, and de-claring what shall be conclusive evi-dence of such publication and registra tion: to provide for the recovery of the bodies of workmen enclosed, buried or entombed in coal mines; providing that any surface owner of land or coa shall have the right to inspect mine maps; to authorize the election of assessors in the several boroughs and townships of this commonwealth for

James R. Young, the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Evening Star, has the following strong sentences regarding the effects of intemperance. Years of residence in Washington have given him unusual opportunities to observe the facts on which his statements are based:

"In the almost a quarter of a century I have been out in the world plodding my way I have seen many splendid fellows, some of them near and dear friends, fall by the wayside, van ish from existence, the victims of the cursed habit of drink. I have seen rich men become poor; men of fine intellect become inmates of the insane asylum; refined and accomplished mer reduced to wearing tags, taken to the police court and sent to the workhouse—all arising from the liquor ha-I have seen liquor turn men genial and sunny temperaments into being brates, blackguards of the worst order. I have seen refined and sensa tive women, driven by the last extre mity of poverty brought on them by the liquor labit of their husbands, compelled to go out into the world to ask from their friends aid for themselves and children. I could write page after page of personal experience on the subject."

NEGLIGENCE SOMEWHERE

SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS ROAD DAMAGES GO BY DEFAULT.

On Monday morning Judge Ikeler read an opinion in court in the matter of the road in Benton township near J. J Karns. On February 10, 1888 a petition was filed asking for the appointment of viewers of a road to begin in a public road in Benton and to end at the Fair Ground gates. Viewers were appointed and all the proceedings went on regularly and the viewers awarded Dr. Colley $210, and the heirs of R. L. F. Colley $400. Ezra Stephens, one of the commissioners was present at the view. Sept 24, 1888 the report was confirmed. December 29, an order to open was issued, and the supervisors opened the road to public use, whereupon the Colleys demanded their money, and then it was that the county commissioners awoke to the situation, and consulted their attorney, who obtained a rule to show cause why the confirmation should not be stricken off and all proceedings set aside. It was in this matter that the opinion was filed. The court says:
"Upon careful examination of the

Among the few appointments that Haarison has found time to make since his return from the New York celebration was that of his brother, Carter B. Pretty serious crime one would think and deserving of severe punishment. What does the Court Martial say? That Major Lydcoker shall be fined $100, per month for nine months and be reprimanded in general orders. Could anything be more ludicrous. An officer by neglect and carelessness sacrifices $1,000,000 and denrices a cuty of a much needed in deprives a city of a much needed increase of water supply, and is fined $900 therefor. To prevent excessive and unreasonable damages being thus obtained and recovered from the County, His Honor Judge Elwell, made the cautionary and judicious order, that in all cases of road views at least one of the County Treasury bill, which was intended to prevent the miners from being robbed by unfair dockage, and several other measures the passage of which would have materially benefitted the interest of labor. Sarsaparilla.

This medicine is an Alterative, and causes a radical change in the system. The process, in some cases, may not be quite so rapid as in others; but, with persistence, the result is certain. Read these testimonials:—

"For two years I suffered from a severe pain in my right side, and had other troubles caused by a torpid liver and dyspepsia. After giving several medicines a fair trial without a cure, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was greatly benefited by the first bottle, and after taking five bottles I was completely cured."—John W. Benson, 70 Lawrence st., Lowell, Mass.

Last May a large carbuncle broke out on my arm. The issual remedies had no effect and I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Less than three bottles healed the sore. In all my experience with medicine, I never saw more

Wonderful Results.

Wonderful Results.

Another marked effect of the use of this medicine was the strengthening of my sight."—Mrs. Carrie Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

"I had a dry scaly humor for years, and suffered terribly; and, as my brother and sister were similarly afflicted, I presume the maiady is hereditary. Last winter, Dr. Tyron, (of Fernandina, Fla.,) recommended me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilia, and continue it for a year. For five months I took it daily. I have not had a blemish upon my body for the last three months."—T. E. Wiley, 146 Chambers st., New York City.

"Last fail and winter I was troubled with a dull, heavy pain in my side. I did not notice it much at first, but it gradually grew worse until it became almost unbearable. During the latter part of this time, disorders of the stomach and liver increased my troubles. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after faithfully continuing the use of this medicine for some months, the pain disappeared and I was completely cured."—Mrs. Augusta A. Furbush, Haverhill, Mass.
