Enormous Fortunes

Notwithstanding the enormous for-tunes accumulated through the use of printer's ink, large sums of money are annually wasted in ineffectual and upremunerative advertising.

The merits of a really valuable com modity properly portrayed in the col-umns of an influential and widely read gaged. newspaper, like the COLUMBIAN will didly become generally known and preciated, while the returns reaped the advertiser will be like those of wise husbandman who "planted

Thus it is with a really meritorious commodity or preparation ; if its virtues be properly and truthfully set forth in the public press, its success is prompt and certain. On the other hand, the public is quick and unerring to detect deception and charlatanry ; and, accordingly, no amount of "puffery" will force a vile nostrum into public esteem and patron Untold sums have been sunk in vain efforts to advertise into popularty so-called medical preparations which did not possess the virtues or properties claimed for them. Valuable medicines, however, like Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, carry their own best commendation in their power to cure the particular diseases for which they are a specific. They require no labored panegyric to convince the people of their power and efficacy, for they have been tried and found perfect. Nature's remedies, by their own in trinsic verits have conferred a lasting boon upon mankind, and they have se cured an enviable reputation and un limited sale throughout the civilized world.

Is it to be found in the neighborhood of the saloon, or does it exist more prominently in places where there is prohibition? It may be the influence of christianity that does this but it is not the kind of christianity that the man has who claims the liquor traffic is right and tries to substantiate his doctrine by the Holy Bible.
