

The Columbian. BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1889.

NEXT TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

On Tuesday next the people of this state will vote upon the proposed amendment to the constitution...

No other paper in the county has devoted nearly as much space to the discussion of this question as has been given by the COLUMBIAN.

The question has been asked, "Why don't you come out squarely for Prohibition?"

The proposition to submit a prohibitory amendment to a vote was born in a republican state convention...

But even though we had felt that it was a public duty to take a decided stand on the question...

REPLY TO 'A FARMER.' EDITORS COLUMBIAN, DEAR SIR: 'A Farmer' in last week's issue of your paper occupies nearly two columns of Biblical sophistry...

On the one hand it is asserted that the evils of intemperance can be best remedied by prohibition.

On the other hand it is urged that prohibition will not prohibit, and that it has proven a failure wherever it has been tried.

These are the arguments as presented by both sides. Every intelligent man is able to determine for himself for which side he will vote.

Again, will you please inform the people whether in the Old and New Testament times licenses for the liquor traffic were high or low...

Perhaps your caricature of the preacher is ill timed and may do more harm than good.

One thing should be borne in mind, namely, that if the amendment be adopted, it will stand for five years and cannot be changed...

WASHINGTON LETTER. From our Regular Correspondent. Washington, June 10, 1889. Harrison will give anti-Mahone Virginia republicans a hearing to-morrow.

Verily the ways of providence are inscrutable. The fight between Blaine and Harrison has been indefinitely postponed on account of the news received from Hayti.

Disappointment at not receiving an office is having a bad effect on James Jackson, of Alabama, who was a candidate for the District Attorneyship given to Parsons the engineer of the "white man's party" fiasco.

Among the appointments by Harrison last week were a democrat and a negro. The negro was made receiver of public moneys at Huntsville, Alabama, and the democrat marshal of the western district of Louisiana.

Cranks seem to have the advantage of ordinary people in the matter of "hook." For instance, look at the case of Capt. G. A. Ames, U. S.
