We expected to have seen a new mail carrier on this route last Monday morning, but it appears that the contractor could not find a man in all this region who was fool enough to carry the mail 18 miles, six times a week for $20 a month; so Frank Eves continues at a better figure than last year. Surely the contractor will not make much on this job, as his contract was for $284.—Millville Tablet.

Miss Annas Howel died at the residence of her father, John Howel, corner of East and Fourth street, on Monday after suffering for weeks with that dread disease consumption. The matter of the division of Greenwood township into two election districts was to have been submitted to Judge Albright on May 9, but when that day came, the complainants were not ready, as they desired to take some depositions. June 21 was fixed for taking testimony, but the complainants did not appear. On June 24 an application was made by counsel for the petitioners to the court to order the papers to be forthwith to Judge Albright, but Judge Hester declined to make any order, as he had been concerned as counsel for the complainants, and was therefore disqualified to sit in the matter. An adjourned court has been fixed for August when another effort will be made to have the case disposed of.

THE COLUMBIAN enters complaint that Bloomsburg is not doing its duty as a newspaper as frequently as the size of the town deserves. Bloomsburg should do something if she wants to be noticed.—Shickley's Ez.

Brother Tubbs is mistaken. Our complaint is that notwithstanding the progress that Bloomsburg is making, and the numerous industrial movements that have been inaugurated here, that no one seems to take interest enough in the matter to inform the city papers what we are doing. As to "doing something," there is not a town in the State of the size that has made the progress during the past few years that Bloomsburg has. By the way, Mr. Eble, we never see Shickley's mentioned in the city papers. Why don't you "do something"?

A game of baseball will be played Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at athletic Park between the Anthracites of Wilkes-Barre and the Bloomsburg club. This game is expected to decide the championship between Luzerne and Columbia counties.

Vacant Mail Routes.

The sharks who make a business of bidding in mail routes have gotten left this time in this section. The route from Shickley to Finsinger could not be submitted and Postmaster Campbell was obliged to hire the mail carrier. The route from Harveyville to Fairmount Springs was "vacant" also and an extra was put on. The additional amount paid these carriers will be collected from the parties who bid off the route.—Eble.

No Roasting Until After August 1st.

The damage to the Pennsylvania canal between Sunbury and Harrisburg can be accurately estimated. At some places the canal is washed out ten to fifteen feet below the bed. At other points the water fills the mountain side and runs into the water way, filling it with rocks and earth. It will require the constant work of a large force of men until August 1st to get this section open for traffic. Mr. J. H. Campbell, weighmaster at Bechtelaven, has a large number of men at work at Clark's ferry mending a bad break and removing debris.

A Bull-Frog in His Stomach.

A Tioga county paper is responsible for the following: George Moore, who lives at Greenwood, a lumbering camp near Roaring Branch, ejected a bull-frog from his stomach a few days ago. It appears that Mr. Moore had been eating for several months a frog which caused him to vomit and expel from his stomach a bull-frog. Since that time Mr. Moore has been feeling as well as ever. It is supposed that he swallowed the frog while drinking at a spring some time ago, and the reptile has been growing in his stomach since.

An old curiosity shop filled with rare and quaint articles. The management would be grateful for any contributions to their collection which will have careful attention and be promptly returned at the close of the entertainment. Good music will be furnished by the Band and Orchestra.

Need a Piano for a Bank.

James Williams, a colored man of Jersey Shore, lost his piano in the flood. After the waters had subsided Williams made a search for his musical instrument and found it in the middle of a plowed field about half a mile west of the Pine Creek Railroad crossing over the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad. The piano stood in a corner at the corner of the field. Williams went to the piano and abstracted a cool $1,700 from its inner recesses. He had upon the piano as a bank and his joy upon finding his money intact can be imagined. The piano still stands in the field, a worthless instrument.—Sun and Banner.

A Hebrew Anniversary in 1890.

All Hebrew organizations throughout the country have formed an association for the purpose of worthily commemorating the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America in 1892, which is also the anniversary of the expulsion of the Hebrews from Spain. Circulars to this effect have been sent to every town and city where there is a Hebrew congregation or society. A memorial is to be erected, and it may take the form of a monument or college. During the centennial year the Hebrews erect a monument in honor of Columbus, Philadelphia, which was designed and executed by the celebrated sculptor Ezekiel, of Cincinnati, representing the Goddess of Liberty holding a cap from which flames of a life-giving fire issue. The Hebrews are lovers of freedom and have always been anxious to show to the world their tolerance towards them.

MR. SNYDER'S REPLY.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN:—The following is a copy of a reply to the Sentinel, to "Number One."

Mr. Krickbaum, you insist on my replying to an unfeeling article in last week's Sentinel. I don't solicit a newspaper altercation with you; however if you insist on one, your desire can be gratified, provided you publish all which will be suitable for only a paper of low standing like the "Sentinel."

You are trying to
