There were three hundred trained so I experienced clerks employed in the railway mail service between New York and Chicago when Mr. Wanamaker the office !"

took possession of the Cabinet office he had bought.

The duties performed by these men are of a kind for which experience alone can fit men, and they have no more relation to politics than to the moons of Mare. Incapacity and inexperience on the part of the railway mail cierks dist urb and delay the business of the country and subject the public to inconvert ence and serious loss.

Of the three hundred experienced and capable men employed Mr. Wanamaker had removed 296, appointing new and inexperienced men in their places.

If the railway mail service was a private or corporate enterprise, depend-ing upon the efficiency of its work for public pathonage, a new manager who should disorganize the business in this reckless fashion would be justly characterized as a fool. Precisely what term—at once accurately descriptive and duly respectful—would it be proper to soply to Mr. Wanamaker for doing the thing!- World.

The Disappointments in Politics.

Politics disappoint simply because we elect too much availability and too lit-tle knowledge. If people took more interest in politics, studied the history and science of government more, we should have far different law-making TO CONSUMPTIVES bodies, from the town council to the United States Senate, and better executives, from a ward alderman to presi-dent. The time will come when there will be no more disappointment in pub lie life than any other calling, simply ecause men-the voters-will arrive at that stage of knowledge or learned selfishness when they can see that it does not pay to send indifferent men to high official place. Every station in life has its disappointments. Only five per cent of merchants succeed, and the average prevails in all other callings of life. The mountain top of success is not big enough for the world to dance on. It all depends on the ability of the contestant who gets up the sides. Men who deserve to succeed in official life do so. The failures are not Websters, but are those who want place in orde to make a living. Taking, then, politics as a portion of the world's affairs, and the most important, it can be said that public life, in its highest seese, is Centlemen—Seven years ago I contracted an exceedingly bad ease of blood poison. I tried a physician, the best at command, but secured no benefit. My throat began to get sore, and my body covered with sores and ulcers. Going from bad to worse, I felt that my grave must be reached in the near future. I gave up the doctors' treatment, and with a despating hope I commenced taking your medicine. I began to improve from the first bottle, and in a short time the ulcers healed, and my skin cleared off and was entirely well.

One year ago a case of catarrh developed in my system. The physician did his best, but could not cure me; but two bottles of Swift's Specific gave me permanent relief.

Hospital Remedies.

What are they? The growth of intelligence in medical matters has given rise to a demand for a class of genuine, reliable medicines. The opportunity of the ignorant quack, who grew rich curing everything out of a single bottle has passed. To supply satisfactorily this demand this list of remedies has been created. They are the favorite prescriptions of the most famous medical practioners of the day, gathered from the hospitals of London, Paris Berlin and Vienna. Prescriptions which cost the patients of these specialists from $25 to $.00, are here offered, prepared and ready for use, at the nominal price of Ose Dellar Esch. Not one of them is a cure all; each one has only the reasonable power of curing a single disease and each one keeps its contract.
