Another Fraud. NOW BEING WORKED UPON UNSUSPECTIN FARMERS.

Rascals continue to scheme to defrauc the farmers. The latest is the apple tree swindle which is thus described: The agent calls on the farmer to sell him apple papers hasn't the sense of an oyster, and trees. He does not ask any pay for them, but simply asks the farmer to plant them on shares. The agent of his company furnishes the trees, the farmer plants them for a farm. He calls at the house and tells the farmer that his farm is just what he wants. He has cash to pay down and he offers him all or more than the farm is worth. They make a deal, but, of course, before he pays any money down, he wants to go and examine the registerr's office, to which place he and the farmer proceed. They find the bonds registered against the place for $500, and the farmer, rather than niss so good a sale, pays the $500 in order to get a clear title, be then looks around

LONDON, ENGLAND, July 25, '89. Editors COLUMBIAN:-You have already carned of the safe and pleasant passage which we had from Boston to Liverpool in the Cunard Steamer "Pavonia." The voyage was an unusually long one, eleven days, mainly because the Captain, on the ground of safety, went far south of the regular course, to avoid the icebergs, which in mid-summer are to be dreaded. Fortunately they will have melted away and gone into the Gulf of St. Lawrence before the time of our anticipated return Scon after reaching Liverpool I called on Mrs. Lott, and thus my first impressions were pleasantly associated with Blooms burg friends and parishioners. Liverpool, as you know, is an active, busy city. It reminded me in some respects of Boston Mass, and in others, of Chicago. From Liverpool we went to Chester, and had an interesting to walk on these old walls, whose foundations were laid by the Romans, and to see the quaint buildings and ancient landmarks. After thoroughly doing the town, we went to the old Cathedral, having deferred our visit there until the hour for daily service. And thus in this ancient Cathe dral, with feelings which may be imagined but not described, we joined for the first time after our voyage in the words of our blessed Liturgy. On both Sundays that called, ordained and installed to the paswe were at sea, the appointed service of the Church of England Prayer-Book had consists of four prosperous congregationsbeen read in the Saloon of the Steamer, but this day at Chester gave us the first opportunity of service in a Church. Deiffenbacher located at Bloomsburg and took charge of the interests of the scatter. ed flocks of this and adjoining counties. Being then a new and sparsely settled county the range of his labors extended ver a large area of territory, though be net with marked success. He resided in Bloomsburg until the year 1822 and continued to preach until 1824. As a result of his labors said territory developed later on into several well established and self suporting charges. In the year 1829 Rev. Daniel S. Tobias was ordained and installed pastor of the (then) Bloomsburg charge and served it until 1851. During his pas torate it was found necessary to institute a gradual transition from the German to the English language. To this end Rev. Henry Funk was called and on the 8th of December, 1844, he was ordained and installed at Orangeville as an assistant English pastor to Rev. Tobias, who, with his predecessor presched in German. About two weeks ago, during the heavy rains, the Pennsylvania Company canal broke about three miles above Shickshinny making a gap of about seventy-five feet wide along the bank. A force of about 800 men was put to work and on Saturday the water was let in. It had been running but a few hours when the canal broke at the same place, making a breach of about forty feet. Before the water was turned n Superintendent Owen predicted that the break would occur, because the workmanship was not substantial, and his predictions were soon verified. The loss is about $4,000. The large force of men was again put to work to repair it.

And Still Another Fraud.

Another fraud needs exposing, and is ound where you would least expect it-in cemetery. THE HAY FEVER SEASON

July, August, September. Fally, August, September.

"At this season, when life offers the greatest attractions and the most deligniful resources to persons whose soundness of body permits out-of-door exercise and amusements, multitudes are debarred from the joys of the summer by hay fever, one of the most exasperating, wearlsome, and depressing ills to which humanity is subject—obscure, inexplicable, descending on a given date like an invisible blow of fate. The sufferers from hay fever have looked in vain for any trustworthy remedy. Many of them, however, have looked in vain because they have been ignorant of Eiys Cream Balm, an admirable remedy for hay fever in all its forms. Agreeable in the use, entirely devoid of any unpleasant after-effects, this Cream Halm quickly allays inflammation and sources that relie for which the sufferer has longed in vain."—From The Christian Union, New York City, July 18, 1899.
