DEMOGRATIC STATE TICKET. STATE TREASURER, EDMUND A. BIGLER.

Clearfield. The election will be held on the 5th November, 1889.

From the Union of Oct. 26, 1889 .

"The United Labor League, some time ago, sent a communication to Henry K. Boyer, late Speaker of the State House of Representatives and the Republican candidate for State Treasurer, asking him to give his reasons for voting against the Ballot Reform bill introduced at the last session of the Legislature. To this request, Mr. Boyer has made no reply, and the League, at its last meeting, adopted a series of resolutions, asking organized labor to manifest its displeasure at Mr.

The Ballot Reform bill was one of the most important measures before the last session of the Legislature, and its defeat was a public calamity. Mr. Boyer is the first of the opponents of this measure that the lovers of honest elections have had a chance to express their opinion of, and it would be a warning which the political bosses would not dare to pass unheeded if Mr. Boyer were allowed to continue the practice of law unhampered by the care of the finances of the State.'

Only one Week More

The masses of the people don't seem to be bothering themselves about the election this year, but the politicians o all sides are awake to the fact the general election is now only one week dis-

There is practically no contest in this city for anything. The Republican city ticket is clean out of the woods, and it is only a question of majority with the candidates. Both sides champion Judge Pennypacker; all of one side and a liberal proportion of the other believe that District Attorney Graham should be again elected, and General Latta and Coroner Ashbridge are serenely floating into port on a smooth and ample party tide. Speak-er Boyer is personally popular and his friends feel assured of a big majority in the city to protect him against any possible political whirl or party supineness in the State.

And what of the State? Well, that's just what Field Marshals Andrews and Kisner have been trying to find out and can't, and Boyer and Bigler have tried it too and hit it just where their Field Marshals missed it. Of course the Republicans are confident simply because they have 80,000 majority to protect them against the returning ebb of an awfully off year; but they want to keep up a big majority to start off next years battle with a whoop, and then they don't know but that prohibition, liquor, labor, or some other unseen and uncountable factor, or all combind, may happen to knock them out just at the home wire. Of course, speakership fight, by announcing his they know that it isn't probable; but when it can't be safely estimated wether six, seven or eight hundred thousand. This action is surprising, in view of the of the million votes of the State will be at the polls, and with new elements of unknown power within range of the conflict, speculation as to the result is

One week more will soon pass away and definite guessing as to majorities, which are so involved in doubt, might as well be set aside to let the election figures tell the story - Times Oct. 28.

What will Raum Do?

It is obvious that General Raum enters the delicate and responsible position of Pension Commissioner under the shadow of popular distrust; but he is confessedly able and sagacious and he may command public con-fidence by a bold departure in favor of honest pensions and an honest Pension Department at the start.

What will Raum do? He has a rare opportunity to put the pension system on an honest plane at once by the prompt dismissal of the twenty five or thirty subordinates in his office who joined the Tanner raid on the Treasury by re-rating themselves. It was most flagrant abuse of law and preoedent. and if they shall be permitted to retain their lawless pensions, or if they shall be continued in office, the public will well understand that honest ensions are without friends in the the democratic party, and I see no new organization of the Pension Office. Not only should the self-re-rated clerks, etc., be remanded back to their original rating, but they should be summarily dismissed and future payments on pensions withheld until the large arrears filched from the government are repaid. Especially should Commissioner Raum call to prompt account Deputy Commissioner Smith, who rerated himself under the theft and pocketed $6,035 of arrears. It was simply a plain theft under the faintest color of law, and it is a disgrace upon our pension system that must be speedily and entirely effaced What will Raum do? He knows his duty: will he perform it?-Times.

Mixed-Up Marriages-Henry Miller, a shoemaker who died recently in this city, had a remarkable matrimonial career. His first wife died in giving birth to a girl baby. He afterwards married his wife's sister, who also died in the course of a year, just after having born to her a girl baby. Miller was an industrious fellow and his father-in-law, a close-fisted dairyman, brought about a marrage between Miller and a third daughter. In three years a girl baby was born and the third wife and sister died. The father-in law had died a year before and the mother, who was a treble mother-in-law to Miller, and he mourned the loss of the dead together. A mutual liking struck up, the result beng that mother-in-law and son-in-law Miller became husband and wife.

Their marriage was a happy one or almost three years. Then Mrs Miller No. 4 gave birth to a girl baby dying within less than ten days. After the little one was born Miller lived but two months. His four daughters, born decided to dispense altogether with under such peculiar circumstances, are the service of the inspectors of foreign two months. His four daughters, born still living. The first three are not vessels at Philadelphia, New Orleans, only stepsisters but are cousins. The and San Francisco, and to have what fourth, the daughter of the mother-in- slight duties they would be called upon law, is not only a cousin and step-sister, but likewise an aunt, while the grandmother was step-mother to her own grandchildren.—New York World. $2,000 a year each.

BALLOT REFORM.

Do the people asks the Philadelphia "Record" of Pennsylvania really want ballot reform? Would they like to have the footing of the election returns ex-press the unbought, unintimidat-ed will of the voters? There will be an excellent opportunity to make a record on November 5th. Edmund A. Higler and the Demo ocratic pariy are for ballot re-form; Mr. Boyer and his party are against it.

TREASURY REFORM. Farmers of Pennsylvania: A rote for Edmund A. Higier for State Treasurer is a vote for treas-ury reform, a step toward equal-zation of taxation, and his election will be a decisive victory in your war against monopoly and ring rule. Go to the polls on No-

Wage-earners of Pennsylva-nia! Von asked Henry K. Hoyer and his Republican legislature last winter to give you these laws The Semi-monthly Pay law; the Dockage Bill; the Company Store Bill; the Australian Ballot Bill; the law to make election day a legal holiday, and a number of other Labor Reform bills. Henry K. Hoyer helped to defeat these bills! Go to the polls on Novem ber 5th and vote against him.

ATTENTION, DEMOCRATS Even our enemies admit that we have an even chance to carry the State. Remember the day, November 5th.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondence)

Washington, Oct. 28, 1889. Secretary Noble seems to be able to get into more trouble than all the rest of the administration together. The idea seems to be getting into people's heads that he is a good deal like the man on the jury who got mad because the other eleven obstinate fellows kep him away from his wife all night Another idea that is making friends mong the working republicans, is to bring about a state of things that will from the Presidential boot. In plain dyspepsia, and Sulphur Bitiers is the words, a movement has started among only medicine that will care him. words, a movement has started among republicans, to drive Noble out of the Cabinet, and from certain things, I am inclined to believe that it will eventually succeed, but not without a desperate fight on the part of the Secretary Here's an extract from a letter received by Mr. Noble from a New York re-publican, who in resigning the office of Special Examiner of the pension office, used language that caused Mr. Noble to refuse to accept the resignation and to remove the writer: "I am free to say, personally you are a puppet, officially a sycophant, and individually a coward and craven. I simply desire to say that I will place my letter and all my relations with you before the President. If he sustains you, as I suppose he will, I shall be only confirmed in the general con-clusion that he has selected you, and some others of your caliber, to misrep resent the men who made it possibl for Benjamin Harrison to insult the nation by putting you in a place which neither your services nor character could justify, and which your whole personality is proof positive that a violence to every sense of decency and propriety, was attended by your selec-with obnoxious features. All of the immense power wielde by the administration is to be brought to bear upon Congress this winter for the purpose of getting rid of the sur plus. One of the first schemes to be pushed is that of Government aid for several lines of steamships which are to run to South and Central American ports, and which, in return a liberal subsidy, are to realize Secretary Blaine's Utopian ideas regarding the commerce of those countries. This idea of Government subsidies to private individuals or corpor ations, has always been antagonized by reason for supposing that the democratic leaders will allow any such measure to pass the House. Swell society circles are all torn up because the new Chinese minister has announced that he will take no part is the winter's entertainments. This is all the more disappointing because the former minister made the old "Stewart castle" a centre for all that numerou class of diplomat-worship Was hington ians. The new minister has his wife with him, and as she is the first high country, he probably fears to turn her oose in Washington society. The last meeting of the cabinet was very long and stormy. The President submitted a rough draft of his first message to Congress, and the members of his official family took turns in jumping on it with both feet. The thing has of course been kept very quiet, but such matters always get out in some way or other. According to Mervous, Billous, or Congestive Forms. the informant of your correspondent, Secretaries Blaine and Windom were Secretaries Blaine and Windom were the principal "kickers." Mr. Windom objected to the financial part of the message as outlined, and Mr. Blaine had decided objections to the stand taken on certain matters within the province of the State department. The arguments were long and somewhat heated, and finally when it was agreed to submit the matter to a vote of the to submit the matter to a vote of the Cabinet, the President was defeated, the only votes he received being those of Attorney General Miller, Postmaster deneral Wanamaker, and Secretary Noble. The President then expressed his willingness to change the disputed matter, and peace reigned once more But for how long. The Secretary of the Treasury has
