Moxico and the United States.

President Diaz, in his message to the American Congress, refers with justifiable pride to the progress which has been made in the Republic in recent years, and commends the approaching three Americas Congress, to which Mexico will send representatives. Our relations with Mexico are, indeed, much pleasanter than they were a few years ago, when the border raids threatened to provoke conflict, and when our sister republic had not become absorbed in works of improvement, and the people had plenty of leisure to brood over the embers of resentment growing out of the Mexican war and think bitter things of Americans. To-day the boundary question is not settled, but it is in a fair way to settlement ; American capital has added several thousand miles of railroad to the old English built Vera Cruz and and City of Mexico Line, and millions of capital have been invested in various industrial enterprises. Mexico, in fact, has awakened to useful activity, and the era of daily revolution seems to be past. The last notable railway project under construction is a line from the Mexican Pacific, which is projected from Topola, on the Pacific, to Front-era, on the Guif of Mexico, into Guatamala, and southward to the Nicaragua Canal. This road will form a long link in the rail connection to be be tween the North and South American continents, so that it will be possible to go in the same car ere long from St. Paul to Valparaiso, Chili, or Rio Janeiro, Brazil. Mexico itself, rapidly developing, ought to be supplied entirely by the United States with the goods needed. There is convenient railway and steamboat communication now. The country is exceedingly rich in natural wealth, which the Spanish appropriation of several centuries merely scratched. Yet trade is restricted. The opportunity of securing reciprocal trade relations was lost by the refusal of the Spanish the refusal of the Senate to ratify the treaty. Recently the Mexican Gov-ernment levied a heavy tax on American cattle in retaliation for the action of our government against the impor-tation of Mexican ores. Tariff wars are very injurious wars, They provoke animosity. They kill the geess which lay the golden eggs. There is a puerility about them which ill becomes dignified and civilized nations. The absurdity of tariff retaliation is seen in the contract of the contract in the fact that the drouth in Northern Mexico has played the mischief with the cattle and the people are compelled to have American cattle and pay the high duty. The whole of Mexico is naturally tributary to this country, commercially speaking. As by the annexation of Texas and the war with Mexico. That was a vast acquisition, embracing Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Nevada, Utah and parts of Colorado and Indian Territory, something over 800,000 equare miles, which cost us only $15,-000,000, beside about $3,500,000 debts due from the Mexican Government to American citizens. This great pur-chase, an empire in itself, from the time of its acquisition, has kept step with the progress of the Union, while old Mexico, from which it was severed is just awakening, under American influence, to an appreciation of the possi-bilities awaiting her.

CATARRH.

Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever. A NEW HOME TREATMENT. A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrin, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. Dixon & Son, 304 West King St. Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should read the above carefully.

The Prince of Wales Has Bright's Disease-

The London correspondent of the New York Times has sent the follow-New York Times has sent the following despatch to his paper: "At the great gathering in Athens this coming fortnight there will be at least one family which will conceal deep sadness under the conventional smiles. I am assured on exceptional authority that the Prince of Wales has been warned by his physicians that he has Bright's disease incurably fastened upon him, and that the extension of his trip to Egypt, which was not originally in-Egypt, which was not originally inended, was at the same time recommended by these advisers as a diversion which might assist to keep his mind from dangerous gloom.

"It is believed that the Princess and the rest of the royal family have been in-formed as to the state of the Prince's health. There seems to be no ground for immediate apprehensions, but my informant says the chances are felt to be against his living through next year. The Queen has been thrown into grave despondency by the tidings, and is living a more secluded lift than ever. "For the moment, however, Victor-is's bodily health is better than that tor some years previous, and there has been no recent recurrence of those strange fits of obstinate passion which periodically seized her after the Prince Consort's death, and which two or three years ago made her intimates seriously despair of her reason. She is devoting more time to state affafrs and to routine work than customary, and gives her evenings now almost entirely to listening to solemn music.

A New West Branch Bonte-

The Pennsylvania Railroad engineers are still at work surveying a route between Williams port and Mont-gomery along the line of the West Branch Canal. It is intimated that this portion of the canal will be abandoned, it having been left in a dilspi dated condit ion by the great flood of

No movements towards putting the waterway in repair has yet been made, and the impression is that the Pennsylvania Company will construct on its site a branch railway leading to Williamsport. This will give them a con-tinuous line on the left bank of the river, thereby avoiding the necessity of crossing the river twice in a distance of sixteen miles. This would be a great advantage and in case of a flood like the recent one, the loss of the bridge would not interrupt communi

The surveyors have gone over the ground carefully, but the railroad officials are reticent. It is understood, however, on the best authority that Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspensia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from hervous exhaustion or prestration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present, allke to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent or overlay decion, several and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pulls and potions, as unning them to be such, when, in resultry, they are all only supploms caused by some womb insorder. The physician, known in resultry, they are all only supploms caused by some womb fisorder. The physician is promitted in the cause of suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, seving treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Fierce's Favorite Prescription directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispulling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

FOR THE APPEARANCE OF THE CENSUS

TAKER, NEXT YEAR

Everybody knows that next year the Government census will be taken. The value of such a work depends on its thoroughness. Unreliable statistics are in one sense worse than none at all for they are misleading. These facts appeal especially to farmers. Now is the time to prepare for the coming of the census taker. Every man who cultivates an acre of wheat or corn or sets out a tobacco plant ought to keep an securate account of the results of his labor. Everything pertaining to the farm should be scrupulously written down whether it pertains to crop, stock wages or prices. That will simplify matters when the census taker comes along and insure accuracy besides. We believe there are some who have an idea there is a disagreeable relation-ship between the census man and the assessor, but this is a mistake. It is especially desirous that we should have an accurate enumeration of all our crops in this country; not a mere guess but the bottom facts themselves. This can only be had if every individual farmer goes to work on his own book and carefully puts down all the facts so far as they relate to himself and his own farm. Sooner or later he will have to make answers to certain questions. Why not prepare himself in advance, and thus save the anoyance that will inevitably result from imperfect know-ledge later on! It is only a simple thing, and every man can attend to it. Let every farmer, therefore, supply bimself with a sheet of paper or a memorandum book, on which he can jot down the required information.
