What is Overloading a Horse, and How

The following taken from "Bishop on Statutory Crimes"-edition of 18 73, Page 689-is believed to be sound law, the world over, on the above sub-

It was written by Mr. Angell, in re-viewing a decision of a Massachusetts Court in 1868 that there was no cruelty because other horses of the same weight were able to draw the load in question. It was the first and last decision of the kind over rendered in

"Must an animal be worked until he breaks a blood vessel or drops dead, before the law takes cognizance? Is the horse to be strained, or worked to overheard one say of her, "By Heaven she's painted!" "Yes," retoried she indignantly, "and by heaven enly!" Ruddy health manticol has been and the said suffering from a dry, hacking cough, night-sweats, and spitting of blood, seemed destined to fill a consumptive's grave. After spending hundreds of dollars on physicians, without hencelt, she tried Dr. Plorce's Golden Medical Discovery; her improvement was soon marked, and in a few months she was plume and rosy again,—a perfect picture of health and strength.

This wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery," now world-famed as a remedy for consumption, which is really ling-scrotula, is not only an acknowledged remedy for that terribly fatal malady, when taken in time and given a fair trial, but also for all forms of Scrotislous, Skin and Scalp Discusses, as White Swellings, Fever—sores, Hip-joint Discusse, Sail-rheum, Tatter, Ecoura, Boila, Carbuncies, Erspielas and kindred ailments. All scalp, crusty, itching, troublesome ecuptions yield rendily to the curative powers. It invigorates the liver, enriches the blood and promotes all the bodily functions, it is the only liver, blood and lung remedy, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will do all that it is recommended to, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. the extreme limit of his strength, be fore such straining or working becomes a crackty (that is, before the act of his master becomes 'overloading?" Can an expert, or any number of experts, say what is the limit of strength or endurance of any horse by simply knowing his weight? It seems to me that these questions can be easily answered. Horses, like men, are of different ages, constitutions, temperaformation and degrees of strength. One horse, just like one man, may be twice as last, twice as tough, as another precisely of the same weight; and inasmuch as horses, like men, are liable to a great variety of sickness, and suffer, just like men, from previous overworking and from heat, want of proper rest, food, water, shelter and care, it follows that the same horse, like the same man, may be able to perform without injury more labor in one day than another.

"Can a thousand experts prove that all men of a given weight or size are equally competent, on every day of the year, to perform a given labor! Can their testimony establish how much load a man of given weight should carry, and how far be should carry it on a given day, without regard to whether the man is old or young, sick or well, strong or weak tough or tender, already tired or rested, full-fed or starved, or the day hot or cold? And does not precisely the same reason apply to the horse,-that what one horse can do one day has no force in showing what another ought to do on another day, unless you show the weather, age, strength, toughness and bodity condition of the two to be precisely similar! I say, then, that it is just as impossible for any number of experts, knowing only the weight or size of a horse and nothing of his age, health, strength, toughness and bodily condition, to establish what is, or is not, overloading him, as it would be, knowing only the size or weight of a man and nothing of his age, health, strength, toughness or bodily condition, to establish what is or what is not an overload for bim.

"How, then, are we to determine when a horse is overloaded? Just exactly and precisely as we determine when a man is overloaded. First, we are to take his own evidence. If a man stops and says, "I am overloaded, I am working too hard, I feel that the task put upon me is too heavy," that is evidence. So when the horse, ordinarily kind and willing to pull, come with a heavy load to a rise of land and, after one or two efforts, stops and says as plainly as he can speak it, "I am overloaded, I am working too hard, I feel that the task put upon me is too heavy," that is evidence; and there is no court or jary, or man with the heart of a man, who will not recognize it as such. Besides, the signs of over work are just as visible in the horse as the man. No magistrate or juror would have any difficulty in deciding in his own mind whether a case to which his attention might be attracted in our public streets was or was not a case of cruelty.

"Is not, then, the testimony of competent, intelligent and credible by-standers, who see how the borse looks and acts, and his bodily condition, health, and capacity to perform the labor required, the best evidence that can possibly be obtained? Where can you get better? And when disinterested and intelligent witnesses, who are present and see and hear all that is said and done in a given case, voluntarily leave their ordinary avocations and come into court and testify that they are fully satisfied that the case is a clear case of cruelty, can such evi-dence be overbalanced by that of any number of experts who are not present, see nothing that occurs, know nothing of the age, health, strength, or bodil condition of the horse at the time, and who base their calculations simply upon the avoirdupois weight of the animal? It is perfectly evident, then, say, that the highest and best evi dence which any court or jury can ask or possibly obtain in a case of overloading, overworking, or overdriving, is the evidence of the horse himself, as interpreted by those present when the cruelty is inflicted. "Cruelty begins very far short of taking the extreme strength of the animal. God has given to men and ani mals an excess of strength, to be hus banded carefully and used occasionally. But to task that strength to its full limit unnecessarily is against nature, breaks down the man or the animal before his or its time, and is a cruelty against which men, having speech and reason, may protect themselves, bu against which animals, having neither speech nor reason like men, must look to them for protection."

An Unique Feature of the Pennsylvania Limited.

The Pennsylvania Limited, performing a daily service between New York and Chicago, needed but one feature to complete the perfection of its ap-pointment. The men had their porter and barber, and now the ladies have their maid and hair-dresser. The in troduction of the maids is as novel as it is a unique feature. It exists on no other regular train in the world, and the ladies who travel will appreciate it heartily. The maids are colored women and there is one employed on each train They are especially charged to look after the comfort of ladies, children, and invalids. They are to assist the ladies in making their toilets, to dress their hair, and serve as a hand-maid to them in the fullest sense of the term.

30 other styles at prices to suit every-body. If you can't get them from your dealer, write us. They will have an eye to the chil dren, and have a care for invalids and ladies who may travel without a male escort. The convenience and comfort of having an attendant of one's own sex will be cordially appreciated by timid women and those who are inex-perienced in travel. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pulman Palace Car Company deserve great credit for their persistent efforts to en-hance the comfort and pleasure of their ARE THE STRONGEST.

CATARRH. Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT. A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and custachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. Dixon & Son, 904 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

MustQ "Season" Awhile-

An old Henry County farver, who s a Democrat, caught on to the Northwest the other day, and backing him into the corner of the drug store, said: "One of my Republican neighbors had a dream the other night."

"Yes; well-"
"He dreamed he died, and on the A sentinel in uniform stood there and challenged his politics. I am a Republican and voted for Protection ast fall,' answered my neighbor. 'Turn to the left,' said the sentinel. 'it's but s ittle way; you'il see the smoke room

"I see, What next happened?" "Well, my neighbor saw a fierce ooking devil rossting a sleek cunning ooking chap, and asked who he was That, said the demon, as he piled on a fresh scuttle of coal and brimstone, that is a protective tariff shouter. A little further on another devil with his sleeves up and sweat pouring down his temples, was tucking up the brands around a big fat fellow whose lard was running merrily down into the embers.
"And who is the fat victim?" inquired my neighbor ie his dream.

"That," replied the devil, as he lean ed his spade against a pile of coal and nopped his brow—"that is a protection onopolist." Further on still, in corner not very hot, my neighbor saw a man hung up with a piece of binder wine.

"Indeed! that was singular." "Yes, it strack my neighbor so, and e inquired of the devil what it meant.
"Jess! Well——"
"The devit who stood there told my neighbor that the hoodoo hung up with binder twine, was a Republican farmer who voted for Trusts and Pro-tection last fall. He was too green to burn yet, and it was concluded that the best thing to do would be to hang him up and let him season awhile!"
