Laws Passed Hastily by the Legislature Give the Counties Trouble.

A DISPUTE OVER THE LENGTH OF TERMS TO WHICH THE CONSTARLES WERE ELECTED IN 1889, UNDER THE

through both houses of the Legislature in the earlier days of the session and were intended to make important changes in the terms of certain officers to be elected at the Spring election then almost at hand.

One of these acts on account of the One of these acts on account of the hasty and imperfect way in which it was drawn is likely to cause considerable trouble and confusion in every county in the state at the coming Spring elections. These bills provided for the extension of the terms of all the constables and assessors of any borough and township in the State, both real estate assessors and registration assesestate assessors and registration assessors, from one year to three years. The assessors' bill provided that the first election under the bill should be held on "The third Tuesday of February, 1889," and triennially thereafter, while the constables' bill provided that the first election under the bill be held on "The third Tuesday of February next" and triennially thereafter.

The intent of the assessors' law was very plain, but there was great disagreement all over the State as to the interpretation of the constable law, interpretation of the constable law, whether under it, the first election would be held in 1889 or 1890. The bill was signed by the Governor only five days before the Spring elections of Feburary 19, 1889, and there was no Feburary 19, 1889, and there was no time to obtain any judicial decision upon the matter. Here in Franklin County Judge Rowe, who had just retired from the bench, and Judge Stewart, who had succeeded him, were both of the opinion that the constables elected last Spring would serve for three years. This opinion was published but the time before the election was no short to permit of the new law here. too short to permit of the new law being known in the remote election districts of the county and the result was a grand jumble, some districts voting for a three years' term and others for

The same trouble occured in most of the counties of the State and a year nas passed without the matter being settled. The whole difference comes from the word "next," and the dispute hangs upon the question whether the word "next" qualifies the word "February" or whether it qualifies the whole phrase "on the third Tuesday of February," In the first instance the law would mean "next February," and the first election under it could not be held until 1890, while in the second instance "the third Tuesday of February uext" would mean February 19, 1889, and constables elected last year would hold office for three years. the counties of the State and a year ant one as it concerns perhaps several thousand officers, the constables being in many instances, tax collectors also.

The State Department at Harrisburg. during the past week has been deluged with inquiries from all parts of the State asking for an interpretation of che law, but this was in every instance refused and all applicants referred to

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S AID INVOKED. An application was also made to Attorney General Kirkpatrick from Culton county, last week, for an opinion up on the subject, but the Attorney General replied that the matter had not come before him in such a case as to justify him in expressing an official

So far is known, Judge Pershing, of Schuylkill county, is the only judge in the State who has had the question before him. The case is not reported, but his decision is said to be that the constables of last spring were elected for a term of one year, and that all constables must be re-elected at the coming election. This opinion is not concurred in by the leading attorneys here. Ex Judge Rowe is emphatically of the opinion that the constables elected last ar will serve for three years. Judge tewart was of the same opinion last year, but now that he is on the bench lines to express any opinion until the matter comes before him in a test county the old constables will be allowed to serve a three-year term; but in others there will be contests and the law will come before the court for interpretation when the newly elected constables present them selves to be sworn in and to have their bonds approved and commissions issued. The same difficulty is likely to occur in every other county in the State.

Don't Give Up

Chambersburg, Jan. 12—On the 14 th of Feburary last, Governor B ayer signed two bills which had been rushed through both hours of the Land and all gone teeling. Do as I did, use a bottle of Sulphur through both hours of the Land and are troubled with that tired and all gone teeling. Bitters, it will make you feel like a new person; it did me.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are bounded by the bowels, are some of the more common after symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local sympa-Headache thetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour burn after cating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsa, and from being more or less shut up in a sour spring I took Hood's Sarsa. Stormach filla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food reilshed and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." George A. Paoe, Watertown, Mass.

Now that the Spring elections are approaching, the matter is again being agitated. The question is very important one as it concerns perhaps several thousand officers, the constables being the several three of remedies, for Beanache, known as Deaga Headache Troches. The remedy duries more head-ache, especially such as affect Nervous Women, than acything I am acquainted with, and if this certificate will be the means of bringing it to the favorable attention of sufferers from that trouble, I shall feel that I have done them a service.
