Death from Chioral.

J. Homer Brittain died on Monday morning about two o'clock from an over dose of chloral. On Sunday evening about seven o'clock he went to Dr. Harter and asked him for something that would quiet bis nerves. The doctor went with him to tion filled, leaving Mr. Brittain outside On coming out Dr. Harter noticed that his patient acted strangely, and soon afterwards found a bottle of chloral in Brittain's pocket, from which a dose had been taken while the doctor was in the drug store. Seeing he was getting drowsy from th effects of it, the doctor took him to his home on Rock street and got him in bed, and he went to sleep. Dr. Harter called the attention of Mrs. Brittain, mother of the deceased to the bottle of chloral, and will be additions to this church in the left it down stairs. Soon after one o'clock Homer aroused his mother and said he must have another dose of chloral. They went down stairs together and finding the bottle Mrs. Brittain told him to wait until she got a teaspoon, but he put the bottle to his lips and drank about two ounces, no doubt taking more than he intended. They then went back up stairs, and very soon Homer said he feared he had taken too much. In a very few moments he was dead. J. D. Bodine who lives near by was called up, and went for Dr. Harter, who upon his arrival at once saw that the pa-

A lively season.

This popular play will be presented at the Opera House on Friday, February 14. about them except the price, The New York Herald thus speaks of it-"The Two Johns" crowd more mirth and hilarity into a given space than other comedians now on the road. The play opens with a laugh, and it increases into uproarousness with marvelous rapidity. The most confirmed misanthrope and irreclaimable growler is compelled to give expression to the pleasure he experiences by loud guffaws, and leave the play house happier and more content with life and its incidents. Laughter is a capital medicineespecially in allopathic quantities, and the patrons of The Third Avenue Theatre will have ample opportunity to demonstrate the popular adage: "Laugh and grow fat." Admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at Dentler's.

Constipation,

If not remedied in season, is liable to become habitual and chronic. Drastic purgatives, by weakening the bowels, confirm, rather than cure, the evil. Ayer's Pills, being mild, effective, and strengthening in their action, are generally recommended by the faculty as the best of aperions.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills. I deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"I have been taking Aver's Pills and using them in my family since 1857, and cheerfully recommend them to all in need of a safe but effectual cathactic." —John M. Boggs, Louisville, Ky. "For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the dectors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in excellent health."—S. L. Loughbridge, Bryan, Texas.

"Having used Ayer's Pills, with good results, I fully indorse them for the pur-puses for which they are recommended." —T. Conners, M. D., Centre Bridge, Pa. Ayer's Pills,
