In an opinion filed on Monday Judge (keeper holds that a guardian, administrator or other person holding the position of a trustee, who uses the trust fund and fails to pay over when ordered to do so by the court, must be imprisoned until discharged under the insolvent laws. It has been the practice in some of the courts to discharge such trustee when brought in on an attachment, if he answers that he has no money in his possession and therefore it is impossible for him to pay. Mr. Justice held by Judge Ketter to have a salary of five dollars, it is to be in full of all that was due by the trustee by embezzling the funds will be visited by imprisonment.

A New Kind of Insurance. has been put in operation by the manufacturers of Dr. Pierce's medicine. His "Golden Medical Discovery," "Favorite Prescription" are sold by druggists under the manufacturers' positive guarantee. Either a nest or a complete cure is attained, or money paid for these medicines is returned. The certificate of guarantee given in connection with sale of these medicines is equivalent to a policy of insurance. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures all humors and blood taints, from whatever cause arising, skin and scalp diseases, scrofulous sores and swellings. The "Favorite Prescription" cures all the derangements and weaknesses peculiar to women.

THE LONGENBERGER CASE.

George Longenberger died many years ago, owning with George Miller and Daniel Fisher, a tract of land in Beaver township, in the warrant name of Catherine Longenberger, which land was also claimed, as a tax sale, by Simon P. Kase. On the 1st day of August 1853 William G. Hurley brought ejectment for Longenberger, Miller and Fisher for the land, against Joshua Robinson and William Boyd, tenants in possession under Simon P. Kase. Col. Freese appeared for the defendant on the 11th of September 1853. Subsequently, on a rule taken Dr. H. W. McReynolds and others were made defendants, and from that time the case was known as Longenberger vs. McReynolds. It was tried in court at arbitration and appeal, before Judge Elwell, by M. E. Jackson, Nicholson and Hakes for the plaintiff, and Freese, R. P. Clark, Jacob Hoffman of Berks, and John B. Baker of Sunbury for the defendant. There was a verdict for the plaintiffs, and a writ of error was taken by the defendant. The case was argued in the Supreme court and is reported in 57 Penna. State Reports, 13. The Supreme Court reversed the case and sent it back for another trial, in March 1868.

It was again tried in the Columbia County court, and a verdict for the plaintiff was rendered. Linn, Freese, and Backus appearing for the defendants, and Ricketts, ex-chief Justice Geo. W. Woodward, Jackson and Henry M. Hoy for the plaintiff. This also went to the Supreme Court and the judgment was affirmed. It is reported in 75 Penna. State Reports, 13. The case was then returned to the county court by the defendants, and was presented to take part in the argument before the Supreme court at Philadelphia on January 29, 1874. Judge Linn had opened for the plaintiffs, and was followed by Judge Woodward and Mr. Ricketts on the other side. Judge Thompson began the closing argument, and the single reason that such incorporation was entirely inadvisable for the present in our little village. Our town is in a prosperous, thriving condition, being rapidly built up by an industrious, working class of people. If we have the welfare of our town and not the personal interests at stake, it is our duty as citizens, to throw out all possible inducements to that class of people who are seeking homes. We cannot do this by incorporation, by expending a lot of unnecessary officers; and laying heavy taxes to pay them.

There is plenty of room for enterprise and improvement without a charter, if we wish to do so. There has already been enough money spent in the application and remonstrance for said charter, to build our sidewalks, who are the needed thing for our town. Our active business men and the laboring class do not want a borough. So long as business is not retarded by surrounding circumstances and our local politicians is to draw on rubber both ways the mud or wait till the clouds roll by.

Grandmother Says: When she was a girl that her mother always gave her sulphur and molasses to take for colds, coughs, and croup, and she never forgot to take it, and she is now a grandmother, and she is the best medicine she ever saw.—The Examiner.

MILLVILLE INSTITUTE. Millville Teachers' Institute was called to order at 10 a. m., with music and devotional exercises conducted by J. S. Grimes. H. W. Eves and Sadie Masters were appointed secretaries.

Recitation, "Little by Little," Herbert H. Eves. Concert recitation by little boys, Boyd Neyhart, Elmer Kester, Frank Lyons. Song by Mattie Eves. Address, "Character Building," J. S. Grimes. He spoke of the importance of a good character as a foundation for future success. He was truthful, persevering and patient. Pupils who are slovenly in school will be so in life. Be careful of school habits. Be careful of school habits. Pay more attention to moral culture. We learn by habit; see that the habits of the pupils are right. What a man says and does is measured by his character. Address, "Loyalty," by H. W. Eves, who spoke of loyalty to the home, to the school, State and Nation. Of a lack of colonial patriotism in the present, and of the "Moral Culture," by Boyd Neyhart. He spoke of moral culture beginning at home. Keep children away from the influence of the street. Whatever we make the home, so will be the nation. Keep the home right; give the children books and games. Remarks on the addresses, by Chandler Eves, E. J. Bowman, and J. S. Grimes. Adjourned until 2 p. m.

Insulture was called to order at 3 p. m. E. J. Eves, "The Office of the School," Julia C. Lytle. This was a very practical and excellent paper. The essayist spoke of manual training in the common schools and the development of the mind according to certain principles. "Encouragement for Young Teachers," by F. M. Eves. If you wish your pupils to produce a glorious work train them to live in an atmosphere of grand ideas. Do not let your motto after new methods, but help each mind to find its own method of growth.

Recitation, "Boys Wanted," Markley Fortner. "How to Secure and Maintain the Attention of the Class," Ada Ringler, followed by a lengthy and able address by E. J. Bowman of Berwick, subject, "Impressions made by ancient and modern times. Our space is too limited to do justice to the address.

Recitation, "A Little Boy's Trouble," Alvin Little. Dialogue, "The Sick Doll," Bernice Eves, Mattie Eves, and Ralph Kinler. Recitation, by Mel Heacock. Address, by Hon. Henry Houck, who spoke in his usual happy style on the inspiration of music.

Recitation by Grace Parker, "Hunting Eggs." Adjourned until 8 p. m. Institute convened at 8 p. m. After music by the choir the entire evening session was occupied by Hon. Henry Houck with his humorous lecture, "The Old and the New." The lecture covered old memories to the veterans of old time school-days when the school-master was abroad in the land.

The sessions were all attended by large and interested audiences. Excellent music was furnished at intervals through the day and evening by the Millville choir.

H. W. Eves, S. M. MASTERS, Secretaries.

Interested People. Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The Large Bottles are $1.00, but certainly would be worth a trial. It may save you from consumption.

Benton.

Our ice men are again disappointed by the present thaw. What is the matter with Bloomsburg starting an ice machine? It is quite probable, unless the weather changes, that the surrounding towns could be supplied in this manner if the ice could be manufactured and sold at a moderate price.

T. C. McElroy met with quite an accident last Thursday, which might have proved more serious. While driving to a plow, one of the single trees broke and frightened the team. The sleigh was overturned and the team ran away. Luckily neither the doctor or horses were injured but for one Doe was "badly left."

Rev. S. P. Boone is holding protracted meetings at this place and meeting with marked success.

Dr. I. L. Edwards lost a valuable horse last week. It was kicked by another horse and so badly injured that it was an act of mercy to shoot it and end its sufferings.

We were glad to see Mrs. Jack Derr arrive in Benton last Monday from Bloomsburg, where she had passed through a very painful surgical ordeal. The people here were all anxious and glad to see her on foot so soon.

Horse thieves are reported in the vicinity of Orangeville. It may be well for us to look after our stock a little closer and if any of them are missing see if the boys are all in.

The Benton Planing Mill is not in operation at present.

The 'Grip' is slowly but surely losing its grip on suffering humanity. Nothing aggravates a man more than to tell him he hasn't got it.

In regards to our Borough it has been a great doubt in our mind whether our friendly "Correspondent of the Sentinel" is a tax payer.

Our enterprising men and heaviest taxpayers were opposed to the borough for the simple reason that such incorporation was entirely inadvisable for the present in our little village. Our town is in a prosperous, thriving condition, being rapidly built up by an industrious, working class of people. If we have the welfare of our town and not the personal interests at stake, it is our duty as citizens, to throw out all possible inducements to that class of people who are seeking homes.

We started the story of Black Stuffs some days since. Lo, the air is filled with Black—a veritable flock of crows! But we keep right on—the riches of Black in Spring Dress Stuffs can only be realized by study; the same is true of the variety of plain Blacks.

Black Silk-warp Mohairs: Brilliant, 44 inches, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00. All-wool Alpaca Brilliant, 42 inches, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00. These are equal variety of wool, wool-and-silk, mohair, and mohair-and-silk elsewhere. The claims are big. The stocks warrant the claims.

Silk Twilled Cheviot. Cotton-and-silk. The lustre and feel are silk, the cotton shows mostly in the price. Stripes and plaids, from the neat and modest to bold designs. A charming stuff for all the Flannel uses; a sort of sublimated wash flannel. 30 inches wide; maybe 75 patterns at 75c.

All the Flannels are in the rank, Everybody's favorites. Cotton-warp Wash Flannel, 25, 37½, 50, and 60c. Same, with silk stripes, 50 and 65c. All-wool Woven Flannels, entirely novel, 50c.

Woman's Muslin Underwear is again a center of special interest. Unusual value in every item. And not a bit of trash in any of the lots.
