Second Crop of Seed Thoughts.

MR. EDITOR.

Produce markets may be dull, but thinking was never more active among the farmers and some of them will think out a way to control the influences that control the prices between the farmer and consumer.

The farmers are beginning to perceive that as a farming nation they have to face a condition of overproduction and under consumption that affects them throughout the nation.

This condition should cause the farmers to learn that the price of the surplus of their grain is set by the price of the surplus of each crop at Liverpool, England, in free competition with the surplus of all other grain producing countries. So far as grain is concerned, it is a free trade market.

If the farmers, working at the unprofitable business of raising grain, which they are forced to sell in a free trade market, while they supply their own wants in a high tariff market, could be brought to see the Treasury surplus in a proper light, and vote accordingly, times would be more satisfactory.

Thank fortune, it is beginning to be felt at the money centres, that if the millions of people who do the farming do not get good pay for their labor, their ability to buy of merchants and manufacturers is curtailed, and trade with them is much reduced. If they want the golden eggs, they must not kill the goose that lays them.

Farmers are also beginning to perceive that a legislature is needed that can and will do its own work, and not shoulder on some commission the work it does not know how or neglects to do. They begin to see that they must elect men for the legislature who know the needs of the State; who are informed on subjects pressing for legislative consideration. The farmers and others who are complaining of the burdens of taxation are learning that they owe it to themselves to see that they are represented by men who understand something about the questions which they will be called to vote upon in the legislature; not what his business calling has been or may be now a man who takes an interest in politics for the common good of his fellow citizens and not for his self pride or perquisites—mainly perquisites.

The farmers are beginning to realize that their representatives must have an idea of how to harmonize the various conflicting interests in our Commonwealth; the interests of labor and capital, of the manufacturers and importers; in short, of all classes, regions and individuals. To this end to make new law amendments to old ones, so as to secure equal justice to all for the common good. Such subjects a good representative will be posted on before election. The next legislature will have the all important question of Revenue or taxation to determine, as well as the re-districting of the state, and election of United States Senator; and any voter, farmer or otherwise, who expect these matters to be properly handled and discussed by men who know nothing about them now, does himself a great wrong.

Representatives who do not study and learn what to do with such matters before they are elected to office, never learn afterwards, no matter whether they have served one or more terms. In the legislature men do not learn how to properly draw or write out a bill, but simply the manner in which a bill becomes a law; some of them only learn "addition, division and silence." Within the next three or four months the candidates will be nominated, which in this county is generally equivalent to an election. This is the time to name in your mind themen, who know what is needed to be done, and who will have the courage and ability to accomplish something for the good of the county and state when elected, and not lie like a knot on a log in the legislature.

The farmers must not expect the legislature to do what they do not insist shall be done. The power is in the hands of the people, next January the legislature will have it.

The farmers should determine to let the political bosses know that while they (the bosses) may fool some of the people all the time, and all the people some of the time, they cannot fool all the people all the time, even if they have held office many years and hold a mortgage on the county offices, for the farmers have learned to their sorrow that representatives possessed only of political hog power and boodle are not the kind they want, that such political hogs may root, but they must die politically.

Yours truly,
C. M. BLAKER.

The Benton Assessment.

EDITORS COLUMBIAN:

We did not raise the question about the disbursment of the county fands as to how and where expended, or to what applied. The presumption is that they are generally proper and legitimate. We are not concerned about that, but we are concerned about the equality of values from which these expenses are to be drawn. In reply to Mr. Brown's comments in last week's Republican, speaking of the amount of taxes assessed to Benton and still due, said: "Now what was drawn by the (Benton) township from the treasury?" A sum of "$1230.80," and other items not mentioned, $332.72 more than was assessed to the township. Now this statement misleads the public mind to some extent, and some people may conclude that Benton is more detrimental to the county than beneficial. Mr. Brown did Benton an injustice in that particular. We do not charge this upon him as a malicious intention, but upon reflection, we believe he would have done otherwise. To set the public mind aright upon this question we will follow the line of his suggestions as applied to Benton, and see where it leads to. Greenwood drew from the treasury $1746.93 and was assessed $1279.93 Jackson drew from the treasury $1162.57 and was assessed $295.10, Fishingcreek drew $643. In each case other items are not mentioned. The county statement shows that $4247.69 was assessed to Bloomsburg and $628 30 still due. "Now what was drawn by Bloomsburg from the county treasury!" Under the various heads we glean as follows:

Miscellaneous Expenses, $158.07; Jurors pay and Constables returns, $816.77; Cost Commonwealth cases where county became liable, $214.00; Commissioners office and Court House, $2590.09; County Jail and Prison Requisitions, $2134.09; Printing, Stationery, Stamps, &c., $512.14; Inquisitions, $40.17; Bridge Repairs, $431.26; Assessors Pay, $84.95; Soldiers Burial &c., $45.00; A total of $9026.91.

If these expenses applied to Benton Mr. Brown could increase them a thousand dollars more from the county statement. Bloomsburg received $5407.25 more than was paid in and $4778.95 more than was assessed to that place. Now these are only the ordinary annual expenses drawn from the treasury by Bloomsburg, in addition to which several years ago $75,000 for county jail was drawn and still later several thousand dollars for court house repairs, We think that Mr. Brown, when sweeping before our door would have done well by having swept before his own, and again consigned a portion of the contents of his comments to the waste basket instead of to the columns of the Republican. We find no fault with the disbursement of the county funds, but merely call attention to the fact to show that "people living in glass houses ought not to throw stones."

Deformity From Bright's Disease.

S. D. VanBuskirk, of Demarest, N. J., says Aug. 20, 1888: "Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., has cured our daughter of Bright's Disease, after all other means had failed. She was so swollen that she measured 45 inches around the waist, and 18 inches below the knee. To say that we feel thankful for such a boon as Favorite Remedy is but a poor expression of the feeling of grateful parents.—3-7 1-m.

No More Gold Dollars.

The act prohibiting the further coinage of the $1 and $3 gold pieces and 3-cent nickle piece has passed Congress and is now awaiting the President's signature to become a law. The utility of these coins as currency, it is said, has ceased. Some two years ago nearly 6,000,000 of gold dollars were brought to the Philadelphia Mint, melted and coined into double eagles. Some doubts were expressed as to whether in destroying the gold dollar the unit of value would not be destroyed, but the unit of value is represented by a fixed quantity of gold, i. e. 23.22-100 grains.

Experience Taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having Liver Complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six Bottles cured me I shall always use them.—G. N. Butler Cohoes, N. Y.—3-14 2-t.

Nervous, Bilious, or Congestive Forms.

This Remedy is the prescription of one of the leading physicians of Paris, France, and was used by him with unparalleled success for over thirty years, it was first given to the public as a proprietary medicine in 1878. Since which time it has found its way into almost every county on the face of the globe, and become a favorite remedy with thousands of the leading physicians. Medical societies have discussed its marvelous success at their annual conventions, and after their official chemists have analyzed it and found that it contained no opiates, bromides or other harmful ingredients placed it among their standard remedies.

This is to certify that I have used for some months with much satisfaction, the combination of remedies, for Headache, known as Briggs' Headache Troches. The remedy cures more headache, especially such as affect Nervous Women, than anything I am acquainted with, and if this certificate will be the means of bringing it to the favorable attention of sufferers from that trouble, I shall feel that I have done them a service.
