Free Delivery. It is said and pretty reliably, too, that the Post Office Department, in conformity with the late action of Congress has decided to establish free postal delivery in several Pennsylvania towns in which the business of the office has "exceeded $7,000 for the year closing March 3 last, while the population exceeds 5,000." The following towns are patiently waitthem to prepare their offices for the chan ge: Mahanov City, Shamokin, Bellefonte, Ash. land, Tamaqua, Bristol, Butler, Carbon-Columbia, Danville, Plymouth Franklin, Greensburg, Oil City, Phoenixville, Pottstown, Sharon, South Bethlehem, Sunbury, Towarda, Tyrone, Union town West Grove, Dunmore. Others may be added by the increase of revenue shown at the end of the fiscal year. In cities of this size two mail carriers are appointed and there are two deliveries a day, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. Bloomsburg ought to be added to the ist. The business of the post office exceeds $7000, and the population of the town cannot be less than 5000. The census will be taken this year, and we shall have a free delivery. Our chances are as good as many of the towns n med above.

what little I did cat. I hought it bottle of Brown's Sarssparilla. It seemed to do no good until nearly gone, when a tremendous itching of my feet and legs commenced; I continued till I had used aix bottles; my appetite returned, my food tasted natural, and I, though now 63 years of age, feel as well and lively as I have for twenty years. I cannot speak too highly of Brown's Sarssparilla.

A very strong case showing what Brown's Sarssparilla will do for the children is that of the little daughter of Don A.H.Powers, Eag., of Houldon, Maine, brother of ex-Congressman Powers, and one of the leading lawyers of Aroostook county. His little five year old girl had been in delicate health, pale and with little appetite, for some time. Mr. Powers had never tried any patent medicines, and had little faith in them, but so numerous and strong were the words of commendation that came to him from neighbors and through the press, that he was induced to try a bottle of Brown's Sarssparilla for the little one. This was used according to directions, and a second one parchased. What was the result? Mr. Powers Says the variable appottic gave way to a natural and hearty desire for food, increased vigor and vivacity were noticeable, glowing cheeks and bright eyes took the place of the pallid face and sallow look, and the hearts of the parents were gladdened beyond expression by the wonderful change which had taken place in their darling.
