Apportionment of Delegates.

The following is the apportionment of delegates made by the Democratic standing committee at their last meeting. It is based upon the presidential vote of 1888. Briarcreek, Centre and Greenwood townships each gain one delegate, making 78 instead of 75 two years ago. The division of Greenwood township does not alter the result since that township now has 4 delegates, and each voting place is entitled to two delegates. Votes Delegates.

McDowell Will Not Retire-

MERCER COUNTY IN REVOLT AGAINST

SHARON, July21.-Senator Quay, in an interview in a moring Pittsburg paper says that as a citizen of the Twentyfifth Congressional district he repud-iates McDowell's nomination, and Mercer county to-night is in open revolt against the Beaver Senator. McDowell still refuses to withdraw and it looks probable that there will be two Republican candidates in the district, which case a Democratic victory would Butler county's committee meets Wednesday and will be asked to join Beaver in naming a new candidate. Charges of bribery and corpouptionare flying on every hand, and an investigation may be made into Townsend's nomination two years ago.

IN OPEN REVOLT.

Rush T. Jones, a Republican, the editor of the Petroleum Exchange, of Washington, Pa., was in the city on Wednesday, and speaking of things of a political nature, said: "The old line Republicans in that county are in open revolt against the man Senator Quay has nominated for governor The Magwamp element, continued Mr. Jones, will to a man vote for Pattison and many of those who have always been voting the straight ticket will bolt it this fall and vote for Pattison. A number of Methodists throughout the county have declared that they will vote for Pattison because he is regarded as one of the leading members of that denomination in the state. The other element, which will oppose Delamater very vigorously and openly, is the oil men. Their animosity is wholly due to the fact that the Republican nominee for governor was the man who was the chief instrument in having the Billingsley bill defeated. The oil men are determined to the man to vote against Delamater, and some of them will make a canvass against "Delamater's majority will be small in Washington county. The usual Republican mjority there is from 1,800 to 2,000, but if Delamater gets 500 majority he can congratulate himself as having a big vote, especially since the current of popular feeling seems to be running so swiftly against him." Pittsburg Dispatch.

WASHINGTON LETTEB.

(Frem our Regular Correspondent, Washington, July 21, 1890)
Representative Lodge is a monomaniac on the subject of a Federal election law. He wants he says, "if necessary a file of federal soldiers at every polining place in his district." He has made the Federal election idea the sole object of his thoughts throughout this object of his thoughts throughout this session, and will attempt to crowd out any other important business in its fayor. He was the first member to arrive in Washington, and promptly attached his fortune to that of Mr. Reed, while he was a candidate for the speakership of the House. He came here before any other of the his committee places picked out in advance of any of them.

There is a great pressure at present in republican circles, to have the Louge bill pass. Of course the actual reason is that millions have been given away through subsidies and tariff, public buildings and in many other extrava-gant ways, and it is admitted by those in authority that the U. S. Treasury is nearly bankrupted. To avoid a deficit the republican majority proposes that the government shall commit a colos-sal breach of trust. To be brief. On the 14th of August next the silver coinage act becomes operative. Upon that day the amount held by the U. S. Treasurer for the redemption of the circulating notes, in the hands of the public, of discontinued national banks, according to the terms of the act, are to be turned into the general fund. The amount will probably, according to the best estimates, amount to about $55,000,000. This is done under the pretense of increasing the circulation; while the real reason is to avoid a deficit in the Treasury, when all these wasteful appropriations come to be The statesmen here are, also intensely excited at the outcome of the census, and the new apportionment. They realize that the old Northeran States will scarcely hold their own in population, and that the growth of the country at large may even detract from them something of their present repre-sentation. There is also good reason to believe that the new industries, mines, and activity of the South, developed during the last ten years, have prought more people there than once were. Hence the great anxiety on the part of the republicans to pass the Lodge bill. But that cannot be reached without violating and changng the rules that have governed the Senate for a hundred years.

Pressure is being brought to bear on the five or six republican Senators who are most determined in their opposition to the measure; and meanwhile the features of the bill are being considered by the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections. The Senate will dispose of the appropriation bills, and then the tariff bill, before the election bill is reached, and it will be left pending at adjournment, unless those more conservative statesmen can ing short of a million dollars complish that result.

The other gains, which the committee is confident of making, are three in Missouri, one in Kentucky, two in Maryland, one each in Louisiana and Pennsylvania, and others possibly in Iowa and Massachusetts. Enough, in short, to give the democrats a good working majority in the next House. The Senate is still discussing the Sundry Civil Bill. A lively debate be tween Senators Reagan of Texas and Stewart of Nevada, was one of the gleams of sunshine during this pronged" deliberation.'

The House to-day, after an at times exceedingly lively debate, passed the 'Original Package" bill, it having been decided by the republican managers that the passage of this bill was necessary to keep the prohibition republican voters in line at the coming Congressonal elections.

The next thing on the House repub can programme is the National Bankruptcy bill, which is to be railroade the usual Reed style; the House having by a party vote decided that the final vote should be taken on Wednesday. Think of passing a measure as sweeping in its effects as this one is after only two days of alleged "delib

But Indiana is not the only state But Indiana is not the only state where complaints are heard and charge but it left its impressive story unfinishes against the character of the enumerators is hard to estimate." The slipshod manner in which the work has been done at Denver, Col., has led the ular enumeration, of which there appear to be many. Through alleged frauds at Minneapolis a recount has been ordered, and at St. Paul it is charged that people in the railway ment of Mr. William F. Harrity discharged that people in the railway stations and on trains passing through the city have been included in the returns of that place. Frauds are charged at Duluth, where hundreds of fictitious names are alleged to have been added to the lists by enumerators in collusion with town authorities. In the South, as in Indians, the work has been in the hands of local politicians, appointments seeming to have been pased on conditions outlined in this pledge of the supervisor of Fourth North Carolina district: "This is to certify that if I am ap North Carolina, Republicans of each county in my district shall have the patronage, and that I will lend my influence to that party." The consequence naturally is that the census is quite as deeply in disre-pute in southern sections as Indiana and complaints, demands for recounting and private canvassing abound.

plaints. They can hardly be groundbe influenced in its favor.

Representative Yoder, of Ohio, who is a member of the Democratic Congressional committee, says that the democrats will gain several Representatives at the coming election, as the result of the gerrymander of the state. Mr. McKinley has been thrown into a district that will have a majority of 2000 against him. His friends will make a desperate effort to secure his election: but Mr. Yoder says that nothing short of a million dollars will acless where so general, and in any case on the more difficult and delicate task of filling up the industrial schedule!

But, after all, could any other result have been expected! The authorities, had they tried, could not have done more to bring the work into discredit than they have. President Harrison started off by appointing as superin-tendent a hot partisan and special pleader, who had a pet cause to champion from the very figures he was authorized together. This was the fundamental blunder. It at once awakened suspicion. Then the superintendent, in conjunction with the president, airly waved saide the proposition to apply the civil service rules to the census bureau. This was the second blunder, almost as great as the

The congressmen at once rushed in and took possession of the job in behalf of the workers, largely, no doubt, through the self-important views of the superintendent, who seemed to enjoy the attention of the place-hunters, and gave out with some pride the news that he was "waist-deep in congress-men." We see the result. The spoils system is what is now spoiling the cen-sus. In some cases, as in Massachusetts, the work was put into trained hands and out of the reach of politics but elsewhere the political jobbers and heelers took hold and have run it for what it was worth in dollars to the ignorant hangeron out of a job. No wonder the country is complaining. The party has gained the spoils of the thing; there is no doubt about that. But it may have lost something worth more and lasting longer.

MOUNT GRETNA, July 19 .- Camp Hartranft, the largest, and what expected to be the most successful militia eneampment held in Pennsylvania, was formally opened at 9 o'clock At that hour the division flag was raised at the headquarters and saluted. This was followed by the ceremony of guard mount, and full military discipline now reigns over the city of tents. The various details sent ahead to erect tents were up early this morning repairing the damage done by last night's storm. By hearty work and the assistance of volunteers from the camp of the regulars the tents levelled by the wind were righted and made ready for the military which will arrive late this afternoon and early tomorrow morning. The Eighteenth Regiment, the crack military command of Pittsburg, which arrived late yesterday afternoon turned out with full ranks. The regiment has 640 men in camp and their dress para le last evening was highly praised by the regular army officers.

The Ninth Regiment from WilkesBarre, Scranton and vicinity, arrived early this morning, having been on
