Our Candidates

When any party finds it necessary to open a political campaign by making excuses for, and defending the seconds of its candidates, it is in an unfortunate condition indeed. The spectacle presented to the people of Pennsylvania by the republican party, Quay's contaminating hold must be shaken off,—Philadelphia News, Reshaken off, Reshaken off need not be commented on. The struggle to extricate itself from the mire of public condemnation into which it has been dragged by reckless and dis-honest leadership, is as humiliating as it is fatile.

Upon the other hand, the democratic party of Pennsylvania is preeminently fortunate in the caudidates which it has chosen for the offices to be filled at the coming election. In the records of these candidates there is nothing to make excuse for, no.hing to defend, nothing to cover up; but the brighter the light upon them, the clearer they stand forth, unprecedented for honesty of purpose and pre-eminent for purity. The name of Robert E. Pattison is synonymous with tarness and integrity No man can lay his finger upon a single act of his while Governor, or while filling any other public position, which will not bear the closest scrutiny. His administration was singularly free of the taint of corruption and every set of his was performed with an eye single to the best interests, not of the for Lieut. Governor, it has been well said that he needs no introduction to the people of Pennsylvania; he is as well recognized for the staunchess of his political principles as he is for his solid worth, his capab'ities and his honesty. He has never had anything uncertain about him least of all an anything least of all any thing least of al uncertain about him, least of all an uncertain political record that needs to be defended at the hands of his

The democratic party is, also, exceedingly fortunate in its choice of a andidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs in the person of Captain W.
H. Barclay. Wherever this gentleman is known he is highly regarded and he has proved himself one of the most efficient officials the United States ent officials the United States government has ever had in Western Pennsylvanis. As a trusted servant for the disbursement of large sums of money due to the old soldiers of the county, by the government, he has been so faithful that the republican administration has seen fit to continue him in his important position. His military career should bespeak for him the hearty support of every lover of his country.

The democratic party is ready to stand upon the record of its candidates.

Can the Republicans do the same?

KENNEDY SOORES QUAY.

"Fighting Bob Kennedy," a tried Republican and a member of the House of Representatives at Washington, from Ohio, yesterday expressed the feeling of a majority of the seeling of the seelin publican voters in this country by calling a halt upon the infamous leade.

ship of Senator Quay.

That Mr. Kennedy voiced the sentiments of a majority of the Republicans in the House, was shown by the fact that he was not called to order and that not a word of protest was uttered against his earnest denunciation.
The applause at the end, in which the Republicans present heartily joined, evidenced that though Quay may control—for the hour—the party machin-ery, he can't degrade manly Republi-cans to his level.

The speech was eloquent in a high degree, and, here are some of its strongest thoughts. Referring to the betrayal of Christ by Judas, Mr. Ken-

It was meet and fitting that Judas should be paid the thirty marks of silver. It was still a part of the eternal fitness of things that having been guilty of the basest crime of all the centuries, he should go out and hang himself. History is repeating itself. The Judas Iscariot of 2000 years ago is to find a counterpart in the Judago is to him a counterpart in the Judas who took the thirty pieces of silver and went and hanged himself has left an example for the Matt Quays that is well worthy of their imitation.

Some time since I stood up in my place on this floor and denounced i nator from my native state because when charged with corruption and branded with infamy, he did not arise in his seat and demand an investiga-tion and inquiry that should establish the purity of his actions and his personal honor. One other occupying a high place in the councils of the party to which I belong has suffered him-self month in and month out to be charged with crimes and misdemeanors for which, if guilty, he should have been condemned under the laws of his State and have meted out to him the fullest measure of its punishment.

This man is a Republican. Shall I now remain silent? Is it just and honest to remain in my seat silent because one who is accused of crimes and reone who is accused of crimes and refuses to seek for vindication is a Refuse to seek for vindication will be service.

I do not know whether the charges made against the chairman of the National Republican Committee are true or false; but I do know that they have been made by journals of character and standing again and again, and I do know that in the face of these charges Matt Ones, has see of these charges Matt Quay has re-mained silent, and has re-her sought nor attempted to seek opportunity to yindicate himself of them. I do know that as a great Republican leader he owed it to the great p y at whose head he was, to either brand them as Washington, Sept. 8, 1890.

Democratic magnanimity was strong-y contrasted with republican selfishness when the Southern Senators voted with the northwestern Senators to place binding twine on the free list. The great grain producing states are the largest users of binding twine. But when the Southern Senators ask-ed for an amendment to the tariff bill placing cotton bagging, which is used by the cotton producing states on the synonymous with fairness and integrity free list, the republican Senators voted solidly against it. That is just the sort of sectional legislation that has created a "solid South" and as long as the one continues the other is likely to remain. It is a bad rule that does not work both ways.

The anti-Reed republicans, and there are lots of 'em, are "kicking" vigorsingle to the best interests, not of the great corporate powers, not of single individuals, but of the whole people of the State. Is this the testimony of political friends alone? No; but of scores of good citizens of all parties and of every republican newspaper, of worth and respectability in the State. Their endorsements and encomiums are of record. Can they stulffy themselves now by attempting to recall their endorsements and to nullify their encomiums? observe ail of them. The democrate Of Chauncy F. Black, the candidate would ask nothing better than Reed's

> This week v one-sided tariff bill passed by the Senate. A number of the republican Senators have shown a temporary spirit of independence in voting against sections of the bill which discriminated against their constituents; but their courage ended there, and through fear of the party lash they will stuttify themselves by voting for it as a whole. The reciprocity amend-ment is a delusion and a snare, and is only reciprocity in name, as experience will demonstrate; or else the high protectionist in the House would not (as they have done) have promised that the House would accept it. The bill is nothing more nor less than an official repayment by the consumers of the United States of the money contributed by protected manufactures during the last Presidential campaign to the republican corruption fund. Fortunately the voters of the country will have an opportunity in November of expressing their opinion of such methods.

R presentative Breckenridgs, of Arkansas, has been illegally and unjustly deprived of his seat in the House but as he expressed it in the closing words of his speech "I take an appeal to the people, regardless of party, in the district I have the honor to represent, on the broad ground of common honesty, and in November they will reverse your conclusion and rebuke the methods by which you reached that conclusion.' The scandal piles up on commissioner of Pensions Raum, but he does not resign, nor do his superiors in office give any signs of asking for his resignation although common decency should have caused them to do so as soon as he un-blushingly acknowledged having bor-rowed $12,000 on notes endorsed by pension attorney Lemon. But there is worse to come. He has been engaged in some business transactions worse than the refrigerator company of which one of his would be judges-Representative Smyser of Ohio-is large stock holder, and Representative Cooper, who first formulated the charges, is in possession of the facts, and he intends to see to it that the public has them, even if the republi cans on the white-washing committee shall refuse to investigate them. The speech of Representative Ken nedy, an Ohio republican, charging Senator Quay with being a felon and a modern Judas Iscariot, may have been strictly true-many people believe that it was—but the floor of the House was no place for it to be made, and it would have been well had the House adopted the resolution expelling Kennedy which Representative Boatner of Duisiana prepared, but was dissuaded Milt Siddler in company with by his democratic colleagues from introducing. The speech will, it is said, be "revised" before it is printed in the Congressional Record, but that is no palliation of the offense against good manners committed by Kennedy. The Lincoln committee, an organi-The Lincoln committee, an organization of independent republicans with headquarters in Philadelphia, has is sued an address to the people. The address is temperate and is couched in dignified language, but it is a scathing arraignment of Senator Quay and the methods by which Senator Delamater was nominated for governor. This document cannot fail to command the attention of all thinking mea. The attention of all thinking mee. The signatures attached to it are those of men of prominence and their opinions cannot fail to carry weight with them. The committee says that the suc-cess of the republican ticket means but the endorsement of Senator Quay and it then states the different counts in the indictment against the junior senator, who it says is "the acknowleged unblushing champion of political corruptionists." It then goes on to say that "he is silent under a recent responsible and repeated charge of the embezzlement of public money. He selects Mr. D lamater as a candidate for governor and a pliant convention ratifies his selection. The party plat-form indorses Mr. Quay and Mr. Delaout gloves the committee turns its at-tention to the republican candidate for governor, and shows that he cannot adhere to the promises of reform and the abandonment of the political me-thods that have been so prevalent in the past. Senator Delamater is shown to be but the tool of Senator Quay and his election to be but "the public in-dorsement of Mr. Quay, and the increase of his prestige not only in the state, but in the country, the encour-agement of his methods, the elevation to greater and greater power of men made in his mould.

The committee ask their fellow citizens to vote for Robert E. Pattison for governor because he has been tried and has been found to be an able and trusty executive. His election would be a rebuke to the men who have dragged Pennsylvania's name through the mire of political corruption, and would insure to the people an era of honesty and purity in governmental af-fairs. On the whole, the address of the independent republicans is a form-dable indictment of the bosses who have sought to mould the will of the people against their better judgment. That its effects will be powerful cannot be doubted. Let the democannot be doubted. Let the demo-cratic party go forward and wage an increasant warfare upon the enemy whose lines are already broken and wavering. Their friends and the friends of honest government stand ready to help them. Let them move onward with unbroken column -onward to victory .- Patrio.

It is not generally known that the easiest way to clean shoes or rubber overshoes which have become muddy is with vaseline. A little "swab" of flannel on the end of a stick is good for this purpose. Even if the vaseline touches the hands it forms a coating over them so that the task is not so ubpleasant as it otherwise would be. Such a dressing as this is sufficient for some fine kid shoes, but others may need a coat of polish. If the polish is put on af ar a coat of vaseline it not liable to crack the leather and it lasts much learner. Eabher overshops much longer. Rubber overshoes, es-pecially, look much better and last

Busy wives who use SAPOLIO never seem to grow old. Try a cake... A complete wreck of domestic happiness has often resulted from badly washed dishes, from an unclean kitchen, or from trifles which seemed light as air. But by these things a man often judges of his wife's devotion to her family, and charges her with general neglect when he finds her careless in these particulars. Many a home owes a large part of its thrifty neatness and its consequent happiness to better profit. Send back such articles, and insist on having just what
