EDITORIAL PARAGRAPHS.

If the World's Fair is to be run in the interest of the Republican party exclusively, it begins to look that way. It is certain to be a colossal failure.

Every Democrat in the House of Representatives should provide himself with a pair of 'Kilgore boots,' and be prepared to use them whenever necessary.

Democrats do not allow themselves to be lulled into a feeling of false security by republicans who pretend that they will make no effort to control the next House, and that they would prefer transferring the responsibility to the democrats.

Why doesn't Speaker Reed station a United States soldier alongside of every democrat's seat in order to compel those gentlemen to remain in the House to help republicans manufacture political capital?

The republicans show their fear of Mr. Cleveland by the persistent regularity with which they start rumors of his falling health.

The action of the republican majority of the House of Representatives in giving the seat of Col. Elliott, of South Carolina, to a negro contestant, is a word of argument, and with out even giving Col. Elliott an opportunity of speaking in his own behalf, is an unprecedented, and a more revolutionary act never took place upon the floor of either branch of Congress.

The republicans who can praise the whole of the monopolistic and the India-rubber constitution, and the tiller of the soil who can support the party that fathers it is sadly indifferent to his own interest.

The manufacturing Shylocks have demanded their stipulated pound of flesh of the republican party, and in daring to refuse them the republican has allowed it to be cut from the most vital part of the man who produces the wealth of the agriculturalist.

Speaker Reed assayed the roll of a "friend" man the other day in Philadelphia. Before he does it again he should obtain a clown's outfit.

The negro voters in the doubtful states must be propitiated; hence the thefts of the seats of two legally elected white members of the House of Representatives.

Beware of Outcasts for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces.

There is a national disgrace that the census of the nation just taken is proved to be grossly inaccurate in many instances and is not directed throughout.

Under the violent sectional partisanship that now rules in the White House and in the popular branches of congress, it is not surprising that the census has been most carelessly taken in the South, and there has been a systematic effort to lessen the population of the Southern States; but the incompetency and negligence which made the census next to farcical in the South and there is now very general and reasonable distrust in the accuracy of all the census returns.

So glaring have been the errors in the census returns that a number of Northern cities have formally protested and, in some instances, have forced an enumeration of the population; and when the census returns as to what faith can be given to the commercial, industrial, financial and other important census statistics?

The fundamental mistake of the administration was in choosing as head of the census bureau one who had no claim whatever to the position beyond his alleged party services.

It is a reproach to the nation that our census returns are a failure, but it is the old, old story of prostituting the great practical work of the Republic to unimportant placemen.
