HARD WORDS FOR THE TARIFF.

The Famous Ohio Congressman Praised Personally, but Denounced Politically

Democratic Vote-Gov. Hill's Reception. CANTON, O., Oct. 29.-Governor Hill, accompanied by J. S. Ewan and G. W. Blake, arrived here shortly after 6 o'clock last evening and were at once driven to the residence of Prosecutor Welty, where a reception was held in the governor's honor. The meeting the governor was to address was set for 8 o'clock and the hall was filled to its utmost capacity long before that time. Governor Hill did not reach the hall till about 9 o'clock, when the pent up enthusiasm of the crowd broke out in a tremenduous round of applause. Mr. Welty acted as chairman and introduced Governor Hill as one of the most distinguished men in the country and the future presi-

Governor Hill's Speech. In his address Governor Hill prefaced his remarks by dwelling on the elections bill: the admission of the new states and called the McKinley an infamous tariff Barring the free list every article on which tariff reduced in that bill retained a sufficient duty to equalize wages. Demo-crats insist that little or no tariff should be placed on recessities or raw material for manufacture. He said it was hoped to popularize the McKinley bill by benefit-ing all a little, but government should have little to do with business interests. have little to do with business interests.

McKinley was the strongest protectionist ever in congress. No monopolist ever applied to him in vain. No wages had been raised since the bill passed, and the prices of necessities had risen. He acknowledged that merchants were taking advantage of the bill, but charged that the bill furnished the opportunity. He denounced the bill as framed in the interest of monopoly and to the injury all other classes.

unseating of Democratic representatives from the south; the admission of Wyoming and Idaho and the rejection of New Mexico, alleging that the latter was equal to both the former, and charging it all to partisanship. He said congress had been in session for months without rules. Smarker Reed promising to act according Speaker Reed, promising to act according to established parliamentary law, had re-fused to recognize Democratis desiring to speak and ignored the rights of the minor-ity. He spoks of the elections bill in the most bitter language, saying it surpassed the tariff and all other issues as the great question of the hour, and appealing to the people to resent it.

A High Tribute to Mr. McKinle Speaking locally, he eulogized Mr. War-wick and paid a high tribute to Mr. Mc-Kinley, crediting him with ability, integ-rity and intellect personally, but denoun-ing him politically as a bitter partisan, unworthy of a single complimentary vote from Democrats, whom he long misrepre-gented in congress. He said no ruling of Speaker Reed's was so outrageous or par-tisan but that had McKinley's indoracment, or at least he had not the courage to

In defense of his administration he points to the decreased tax levy, the increased opening of streets, the improved pavements, the many new docks built (the latter insuring the retention of commerce that might have gone elsewhere), the work on new school buildings and the culting of overhead wires and placing them underground. He points with pride to the police and fire departments, and to the Fusion party he replies that the running of the city by a political party has proved a success.

In Henor of Father Matthew.

PHILADRI,PHIA, Oct. 22.—Under the auapices of the local branch of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Father Matthew, the apostle of temperance, was celebrated in the Academy of Music last night. ALBANY, Oct 23.—Miss Clara Campbell, the fair plaintiff in the famous "Baby Bunting" breach of promise case, listened with interest yesterday to the arguments before the court of appeals on the appeal of Charles Arbuckie from the judgment of $15,000 damages rendered for plaintiff by the courts below, and the arguments were largely a review of the amatory testimony taken in previous trials and an elaboration by the defundant's counsel of the exceptions there taken.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this leathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood musicars. The scenes was basic blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous,

We Challenge Comparison with Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was incined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparills, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced

BROOKLYN, Oct. 21.—The celebration of the golden jubilee, commemorating fifty years' services of Hishop Loughlin, was brought to a fitting conclusion last night by a banquet tendered by the laity and served in the assembly rooms of the Academy of Music. James McMahon, the chairman of the jubilee committee, presided. At his right sat the bishop and Mayor Chapin. On his left were Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Corrigan. Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, Bishop Keane, of the Washington university, and other digni-Washington university, and other digni-taries of the church were present. Cardinal Gibbons responded to the toast "His Holi-ness Leo XIII," Bishop Loughlin to "Our Guest," Bishop Keane to "The United States," Archbishop Corrigan to "The Catbolic Church of America" and Mayor Chapin to "The City of Brooklyn."

Over 22,000 Children Paraded. New Your, Oct. 20.—A parade of Catholic Sunday school children took place in Brooklyn Sunday in honor of Bishop Loughlin. Over 23,000 children turned out and marched past the Episcopal residence, where they were reviewed by the bishop, Cardinal Gibbons, the visiting bishops and clergy, and many prominent citizens. There were no bands of music, but the children sang hymns as they passed the bishop. J., Oct. 32.—A big strike has been inaugurated among the slik dyers and their helpers employed in the Wiedman Silk Dyeing company's works of this city, the largest establishment of its kind in America, due to the discharge of three of the dyers for trying to form a union among the men. Three hundred are employed in the works at Riverside, and of this number only forty remained at work. A few days ago it was discovered by Jacob Weidman, president of the company, that there was a movement on foot among some of the men to form a labor union. Monday Mr. Weidman discovered the orig-inators of the scheme and discharged them. The other workmen resolved to stand by the discharged employes, and made a de-mand that they be reinstated. This was refused, and Mr. Weidman told the men delegated to approach him that his works shall never be dominated by a labor union. PORT HURON, Mich., Oct. 21.—The propeller Annie Young was burned and sunk about ten miles north of here Monday and nine lives were lost. The following is a list of the dead men as obtained from Capt.

In the Clouds.

Professor Moller, of Carisruhe, has made some interesting observations on clouds. The highest clouds, cirrus and cirro-stratus, rise on an average to a height of nearly 30,000 feet. The mid-dle clouds keep at from 10,000 feet to 23,000 feet in height, while the lower clouds reach to between 3,000 feet and 7,000 feet. The cumulus clouds float with their lower surface at a height o with their lower surface at a neight of from 4,000 to 5,000 feet, while their aummits rise to 16,000 feet. The tops of the Alps are often hidden by clouds of the third class, but the bottoms of the clouds of the second class, and espe cially of the thunder clouds, often enfold them.

The vertical dimension of a cloud ob-served by Professor Moller on the Netleberg was over 1,200 feet. He stepped out of it at a height of about 2,700 feet and high above the mountain floated clends of the middle class, while veils of mist lay in the ravines and clefts. The upper clouds were growing thicker, while the lower ones were dissolving, and soon it began to rain and snow. Public Opinion.
