Two Ships Sunk at Sea in Seven Minutes. SIXTY-EIGHT DROWNED. Dreadful Collision and Death Struggle in the Dark.

Many Lives Lost by the Sudden Sinking of the Steamship Viscaya and the Unknown Stories of the New Jersey Coast-Graphic Stories of the Collision and Their Subsequent Fight for Life Told by a Handful of the Viscaya's Crew—Her Passengers All Drowned, and but Twelve Out of the Crew of Seventy-seven Reached Shore Alive—The Fate of the Schooner's Crew Still Shrouded in Mystery.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Six miles off Barnegat, on the Jersey coast, on Thursday evening the steamship Viscaya on her way from New York to Havana, ran by the light of the moon shining brightly; the sea smooth. The hour was half past eight. Seven minutes later both vessels were at the bottom of the sea, and with them sank sixty-eight of the passengers and crew. In those seven minutes a collision and death struggle with the waves had taken place, a scene had occurred which even the most graphic pen could not describe.

Frank Strank, an ex-police man, who was dismissed from the New York force a short time ago, and Sidney Syrah, a probationary policeman, were arrested on the night of the sinking of the yacht Tyrant.

John Scatchard, the well known furrier, has sold his share in the famous pacer, Hal Pointer, to Harry H. Hamlin, of Buffalo, N. Y., terms private. The horse is now owned by Mr. Hamlin and George Porter, of Buffalo.

Miss Sarah McMillan, aged 19 years, of the little village of Akron, O., one of the children was killed and the other two were injured in the collision of the Johnstown Flood, and that is all that is known of the fate of the children.

Drilling a volunteer choir is the most expeditious way of getting a choir together. It is morally certain that at least half a dozen members think they know more than the leader, and two-thirds of the members will be better informed than the man who wrote the music, so they offer, with cheerful alacrity, the most idiotic suggestions as to the manner in which it should be performed, and few remarks are made without being acted on.

Indigestion. It is not a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the food to become depraved and the system enfeebled, it is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:

THE FUGITIVES ARRIVE. Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien Reach America in Safety. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Mr. William O'Brien, M. P., and his wife, Mr. John Dillon, M. P., D. Sullivan, M. P., and his wife and Timothy Harrington arrived here Sunday on the steamer La Champagne. A Fatal Snatchup on the D. & W. STRAUCER, N. Y. The Philadelphia and Western Railroad, while descending the steep grade near Lockport, on the morning of the 26th evening crashed into a coal train standing on a switch and waiting for the track to be cleared for the passenger train. The collision resulted in the death of the engineer of the passenger train, and the injury of several passengers.
