JACKSON'S DAY.

A GREAT BANQUET OF THE DEMOCRATS.

A Brilliant Event in Philadelphia Which Attracted the Shining Lights of the Party From all Sections of the Union

The Jackson day celebration of the Democracy in Philadelphia on January 8th was one of the most brilliant political demonstrations ever witnessed in that city. Ex-President Cleveland was the central figure, and he was tendered a great ovation. Many distinguished Democratic leaders sat at the tables, including Governors, ex-Governors, Senators, Congressmen and other high officials. Letters of regret were read from many others.

Following was the arrangement of toasts:

"The memory of Jackson," drank in silence; "The principles of the true Democracy—they are enduring because they are right and invincible because they are just," ex-President Grover Cleveland; "The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—her honor is safe in the virtue, intelligence and independence of her people," Gov. Elect Robert E. Pattison; "The Federal Government—its prosperity depends upon constitutional limitation," ex-Secretary of State Thomas F. Bayard; "The new south—in her material and political development are the elements of a successful future," Congressman W. C. H. Breckenridge, of Kentucky; "New England—her history is a record of hostility to unjust taxation," Hon. John P. Russell, of Massachusetts; "The Young Democracy—the hope and reliance of the Republic," Counsellor Joseph P. McCullen, of Philadelphia.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland was the guest of the evening, and the enthusiasm evoked by his appearance was unprecedented. The banquet began at 7 o'clock, and covers were laid for over 600 diners. Prominent Democrats from all parts of the State and country occupied seats at the table. Previous to his appearance at the Academy Cleveland held a reception at the rooms of the Young Men's Democratic Association, lasting from 2 o'clock until 5, and the locality was jammed with people during the three hours that the reception lasted.

THE SCENE WHEN GROVER ENTERED.

The scene which greeted Cleveland upon entering the Academy of Music was brilliant in the extreme. The decorations were profuse and flowers and plants abounded. Around the balconies were festoons of flowers, the names of the states of the Union being prominently displayed. Ten thousand dollars are said to have been expended by the association in the preparation for the banquet, and the scene presented when all were seated at the tables has probably never been excelled. Mr. Cleveland occupied the seat of honor, ex-Secretary of State Bayard being on his right and Governor-elect Pattison occupying the seat at his left.

At the conclusion of the banquet proper the balconies of the Academy, holding about 2,000, were opened for the admission of the public, and were soon filled with a brilliant gathering, mostly ladies in evening dress. Prominent among the guests was Mrs. Cleveland, who occupied what is known as the "Mrs. Cleveland Box." She was accompanied by a number of ladies. Her entrance was greeted with applause, which was redoubled when she kissed her hand to her distinguished husband, who sat almost opposite her.

It was near 10 o'clock when Samuel Gustine Thompson, President of the association, delivered the opening address. When Mr. Cleveland rose to his feet to respond to his toast the scene was simply indescribable. The diners and those assembled in the galleries cheered repeatedly and waved napkins and handkerchiefs. The speaker remained several minutes on his feet before he was permitted to proceed. Cheers followed almost every word of his speech.

Governor-elect Pattison's speech was received with much applause.

Ex-Secretary of State Bayard responded to the toast: "The Federal Government—its perpetuity depends upon constitutional limitations." He delivered no set speech, and his short address was mainly eulogistic of the Cleveland administration. His opening sentence to the effect that he was a believer in the gospel of creation evoked much laughter, but his next remark to the effect that he stood ever ready to assist Grover Cleveland in the gospel of work for the benefit of the American people brought forth hearty applause, as did also a reference to Cleveland's second administration. He agreed with Edmund Burke that the man who believes that he has no law but his own will soon find that he has no profit but his own, and much applause followed Mr. Bayard's declaration that the rules of Speaker Reed in the House and the proposed gag law in the Senate are without warrant in the constitution.

Congressman Breckenridge, of Kentucky, in responding to "The New South," created much enthusiasm by a speech eulogistic of the South. John E. Russel, of Massachusetts, responded to "New England." The speech making was brought to a close at midnight by Joseph P. McCullen, of Philadelphia, whose theme was, "The Young Democracy the Hope and Reliance of the Republic."

Shenandoah's great republican organization, the Don Cameron Club, has been added to the rapidly-swelling list of political organizations that have gone up like flue. The leading members of the club were Major J. F. Finney, Postmaster H. C. Boyer, Jeff Yost, Archie Lamb, Leo Bamberger and Squire T. T. Williams. The club had quite a good sized membership, but there was no money in the treasury and the members foresaw that a crisis was imminent. To add to the troubles of the organization Isaac Robb, owner of the building in which the club's rooms were located, presented a bill of $165 for rent. The club was unable to pay, and to prevent the attachment of their furniture, pretty pictures and bric-a-brac, they removed and secreted them so carefully that no trace has been discovered of it.—Times.

ANDREW H. DILL DEAD.

Andrew H. Dill, United States Marshal for the eastern district of Pennsylvania, died on Sunday morning in Philadelphia. He had been ill for several months. The funeral occurred at Lewisburg on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Dill was a prominent democrat, and served in both houses of the state legislature, and in 1878 was the democratic candidate for governor. He was fifty four years of age.

At the election of officers of the Philadelphia & Reading R. R. Co. in Philadelphia last Monday, the following were elected: President, A. A. McLeod, Managers, A. J. Antelo, Thomas Cochran, George de B. Keim, Henry C. Gibson, Thomas Dolan, James Boyd; Treasurer, W. A. Church, Secretary, W. B. Taylor. The meeting was presided over by Hon. S. P. Wolverton.

SONGS AND POEMS, BY JOHN SUTTON

The above is the title of a very neat little volume recently published by John Sutton of Stillwater, this county. It contains a good portrait of the author, and the dedication is as follows: "To his Honor E. R. Ikelser, President Judge of the Twenty-sixth Judicial District of Pennsylvania, composed of Columbia and Montour counties, for many favors given, for many encouraging words spoken when greatly needed and for his uniform courtesies and kindness in this little volume dedicated by the author."

The preface states that "the poems were written during the course of many years as circumstances called them up, and were published in the local papers without the most distant idea of their ever appearing in any other form. But through the suggestions and solicitation of many friends I have reluctantly consented to give them to the public in book form. Aware of their many imperfect ones as poetical compositions, yet many of them being expressions of my own sentiments and emotions, and of others with whom I have sympathized in their joys and sorrows, and founded too as many of them are, on local incidents which will be readily recognized, I flatter myself that the local reader, at least, will find something in them to interest him, and remind him of one who has long lived among the people of this section of the country, and been somewhat identified with the local events of half a century."

One thing is certain, that if they give the reader as much pleasure as they have the writer, he will not begrudge the small price asked for the book."

Many of the poems are very pretty, and the book is worthy of a place in any library. It sells for the small price of one dollar, and will be sent by the author John Sutton, Stillwater, Pa. post paid on receipt of price, or it can be obtained of J. Wesley Moyer, who has taken the agency for Bloomsburg.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of the COLUMBIAN will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. 1-9-41.

County auditors, Mess. Robbins, Nuss and Deemer finished their work on Wednesday. They have gone over the books very carefully and find everything in proper shape. The statement will be printed next month.

Maj.-Gen. B. F. Butler.

HE WILL RETURN TO THE SOUTH FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE THE WAR.

It seems hardly necessary to say anything of the history of Gen. B. F. Butler. No man in the whole nation has been more constantly in the public eye for the last four decades than he. As a successful lawyer and influential politician before the war, as a patriot who was among the first to respond to the country's call at the firing upon Fort Sumter, as the man who gave New Orleans the best government the city ever had, as Commander of the Army of the James, as a Representative in Congress and a leading politician since the war, he has had public attention constantly focused upon him. No man in the country has received more praise and more abuse than he, and no man has more warm, personal friends and admirers. Many of the people of the South have been particularly bitter against him, and have tried to make his name the synonym for all that was detestable. He is now about to return good for evil, and heap coals of fire upon the heads of his detractors by a great enterprise to help restore prosperity to the region which suffered so severely from the ravages of the war. He is at the head of the great Georgia-Alabama Investment and Development Co., whose advertisement appears elsewhere in this paper, which is made up of capitalists whom he has associated with himself in a scheme to rebuild and develop large portions of Dixie. Early next month he intends to make a tour of the South, visiting that section for the first time since the close of the war—twenty-six years ago. He will go to New Orleans, and to all other prominent points, and survey the fields of operations of this company carefully, to inform himself personally as to the possibilities of each locality. There is something phenomenal in such a tour by a general whose first visit was sword in hand, but who now goes as a restorer. It will be watched with great interest by all sections of the country.—National Tribune, Washington, D. C. 1-16-4w.

Cancerous Eczema.

For many years I have been sorely afflicted with Eczema on my face. The eruption was in large spots, and Cancerous nature. I had treatment from a number of experienced physicians, with little or no benefit, and only of a temporary nature. After other treatments had failed I bought seven bottles of S. S. S. from Messrs. Tenable & Holland, of Troy, Ala., and it cured me. I feel like a new man. my painful troubles and apprehension is all gone, and now at sixty years of age I am once more restored to health, and it is due entirely to S. S. S. W. H. BROOKE & CO.

This is the time of the year when we go over our wall paper stock. The work has begun already. In every cleaning up of this kind we discover remnants that were overlooked hitherto. They are all first-class goods, and must go to make room for Spring stock. The only thing you need concern yourself about is, will the room fit the paper. Our announcement last year brought purchasers more than we could supply; but then there is the regular stock to fall back on, always fresh and clean and new. Our wall paper business is one of the growing departments of our trade. We are anxious for your trade. We will be glad to furnish estimates and guarantee work first-class.
