

The Columbian.

VOL 26.

BLOOMSBURG PA., FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1891.

NO. 23

Hughesville will have a celebration on July 4th.

On Decoration Day F. M. Everett caught a trout in the Irondale dam that measured 11½ inches.

Rev. P. A. Heilman pastor of the Lutheran church moved into the new Parsonage Wednesday.

A handsome new standing desk was placed in the Farmers' National Bank on Monday morning.

Geo. H. Little, a brother of E. H. Little Esq. died at his home in Towanda last week, and was buried on Friday.

"Cradle Songs of Many Nations" will be given in Miss Armstrong's school room on Thursday evening June 25th.

Cummings & Verdy have purchased a "Boss" Peanut roaster. It is automatic, and roasts the peanuts and keeps them warm afterwards. It is a handy machine.

The members of the Evangelical church, will hold a Strawberry and Ice Cream festival in Evans Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 12 and 13.

Rev. J. N. Lenker of Denver Colo. Western Secretary of the Board of church extension of the Lutheran Church will preach in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning.

Dr. Lyons, the promising young physician who occupies Dr. Swisher's late residence at Jerseytown, was in town on Monday, and made arrangements to be at Ely's drug store at this place on Thursday and Friday of each week.—Millville Tablet.

J. H. Artope, a student at Yale Seminary, New Haven, has taken charge of the A. M. E. Church for the summer. He also has charge of the church at Danville. He has met with a warm reception here, and feels much encouraged. The public is invited to attend his services at any time.

W. O. Holmes, who bought B. F. Savits out last week, is by no means a novice in the plumbing business. He had many years experience with the firm of Rollins and Holmes, and later Holmes and Schuyler. He remains at the old stand, under the Opera House.

The ladies of St. Columba's church are busy preparing for their grand festival to be held in Music Hall next Friday and Saturday evening, June 5th and 6th. This will be the last festival held at that popular place, as the building will be removed next week to make room for improvements.

The Annual meeting of the Susquehanna Synod of the Lutheran church will convene in South Williamsport next Tuesday evening and remain in session about one week. A delegate will be elected on Friday evening to accompany Rev. Heilman as representative of St. Mathew's Evangelical Lutheran church of this place.

H. G. Eshleman and one of his shop hands, caught twenty-five pounds of fish out at the Irondale dam on Friday night and Saturday. The eels and catfish were caught on an outline. Mr. Eshleman hooked two trout just below the dam, one of which was 16 inches long, and the other 13 inches. They were beauties.

The law firm of Wintersteen & Beckley has been enlarged, H. A. M'Killip Esq. having been added to the firm on June 1st. Mr M'Killip was but recently admitted to the bar, but he is already coming to the front, and the large practice of the old firm will no doubt be still more increased by the new firm of Wintersteen, Beckley & M'Killip.

R. McHenry & Son of Benton have placed a new delivery wagon on the road, in connection with their celebrated distillery. John Q. Barkley has charge of this branch of the business, and he draws the reins over a pair of handsome iron gray horses with showy brass mounted harness. It is a fine turnout. The product of this distillery has acquired a wide reputation and is guaranteed to be pure.

The wording of our report of the accident to Thomas Arndt last week might, perhaps, give the impression that Drs. Arment and Brown either abandoned the case, or were dismissed after bandaging the broken limb. Such was not the fact. After doing all that was possible, they went to supper, intending to return later. While they were gone Dr. Gardner was called in and on their return, finding the case in his hands, they departed.

ORGAN RECITAL.

The new organ at the Presbyterian church was heard in public for the first time last week Thursday evening, when David D. Wood, organist of St. Stephen's church, Philadelphia, gave a recital. Although entirely blind, Mr. Wood is considered one of the finest organists in the country, and considering his loss of vision he is probably one of the most wonderful organists in the world. About 250 people constituted the audience. The selections were such as displayed the capabilities of the instrument to the best advantage, calling into use the softest tones of the dulciana, the several solo stops, and all the other combinations, up to the full power of the great organ. It is a fine instrument, costing $3,000, and was made by Hook & Hastings of Boston. It has two banks of keys, 23 stops and about 800 pipes. The bellows is worked by a water motor.

The program consisted of the following selections:

Toccata in E. P.	J. S. Bach.
Symphony in C. Minor	Beethoven.
March Flambeau	Meyerbeer.
Macht Stenke	Schumann.
Symphony in E flat	Mozart.
Minuet and Chorus	Handel.
Serenade	Beethoven.
Overture to William Tell	Rossini.

In an artistic view the recital was beyond criticism. As a popular entertainment it was not a success, because the selections were all classical, and none but educated musicians could thoroughly enjoy them. The singing of two selections by Miss Beth Runyon, whose sweet voice charmed all hearers, was highly appreciated.

The acoustic properties of the church were shown to be excellent, as the organ music and the singing could both be heard very distinctly, without the suggestion of an echo.

EAST BENTON.

Last Sunday afternoon a cloud arose in the North from this place and began to thunder, and directly roar, and the wind blew a gale and the rain poured in torrents, and the hail fell thick and fast about the size of cherries. After the storm we thought we would look around a little, and a little east of us we found there had been a terrible hail storm. Wagon loads were washed into piles, and Mr. John Ashelman's fields were torn with gutters and the growing crops apparently destroyed. Daniel Ashelman, John Hoyt and others in the line were great sufferers.

At Cambra it hailed about fifteen minutes, but did not do as much damage as at the places mentioned. The storm seemed local and centered in the Raven Creek valley, and exhausted itself. When the rain was over there was no evidence of the storm passing into any other locality. It is seldom that we see such waterfalls descending from the clouds.

The farmers can console themselves that the Legislature has adjourned "sine die". It were better it never convened than forever to ignore their claims. If Treasurer Boyer knows better what is best for the farmers, those supporting the Boyer bill must look to him for future support.

BASE BALL.

An interesting game of base ball was played at Athletic Park on Decoration Day between the Hazleton and the Bloomsburg Y. M. C. A. Clubs. The game was called at 4 o'clock with the Hazleton club at the bat and ran along smoothly with Bloomsburg leading in the run getting until the ending of the fifth inning, when the Captains of the two clubs decided to play an other inning and then call the game, so that the Hazleton boys could make the up train on the N. & W. B. R. R., but during the following inning the Hazleton club assisted by Bloomsburg's costly errors, succeeded in piling up seven runs and tying the score. The Hazleton then declared their intention of staying here and playing the rest of the game, and a slight argument arose over this sudden change of things but was finally settled and the game finished, Bloomsburg winning by the score of 12 to 10.

Our railroad accommodations are now as good as any one can desire. The completion of the road to Orangeville opens a new route, and the new schedule is so arranged as to give good satisfaction. The train that leaves Millville at 6:05 a. m. makes connection with the D. L. & W. at Bloomsburg for points to and beyond Scranton. Returning, passengers can leave Bloomsburg at 2 o'clock and reach Millville at 3:40, or they can leave Bloomsburg at 6:40 and arrive at Millville at 8:18, thus having a whole day in Bloomsburg. The fare to Bloomsburg and return on Saturday is but 80 cents. Westward trains make close connections at Watsonstown with trains both east and west.—Millville Tablet.

A VERY CHARMING WEDDING.

One of the prettiest weddings that Bloomsburg has witnessed for many years was that of Miss Annie Miller, daughter of Mr. C. W. Miller, of Bloomsburg to Mr. E. E. Melick of Woodbridge, N. J., which took place Wednesday in the new First Presbyterian Church at 12 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. J. Waller, assisted by Rev. I. M. Patterson and by the Rev. J. M. McNulty of Woodbridge.

This was the first wedding in the new church and the numerous friends of Miss Miller and Mr. Melick tested it to its full capacity. The bride's sister, Miss Vida Miller, was maid of honor and was most beautifully arrayed in a crepe de chine trimmed with cheffon and Mr. Melick's brother, Mr. Willard P. Melick was the best man.

The bride's maids were Miss Clara Melick of Woodbridge, sister of the groom, Miss Sara Moody and Miss Jessie Mann of Sunbury, Miss Margaret Stiles of Bloomsburg, who were most becomingly dressed in white silk, demi-train, and each carried a handsome bouquet of roses and wore a gold heart, the gift of the bride.

The ushers with the exception of Mr. Frank Miller and Mr. Frank Purcell were strangers to Bloomsburg, Mr. Edward Ames and Mr. G. A. Campbell being from Woodbridge and Dr. H. B. Ware from Scranton.

One of the most attractive features of this delightful wedding was the beautiful singing of the Lohengrin Wedding Chorus, most beautifully rendered by a quartette of young ladies, Misses Ella Fox, Beth Runyon, Edith Weiss and Lizzie Gruver, accompanied on the grand organ by Miss Maude Runyon, who also rendered very capably on the new organ a number of other appropriate selections, Mendelssohn's grand and inspiring march being that to which the bridal party left the church.

The bride, who is so well known and popular in Bloomsburg appeared at her best most chastely attired in white faille with Medici collar and side panel of Duchess lace and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The presents sent by the many friends were remarkably handsome and numbering as they did over 200, showed the high esteem in which the bride is held.

To give a complete list of those present on this occasion would be an impossible task, many of them being strangers. Among them however may be mentioned Mrs. Anna Melick, mother of the groom, W. P. Melick, Rev. Howard E. Thompson, Mr. & Mrs. B. F. Crispin of Berwick, Mr. & Mrs. S. Stout of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Shuman of Catawissa, Mr. T. D. Simpson of Philadelphia, Miss Mary Vance, Mrs. A. Houtz of Orangeville, Miss Mame Brown, Jay Brown of Lightstreet, Miss Fannie Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Robbins of Wilkesbarre, Miss Irene McClure, Miss Isabel Grier of Danville, Mr. and Mrs. D. McHenry, O. D. McHenry of Stillwater, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Patterson of Orangeville, Mr. and Mrs. Mann and daughter of Sunbury, Ed. Eshleman of Scranton, James D. Sharon, E. T. Barnes of Ithaca, N. Y., Elizabeth Monroe, Lloyd Paxton, Miss Elizabeth Low of Lime Ridge, F. S. Aurant of Jersey City, Dr. W. W. Moody, Sunbury, Bertha Cammoss, Woodbridge.

We had a game of base ball Saturday afternoon between the "Growlers" and "Kickers" of this city.

Mary, aged about seven years, second daughter of E. A. Rawlings met with a peculiar accident last Thursday. She was playing with two other children, when one of them wanted to take Mary away. The other took hold of her and the three in struggling together fell down. In the fall Mr. Rawlings daughter had her shoulder dislocated.

DUY-KESTER.

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Paul's Episcopal church on Thursday evening, 4th inst. when Mr. Albert W. Duy and Miss Pauline Elizabeth Kester were joined together for life. At 8 o'clock the invited guests began to assemble, most of them in full evening dress, and were shown to seats by the ushers, H. M. Rupert, F. A. Ikeler, S. H. Harman and F. T. Ikeler. At 8:30 o'clock the bridal party arrived and entered the church in the following order: Mrs. Kester and Mrs. Schuyler, mother and sister of the bride; Judge and Mrs. Duy, parents of the bridegroom; the ushers; the bride accompanied by Mr. J. R. Schuyler. They were met at the chancel rail by Mr. Duy and his best man, Frank H. Wilson, who entered from the vestry room. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Francis S. Dunham, a life long friend and former pastor of the bridegroom, assisted by Rev. W. C. Leverett, rector of St. Paul's. Prof. I. W. Niles presided at the organ and played some pretty selections and the wedding march.

The bride's dress was of white satin with long train, the usual veil worn over the face during the ceremony, and she carried a white prayer-book with one long-stemmed "Bride" rosebud in it. Her only ornaments were the gifts of the groom, a necklace having a heart shaped pendant with a diamond in the centre, and a cameo bracelet, the latter an heirloom in the groom's family and one which has been worn by the brides in his family for many years past.

The gentlemen of the party were in full evening dress with boutonnieres of Bride buds, pearl colored gloves and silk mull ties. Just before the ceremony Messrs. Fred T. Ikeler, and H. M. Rupert drew ropes of white ribbons from the head of the aisle to the end near the door on either side, and after the bridal party and family passed out, removed them as they went down the aisle.

Mr. Duy and his bride are among the most popular of the young society people of Bloomsburg, as was well attested by the large number of beautiful and costly presents received, though the invitations contained the words "No presents". The good wishes of their hosts of friends attend them as they embark on the matrimonial sea.

Among those in attendance at the wedding were the following: Judge and Mrs. Duy of Indianapolis, Dr. Vallerchamp and wife of Harrisburg, Dr. W. Z. Vallerchamp of New Berlin, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Jacoby and Miss Hull of Wilkes-Barre, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Travis of Philadelphia, C. T. Swengle and wife of Paxtonville, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chalfant of Danville, Mr. and Mrs. Weiss, of Wilkes-Barre, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Freck of Millersburg, Mrs. Dr. Mitchell of Mt. Carmel.

A Peddler Attacked.

HE IS SET UPON BY THREE MEN AND DADLY BEATEN.

Between nine and ten o'clock last week Thursday night Ermin Streffing, an Arab peddler, was attacked by three men on the road leading to Centralia. He was on his way to Ashland, where he intended to seek a night's lodging, and when half a mile from town and at a lonely point in the road two men sprang from the bushes and began beating him in a terrible manner. A third man, wearing mining clothes, appeared on the scene and joined in the assault.

One of them took his box, containing watches, chains and other valuable articles, while the other two continued beating the peddler until he fell insensible in the road. They began pocketing the valuables and before they had finished three workmen came down the road and they took to the woods. Officers are investigating and have hopes of finding the guilty parties.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

Our delightful grounds are now the subject of universal comment, both by the great body of students, by the town folks and by the visiting friends. On Monday morning Mr. Bryfogle, the florist, began setting the beds with plants and he has transformed our lawns into veritable horticulture gardens. Elegant taste has been displayed in the setting and arranging.

Speaking of visiting friends reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. VanHorn of Harboro, near Philadelphia, are spending a few days with their daughter, Miss Ella. Mr. VanHorn is cashier of the First National Bank of Harboro.

Mr. B. Frank Myers of '89, and who has been in Nanticoke the past year is also with us, and we noticed in chapel this morning, Messrs. Howard Bidleman and Orville Yetter, both old graduates. We are always glad to see these friends and hope they will come again.

This week all are unusually busy. Examinations preparatory to the coming of the state committee next week, are now on, and the students, even though more or less anxious about the result of their work, show a very commendable perseverance and self control.

Next Tuesday, June 9, is the time for beginning our examination by the state committee, and there will be presented to that body an unusually large number of students. Our Senior Class numbers eighty-four, while the Junior Class runs up to ninety-two.

In addition to those in our own classes, we have certain knowledge of about forty members of various high schools including Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Shenandoah, Hazleton, Mt. Carmel and Shamokin, who will be here, Friday, June 5, for faculty examination in the hope of being presented to the state committee as candidates for next year's Senior class.

While we cannot yet give a complete summary of the year's work in the line of general progress, yet as we attempt a forecast, judging by the respect, we cannot but say that we have had a most grandly successful year. Along every line of school work we have been favored.

We have had a large attendance of most earnest, faithful students, and there has been no flagrant violation of any regulation to mar the pleasure of our large household.

We have had a great number of visitors to the school, all of whom have gone away completely in love with our every environment and loud in their praises of what they saw while with us.

Invitations have been issued by Prof. and Mrs. Welsh, to all members of the Senior class to a reception to be given them in their parlors on Friday evening June 5. This is a new feature and the Seniors are in high glee over the prospect.

SCHOOL BOARD.

The last meeting of the old school board was held Monday morning, June 1st, when the financial statement was read and offered, and directed to be published in the Republican and Columbian. Immediately after the adjournment the new board organized by the election of the following officers: President, J. K. Bittenbender; Secretary, Jos. Garrison; Treasurer, Wm. Chrisman. Secretary's and Treasurer's salary was fixed same as last year. Motion was made that notice be inserted in all the papers, that teachers would be elected for the ensuing year on Friday June 19th. Applications of experienced teachers only will be considered.

Adjourned to meet Friday June 19.

Mrs. Cora Garrison of Almedia, wife of Arthur Garrison, and mother of two children, after a few days sickness departed this life, Monday morning the 18th of May. Just previous to her sickness she returned from Philadelphia, where she had been visiting her sister who had undergone a surgical operation. Her death, as in many instances, was sudden and unexpected. Her funeral services were held on the 20th, in the Evangelical Church of Almedia, Rev. Whitney preaching the sermon and Rev. Glaze assisting in the services. The funeral was large and the bereft family have the sympathy of many friends and relatives.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, wife of Mr. Levi Thomas, near Mordantville, departed this life the 22nd ult. at the age of 57 years, 5 months and 1 day. The cause of her death was scrofula. She was a sufferer for considerable time. The funeral services were held on the following Sabbath in the Lutheran Church at Mount Pleasant, Rev. A. R. Glaze officiating. The church was over-crowded with friends and relatives of the deceased who sympathized with the bereaved.

Mrs. G. Stuart Kirby of Mauch Chunk, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Kuhn.

OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT.

A BAND OF YOUNG TOUGHS ASSAULT A YOUNG WOMAN AND BEAT HER ESCORT. SEVERAL ARRESTS.

One of the most outrageous cases of felonious assault that has disgraced this community occurred on Saturday night last, and the victim of licentious brutality, Miss Maggie Andy, of Mahoning township, is now lying seriously ill from the effects of the treatment received.

She is an employee at the upper Bennett farm and on Saturday evening visited town with a male employee on the same farm. While here, it is said, her companion became intoxicated, and she was compelled to request the escort of a young gentleman acquaintance of this place on her return home. When the couple had pursued their way some distance along the Reading railroad above the depot, a couple of young toughs approached and attempted to take liberties with the girl. Her escort showed fight, when a gang, until then in hiding, rushed on him, beat him brutally, and stifling the girl's outcries carried her to a neighboring wood.

What followed can better be imagined than described. There were about a dozen young men engaged in the outrage. When they departed the half crazed and seriously injured girl succeeded in making her way to a house not far from the scene, where she was cared for, and where she still remains under a physician's care and in a precarious condition.

Warrants were issued for those known to be present at the outrage, and late on Tuesday night, under the direction of Chief of Police Baker, a raid was made on the district where the accused reside, and several were taken into custody and put in jail. A guard was at once put on outside the jail, as well as extra precautions taken in locking up the accused. But so execrable is the condition of that house of detention that there is a public demand that the prisoners be taken to some more secure place. If the grand jury needed anything further to induce them to report in favor of a new jail this fact ought to be sufficient.

The accused cannot be tried at this term of court. Before the September term arrives the Chief of Police hopes to have others of the gang in custody. If they be proven guilty their sentence will not be a light one, for it is reported that they are a part of the crowd who raised the riot at the White Church festival two summers ago, and who at the time of their sentence for that offense were told that a subsequent conviction before the court for violation of the law would not allow considerations of clemency.—Danville Intelligencer.

Seven of the men engaged in the above outrage, were arrested, and on Monday four of them were brought from Danville to Bloomsburg and placed in the Columbia County jail for safe keeping, by an arrangement with the county commissioners. Two of the seven were admitted to bail in Danville, and another is held as a witness.

Pomona Grange will hold a picnic in Rupert Grove on Saturday, the 6th. The state lecturer, J. T. Ailman, will be present and address it. It will be a basket picnic and everybody is invited.

Thomas McBride, steward at the Bloom Poor House showed us a very peculiar shaped guinea egg. It measured 2½ inches in circumference the narrow way and 4¼ in circumference the long way. It weighed only ¼ of an ounce.

The world's famous Cincinnati Reds, the champion female base ball club of the world will play the Bloomsburg club on Thursday, June 11, at Athletic Park. Game called at 3:30 p. m. Everybody should see this team of ladies play. Ladies are especially invited to attend. General admission 25 cents. Ladies admitted to the grand stand free.
