

PRINCE GEORGE'S STORY.

He Tells How He Saved the Czarevitch's Life.

CHICAGO, June 30.—Prince George of Greece has arrived in Chicago from Omaha. He was accompanied by Captain Lahmer, of the Russian navy, and one servant. The prince is traveling incognito, and registered at the Auditorium as Count Folstor. Referring to the attack in Japan upon the Russian grand duke, the prince said that none of the reports thus far printed were correct.

"We were on one side of the street and a line of police were on the other side. Two officials headed the line, then came the grand duke. I followed, and back of me was the Japanese minister. Suddenly a man stepped past the line of police, raised his sword with both hands above his head, and before any one could interfere he brought it down with all his strength. Fortunately the grand duke, though obliquely in front, saw him and stepped aside in time to save his life, though not a cut.

"The sword's point gashed his scalp from nearly the crown of his head to just over his right eye, and then the saber swung again and once more the grand duke was cut in nearly the same place.

"Then the grand duke ran, the assassin following him. I rushed after them and just as the sword was raised to strike again, I rapped the scoundrel on the head with my stick and brought him to the ground. That was all."

"These reports," said Prince George, "about the disappearance of one of the czarevitch's special messengers at or near Denver are all wrong. I am a very near friend of the Russian prince, and I understand just how he sent dispatches to his father in Russia and what messengers took them. The route across America being the most convenient, is the favorite. Every messenger thus far sent by the prince has reported safe and sound at St. Petersburg. They are not going about advertising the fact that they are bearing dispatches to the czar."

A LOUD ROYAL SMACK.

The Queen's Kiss Was Heard All Over the Chapel.

LONDON, June 30.—Alexandra Victoria Alberta Edwina Louise are the names with which the infant daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Fife was christened. Among those present were the queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princesses Victoria and Maud of Wales, the Duke of Clarence, the Duke and Duchess of Teck and the Duke of Cambridge.

Her majesty and the Queen of Denmark, the infant's great-grandmothers, acted as sponsors, the Princess of Wales being proxy for the mother. The queen handed the child to the Archbishop of Canterbury, giving it a kiss heard all over the chapel.

The Delamater Depositors in Despair.

MEADVILLE, Pa., June 30.—The Delamater bank failure, which occurred nearly seven months ago, now seems forgotten by all except the unfortunate depositors. George Delamater, late Republican candidate for governor, is now at Puget Sound, Wash.; T. A. Delamater, late superintendent of the Meadville and Linesville railroad, is in Chicago; Victor Delamater, ex-cashier of the bank, is preparing to go to Sharon, Pa., and George Delamater, father of the young men, is recuperating at Put-in-Bay. The unfortunate depositors seem to have given up all hope of ever getting anything.

Hallinger's New Lease of Life.

TRENTON, June 30.—Edward A. Hallinger, the colored murderer, sentenced to be hanged today, was denied a writ of habeas corpus in the United States district court. His counsel at once appealed to the supreme court of the United States. This acts as a stay of execution, and the case may not be decided for at least three years. The ground for the application was Judge Knapp's neglect to take testimony to determine Hallinger's guilt after he pleaded guilty; and also that Hallinger is a British subject, and under existing treaties entitled to a trial.

Dunwoody Succeeds Greely.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—By direction of the president and at the request of Secretary Rusk the following officers have been assigned to duty with the weather bureau: Major Henry H. C. Dunwoody, signal corps; First Lieutenant William A. Glassford and First Lieutenant Joseph E. Maxwell, signal corps; Second Lieutenant John P. Finley, Nineteenth infantry. The transfer of Major Dunwoody, it is thought, will give him charge of the weather bureau, as Chief Signal Officer Greely's assignment to the bureau was not requested.

Gladstone Getting Stronger.

LONDON, June 30.—Mr. Gladstone is getting stronger already under the influence of sunshine and sea air, and the color is returning to his cheeks. This, however, does not reassure the Liberals. It is admitted on all hands that Mr. Gladstone improves when he is away from work, but he just as surely goes backward when he attempts to give attention to public business.

The Mermaid Spoken.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., June 30.—The dory Mermaid, Captain Andrews, was spoken June 25 by the schooner Della W. Tarr, of this city, sixty-three miles off Highland light. Captain Andrews reported that he was very tired, having had no sleep for thirty-six hours.

MURDER FOR A WOMAN.

A Well Known Brooklyn Society Man's Awful Crime.

BROOKLYN, June 30.—Young Darwin J. Meserole, a son of General J. V. Meserole, president of the Williamsburg Savings bank, shot and killed Theodore Larbig, a married man, at 378 Sackett street, Brooklyn.

The shooting took place in the flat occupied by Mrs. Dovie F. Comstock, a married woman, who a year ago left a wealthy husband and several children in Providence, R. I.

Larbig was a traveling salesman for the Phillips Insulated Wire company, of Providence. He was forty-three years old, and lived with his wife and two children at 38 Second street, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Comstock is only thirty years old, and is considered a pretty woman. She is stylish and gives every evidence of culture and refinement. She first met Larbig in Providence, and the outcome of the introduction was her leaving there to reside in Brooklyn.

Later she enmeshed young Meserole. The two men were jealous of each other. Larbig and the woman quarreled in the presence of Meserole, and Meserole says he shot Larbig because the latter assaulted Mrs. Comstock and attempted to kill him. The Meserole family have held a place in Brooklyn society almost as prominent as that held by the Astors in New York. They are looked upon as leaders in Brooklyn social life.

THERE WAS NO MURDER.

The "Dolly Davis" Mystery Cleared Away at Last.

NEW YORK, June 29.—"Dolly Davis," the woman who was identified at Vanderbilt's morgue, in Tarrytown, as Marie Eugenie Josephine Arigosei by her sister Marguerette, was the wife of Eugene Duval, a wealthy Frenchman who committed suicide by drowning in 1885. She lived prior to her marriage in the household of Edwin Field, in Tarrytown, for nine years. She left Mr. Field's in 1883 to get married, and returned two years later with a boy baby in her arms. The child died on July 21, 1885, and was buried in the Sleepy Hollow cemetery in Tarrytown.

The funeral services of Mrs. Duval were held yesterday in Vanderbilt's morgue. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict "that Miss Arigosei came to her death by drowning at her own hands." Herding was shown to the dead woman's sister, but she did not know him. The evidence cleared Herding of the suspicion of murder.

BURGLAR AND FIREBUG.

The Desperate Young Criminal Who Robbed the Old Stewart Store.

NEW YORK, June 29.—William H. Conklin is a self confessed firebug and one of the coolest young criminals that Inspector Byrnes has ever encountered. He was, however, no match for the inspector, as is found by the confession that he made yesterday, under which he may be sent to prison for the rest of his natural life.

In addition to robbing E. J. Denning & Co.'s store, one of the old A. T. Stewart stores, in which he was a clerk, of $1,500 worth of jewelry, Conklin kindled a fire in the store which might have caused a loss of several hundred thousand dollars.

So carefully were his plans laid that he would in all probability have escaped detection had he not got drunk the night of the crime and made a few indiscreet remarks to a barkeeper which in time reached the ears of Inspector Byrnes.

Chauncey Will Not Run.

NEW YORK, June 30.—When the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew sails for Europe tomorrow he virtually lays down the Republican nomination for governor of New York, with all the splendid possibilities opening from it into national politics if he should be elected. Mr. Depew fully understands that his departure at this time is a virtual refusal to allow the use of his name in the state convention. When he was asked by a reporter as to the truth of a report that he had declared to a friend that he could not accept a nomination for governor this year, Mr. Depew did not deny it. His decision is based on business and personal reasons, which he could not discuss with the public. "I shall go to Europe on Wednesday," was all that he would say further.

The Connecticut Senate Meets.

HARTFORD, June 30.—The senate met yesterday and adjourned until the first Monday in September. E. K. Hubbard was appointed a trustee of the Connecticut hospital for the insane at Middletown to fill the place of the late Dr. Alsop. Senators Fox, Holden and Shumway were appointed a committee to draw up resolutions on the death of Dr. Alsop. The day was given up to considering the report of the committee on resolutions on the death of Dr. Alsop.

Testing His Rain Machine.

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 30.—Frank Melbourne, the Australian inventor of a rain machine, which he claimed caused frequent heavy rainstorms in Canton, O., last month, has arranged for a public test next Tuesday. He will, he says, cause rain to fall over 70,000 square miles. The government authorities have invited the inventor to Kansas to experiment.

Has Flack Married Again?

NEW YORK, June 30.—Those who ought to know what they are talking about are confident that ex-Sheriff Flack has married again, and, what is more, they say that the second Mrs. Flack is none other than Mrs. Carrie Raymond, who played such an important role in the famous divorce suit of a year ago.

A Home for Poor Hebrews.

HARTFORD, June 30.—A deed has been recorded in Marlboro, in this county, transferring to the Baron de Hirsch fund a tract of land near the Marlboro mills, on which buildings are to be erected to be occupied by beneficiaries of the Hirsch charity. The Marlboro place will be colonized with poor Hebrews shortly.

Why Bismarck Resigned.

LONDON, June 30.—The Times this morning published an interview its famous correspondent, M. Blowitz, has secured with Count Von Munster, in which the count says that the retirement of Bismarck was determined upon by the late, not the present, kaiser.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Cornelius A. King, the agent of the Hinchcliffe Brewing company of Paterson, N. J., has been arrested on a charge of grand larceny. He is charged with being $25,000 short in his accounts.
