Daniel Hess of Mifflin met with a serious accident last week, Monday while driving a mower, on his farm at Stonytown ferry. He reached over to loosen some grass from the knives, and his foot slipped and he fell from his seat. The knives caught one of his legs and cut him just above the heel, to the bone, severing the cord. Mr. Hess unhitched his team and drove home, and Dr. Hower was called in and dressed the wound. It will probably be several months before Mr. Hess will have the use of his leg.

ATTEMPTED HARI KARI.

Colonel Leybourne's Tragic Act at Rome.

HIS BIG CATHOLIC BANK SCHEME.

Monetary Losses Are Said to Have Caused The Act—He Now Lies in a Precarious State and Cannot Possibly Recover from His Injuries.

ROME, July 29.—Colonel Leybourne, well known in New York in connection with the Catholic banking scheme, attempted suicide here in the Japanese style hari kari, by disemboweling himself with a razor. He now lies in a very precarious state, with little hopes of recovery. Money losses are said to have been the cause of the attempt.

Colonel Leybourne's Career. Colonel George William Cameron Leybourne astonished the world nearly two years ago by exploiting a scheme as daring and as prodigious as any in the annals of financing.

It was nothing less than the organization of an international Catholic bank with headquarters at Rome and subordinate houses at New York, City of Mexico, Caracas, Iquique, Buenos Ayres, Rio Janeiro, Valparaiso, Madrid, Vienna, Paris, London, Bombay and Melbourne. His idea was to unite the strength of Catholic capitalists the world over, and to make the capital stock of this great company a cool $100,000,000.

It Attracted Much Attention. The story of this project was first published in the papers of New York. Leybourne explained all its details and got a great deal of space. The list of names of men who were alleged to be behind the plan was as startling as the plan itself. First of all, it was to have the direct and public sanction of the Vatican. This was said to have been already secured. Great Catholic bankers in London and in Paris were to throw all their energies and all their resources into it. Patrio Kelly, the biggest financier of the City of Mexico, was with the colonel; Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, and his brother-in-law, Eugene Kelly; Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Archbishop Finn, of Chicago, and other prelates were mentioned.

It was announced that ex-Mayor William R. Grace, Henry Hogue, Joseph J. Donohue and other well known Catholic bankers in New York were said to be deeply interested.

A Pretty Story. It was a pretty story and good reading. But no sooner had it been published than denials came in thick and fast. Archbishop Corrigan didn't know Leybourne. Archbishop Ireland never heard of him. Cardinal Sechari cabled from Rome that as secretary of the Index at the Vatican he had seen no reason to put any confidence in Leybourne. Everybody mentioned denied the story in toto.

Little is known of Colonel Leybourne personally in New York. He lived in an exceedingly economical way in a boarding house at 138 East Twenty-sixth street. He had as "agents" George A. Rowe, an engraver, who lived on the top floor of 19 East Twenty-first street, and Rufus W. Leavitt, who lived in Flushing, and had deskroom in the Boreel building.

Leybourne is a Scotchman of herculean proportions and is sixty-two years old. He stands 6 feet 3 1/2 inches high and weighs 240 pounds. He is said to have fought through the Crimean and Franco-Prussian wars. He belonged to the Royal engineers and has the Crimean medal with the words "Alma, Balaklava and Sebastopol" engraved on the clasps. He was badly wounded at Balaklava. He also had the Baltic medal of 1854-1855, and another, the Napoleon, for services at Montebello, Palestro Turbigo, Margenta, Marigan and Solferino. After leaving the army he spent most of his time in Turkey, Persia and Egypt building railroads and following his profession of civil engineer.

Lord Holden Mysteriously Disappears. BOSTON, July 29.—Lord Oscar Holden, of England, accompanied by his sister, registered at the Hotel Thorndike in this city on July 21, and the following day he left for Magnolia to pass a few days. Last Sunday Lord Oscar mysteriously disappeared, and nothing has been heard of him since. His sister says he has been subject to fits of melancholy and at times has acted strangely. Detectives have been employed to find him.

Balmaceda in Search of Ducats. WASHINGTON, July 29.—Representatives of the Chilean insurgents here assert that Vallean and all the Huasco valley are in the hands of the insurgents or constitutional government. Balmaceda, they assert, is without money, and having failed to negotiate recently a loan in Europe has endeavored to secure one in this country, but has failed in this.

Attempts to Release Herr Most. NEW YORK, July 29.—Charles E. Le Barber is retained by some of the friends of John Most to make application before the United States circuit court for the release of Most, on the ground that his arrest was in violation of the provision of the constitution of the United States which guarantees the right of free speech.

Farnell and the O'Shea Costs. LONDON, July 29.—The registrar in the bankruptcy court held that Mr. Farnell's objection to Captain O'Shea's notice to pay the costs in the recent divorce suit, on the ground that he was not a resident in England, is untenable. It is still open to Mr. Farnell to appeal, otherwise he must pay the costs or be declared a bankrupt.

Dixon Whips Willis. SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The prize fight between George Dixon, of Boston, and Abe Willis, of Australia, took place at the gymnasium of the California Athletic club last night for a purse of $5,000 and the bantam weight championship of the world and was won by Dixon.

To Be Double Tracked. DANBURY, Conn., July 29.—It has been decided to double track the Danbury and Norwalk division of the Housatonic railway. Operations will begin this fall. The business of the road has been too heavy for a single track for a year or more.

Unfortunate Elopers. PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—Louisa Boggett, aged sixteen, and William Belcher, twenty-one years old, who eloped from Cleveland Monday night, were arrested here today and will be held until the arrival of officers from Cleveland.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. KINCHELOE,
