Human Instinct.

So powerful is human instinct, that some of its suggestions become embodied in social and house-hold customs. The people know and feel that at the beginning of the spring season the system needs an alternative and a purifying tonic and stimulant. In all parts of the country it is the custom for the housewife to dose her brood with sassafras tea. Among the simple remedies that our ancestors employed, this decoction has continued to hold its own. The demand for a spring alternative and tonic, however, is filled more efficaciously by S. S. S., which is itself as simple as nature's remedial medicine should be. It purifies the human machine to stand the wear and tear of the summer months.

Ghouls Scared Away.
SUNBURY, Aug. 12.—A most daring attempt was made to take from the grave of the body of the late J. B. Packer, but the fortunate appearance of a brakeman spoiled the grave robbers' plans. The brakeman, Frank Meyers, was walking opposite the cemetery at midnight when he heard a noise as of some one digging. With several men, whom he summoned, Meyers entered. As the party advanced toward the grave several masked robbers dropped their picks and shovels and fled. Several feet of earth were found to be excavated. It is supposed the grave robbers intended to secure the body and hold it for ransom. Guards were stationed at the grave of the ex-congressman and millionaire until about a week ago, when they were removed. They have again been placed at the grave.

The Talk Drove Him to Suicide.
SCRANTON, Aug. 14.—Dr. Arthur Jones killed himself at his home here, by shooting three bullets into his left breast. He had grown melancholy and despondent over the talk of neighbors connecting him with the death of his wife several weeks ago, the charge being made that while she was confined he came home drunk and dragged her down stairs by the hair, the injuries she received resulting in her death. He denied these charges, but the neighbors persisted in them, and he hid himself until the funeral was over to avoid meeting some of the women who threatened him harm. The talk did not cease, however, and he finally said he would take his own life. He came here six years ago, after graduating at Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia.

A Fatal Lightning Flash.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Catherine Condy, of Thirty-first and Race streets, was killed by lightning while closing a window in her house.

Brutal Murder in Philadelphia.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—Job Haas, a coal dealer, corner of Gorgas lane and the Philadelphia and Reading railway, was murdered at his desk. His head was crushed in. The murder is supposed to have been done by a colored man who was seen about the place. The furniture of the office was upset and broken and the walls and floor were splattered with blood, and there was every indication that Haas' murderer had had a fearful tussle before he had accomplished his purpose. From the appearance of the body it is thought that Haas' slayer had struck him on the head with a heavy club and stunned him. Then he finished him with a hatchet. Both weapons were found on the floor near by.

The Aged Wooser Came Not.
BEDFORD, Aug. 15.—Quite recently a young woman of Bedford township, aged twenty, and a doubly widowed grandfather met. The result was apparently a case of love at first sight on both sides. Yesterday was the day set for the wedding. The minister was on hand at the appointed time. The bride to be appeared dressed for the occasion. The minutes began to drag. No groom appeared. The company began to grow nervous. Finally it was suggested by some hungry one that dinner be eaten, which was agreed to. The bride very sensibly accepted the situation and proceeded to enjoy the feast. The recalcitrant groom has so far not been heard from. The parties are well known. A breach of promise suit will follow.

He is serving a term for burglary. Last evening he was observed to act suspiciously and to try a key covertly in the door of his cell and in the outer doors. He was quietly seized and promptly searched when it was found that he had exact and perfectly fitting duplicates of the jail keys and was planning a wholesale delivery that very night. The keys had evidently been made from a wax impression and sent in from pals on the outside.

LEBANON, Aug. 18.—The 12-inch trails of the Lebanon iron works and the Lebanon rolling mills has again commenced running. The sheet mill, forge and washer plant are running with full force. Eight of the sixteen puddling furnaces at the Pennsylvania bolt and nut works are also fully manned.

PIZZARO'S REMAINS REMOVED.

IN A REMARKABLE STATE OF PRESERVATION AFTER BEING BURIED 350 YEARS.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 10.—Elaborate accounts have been made public of the removal of the remains of Francisco Pizarro, who led the conquest of Peru, from a vault under the altar of the cathedral at Lima to the chapel of the viceroys in the same building. The remains were subjected to a careful examination and the body was found to be admirably preserved although it is 350 years since Pizarro died. The two hands and all the toes with the exception of two are missing; but this is evidently due to speculations by visitors to the cathedral, which were facilitated by the body having been kept in an open coffin. All the signs of wounds received by Pizarro during his lifetime are distinctly visible. The body is one metre and seventy-five centimeters in length. The doctors in charge of the body are of the opinion that at the time of his death Pizarro was at least seventy years of age.

The Nacion of Lima, commenting upon the state in which the remains were discovered, after referring to the fact of their having been found in an open coffin, says it is well known that Pizarro was buried in complete armor and wonders how the authorities can consent to receive the remains in their present condition.

The Diario, of Lima, explaining the absence of the armor, says, that it was taken out of the coffin and put on exhibition in the museum formerly existing in the headquarters of the artillery of Santa Catalia and was stolen by the Chilians when they entered Lima.

On the other hand, Ricardo Palma, in the Comercio declares that Pizarro was buried without his armor, his assassins not giving him time to put it on. Palma adds that the remains were given sepulchre in great haste, in order to prevent the body being dragged through the streets. The ceremony of transferring the remains to the chapel of the viceroys was very impressive. The big cathedral was filled with visitors, and speeches were made by Senor Manuel A. Fuentes, Mayor Revoredo, the Spanish minister, and Monsignor Tovar.

To prevent this, the best and most popular dressing in the market is Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, heals troublesome humors of the scalp, restores faded and gray hair to its original color, and imparts to it a silky texture and a lasting fragrance. By using this preparation, the poorest head of hair soon and beautiful. All who have once tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, want no other dressing. Galbraith & Starks, Druggists, Sharon Grove, Ky., write: "We believe Ayer's Hair Vigor to be the best preparation of the kind in the market, and sell more of it than of all others. No drug store is complete without a supply of it."

Becomes Luxuriant

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor with great benefit and know several other persons, between 40 and 50 years of age, who have experienced similar good results from the use of this preparation. It restores gray hair to its original color, promotes a new growth, gives lustre to the hair, and cleanses the scalp of dandruff."—Bernardo Ochoa, Madrid, Spain.

After Using

A number of other preparations without any satisfactory result. I find that Ayer's Hair Vigor is causing my hair to grow."—A. J. Osment, General Merchant, Indian Head, N. W. T.
