Infancy to Old Age.

Nothing is more remarkable than the fact that a medicine which is powerful enough to cure the most horrible form of blood poisoning can be given with impunity to a little child that is ailing; and yet this is the record of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) It is a germ destroyer, a purifier, a great remedial agent; it is powerful, and yet harmless; it is a medicine that contains no mineral poisons; all its results are beneficent; it is compounded from nature's own laboratory, and works on nature's lines to cure disease; it restores, revives and reinvigorates the system; it may be used as a tonic by the most delicate women; it may be given to build up the constitution of a little child, or it may be employed to restore to health the unhappy victim of blood poisoning. In each case it will work wonderful results.

Young Men's Christian Association Entertainment Course 1891 and '92.

The association have arranged course of six entertainments for this season and have secured talent that makes it such a literary treat as this town has never before had an opportunity to enjoy. The chief motive of the association is not to make money but to give full value to every purchaser of a ticket as the following program and testimonials will clearly show. The course will be opened on scenic and complete new accessories, Friday evening October 9th, by and have added an extra rapid lens Foster's New York Stars and Mec-

"A superb musical event in this city was the concert at the Opera House last evening under the auspices of the Star entertainment course of Y. M. C. A. The music lovers of this city seldom have the pleasure of witnessing such an excellent display of talent as that of Foster's New York garded in this and adjoining counties, Stars. The audience was exceedingly The Morning Call, Harris burg, Pa."

"The Harpist, Mr. H. Mecklem and the Saxophonist, Miss Bessie Mecklem, form a combination of peculiar interest and are the attraction of concert-goers. They play well, and the two instruments in conjunction are a genuine novelty. Miss Mecklem is a cils, everything needed in schools at pupil of Lefebre, and her father is an W. H. BROOKE & Co. accomplished Harpist. Their selections are of the pupular order, and their success as a new feature in an old field is assured .- Music and Drama.

Friday Evening, Nov. 6th, will be filled by Scott's Recitals.

"Mrs. Scott has an elegant stage presence, refined, high-bred features, and a voice beautifully modulated and of wide range. Mr. Scott is tall and dignified, gifted with a full, deep, round voice, which fills the hall to its fartnest corner, and is magnetic in its quality. Every number of the program was exceedingly fine and renderence was large, and generous with re-

> The Ladies' Schubert Quartette of Feb. 19th.

"The Quartette is composed of grace, beauty, and marvelous voices. Every selection of the program was a musical gem. Encore after encore greeted them, and the program was lengthened from ten to eighteen numbers .-- Boston Transcript.

The course will be closed Friday evening March 25th, by J. Williams Macy of whom the Philadelphia Association says:

Y. M. C. A., Phila. May 29th, 1891, My Dear Mr. Macy:-You must reserve us an evening for the coming season (your seventh consecutive year, I believe, on our Association Course.) I have thought year after year that it would be necessary to lay you aside for a while, but our people never cease to clamor for "Macy." So name a date, and if you have nothing new to give us, burnish up some of your "oft told tales" and come. We can stand them again." Season ticket for this complete course of entertainment, with reserved seat, will cost but two dollars and will be offered to the public in a few days by members of the association and others who have taken an interest in the work. Arrangements will be made with Railroad Companies to enable citizens of surrounding towns to return after each entertainment. Get your tickets early and secure reserved seats for the course.

J. G. Wells' optical exhibit at the fair will be in charge of Mr. W. H. Sears, who is well known.
