TWO BIG PARADES IN NEW YORK.

The Central Labor Union and Central Labor Federation Each Turned Out an Army of Men-Origin of the Day-It May Become a National Holiday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.-Labor Day was celebrated and is still being celebrated in this city today in elaborate style. One parade would be considered quite a demonstration here, but on account of local strife and dissensions there were two parades this morning. Up to last year the trade and labor unions of this city held a united parade. Discord in the ranks of the Central Labor union between the socialists and the Knights of Labor and some of the open trades unions grew to such an extent that the socialists withdrew and formed the Central Labor federation. All efforts to harmonize the trouble failed and 1890 witnessed two labor parades in this city.

The same conditions still exist and therefore two parades. Many old labor leaders regret this, but there seems to be no rem-edy for it, at least for the present. Both the Central Labor union and the Central Labor Federation eclipsed all previous ef-forts and both made fine displays. Each organization claims that it had at least 25,000 men in line.

The Origin of the Day.

The holiday, which is now generally celebrated throughout the United States, originated in the ranks of the Central Labor union. To George K. Lloyd, of the Tin and Sheet Iron Workers' union, and to P. J. McGuiro, general secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, must be given the credit of bringing the matter before the unions for adoption. The general as-sembly of the Knights of Labor was held in this city on the first Tuesday in 1883, and the first parade and picnic took place on that day. It was reviewed by General Master Workman Powderly and others. In 1883 a parade was held on Sept. 5, and in 1884 a commit-tee was appointed to make arrangements for a parade. George K. Lloyd was a member of this committee, and it was he who introduced a resolution at a meeting of the Central Labor union declaring that the first Monday in September be observed each year as Labor Day and requesting all labor unions to observe that day

To Make It a National Holiday.

The resolution went through with a heer, and Boston, Cincinnati, Buffalo and Baltimore celebrated Labor Day in 1884 for the first time. State Senator Rielly introduced a bill in the senate in 1885 making the first Monday in September a legal holi-day. It was amended so as to read the first Monday in May, passed both houses and was signed by the governor. This did not please the unions, so in 1886 the act was changed to make the holiday the first Monday in September.

Other states followed the lead of New York, and now the first Monday in September is a legal holiday in a number of states, and the next move will be to have it made a national holiday.

Powderly in New Jersey.

WASHINGTON, N. J., Sept. 7 .- T. V. Powderly, master workman, and Secretary John W. Hayes, of the Knights of Labor, are booked to speak here today at the Labor Day exercises. Mr. Powderly was asked to speak in several hundred places.

Hartford Tollers March. HARTFORD, Sept. 7 .- The sons of toll of Hartford were out in full force to celebrate Labor Day. The Central Labor union held a big parade and business in the factories and shops was generally suspended.

The Day at Syracuse. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sopt. 7 .- In Syracuse

IN THIS AND NEARBY COUNTIES. Brief Mention of Matters Which Everybody Should Know About-A Week's Accidents and Crimes Accurately and Concisely Chronicled.

LANCASTER, Sept. 2.-John J. Pier-son, of Pittsburg, has been arrested here charged by Andrew J. Cox, of Philadel-phia, with the embezzlement of a large sum of money. He was given into the custody of detectives.

Murderous Fight for a Woman.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.-Austin Reed was killed on a dancing platform, at Ross Cove, by being shot near the heart by Elmer Malone. They fought over a wom-an with whom Reed was dancing, and who Malone claimed as a partner. Joseph Farbacher, who took Reed's part, was dangerously stabbed in the back.

The Circle Runs to Suicide.

BRADFORD, Sept. 3. - Quite a suicide mania has taken possession of the aged members of a local agnostic circle here, which was founded by the late Dr. Stuart, who himself led the way by taking his life. Since then three other members of the circle have tried to kill themselves, and two have succeeded. The last case occurred yesterday, when Elias Heasley, aged sixty-six, took rough on rats and died from its effects. He had pondered upon the life and death theory of Dr. Stuart until he decided to end his life in harmony with his friend's theory and practice.

Knocked the Engineer's Head Off. BETHLEHEM, Sept. 3. - Richard Nash of Philadelphia, engineer on the fast Read-ing express, while on the lookout, was struck by some obstruction, near Oreville station, and his head was severed from the body. The body hung out of the cab window some minutes before the fireman discovered what had occurred.

The Exposition at Pittsburg.

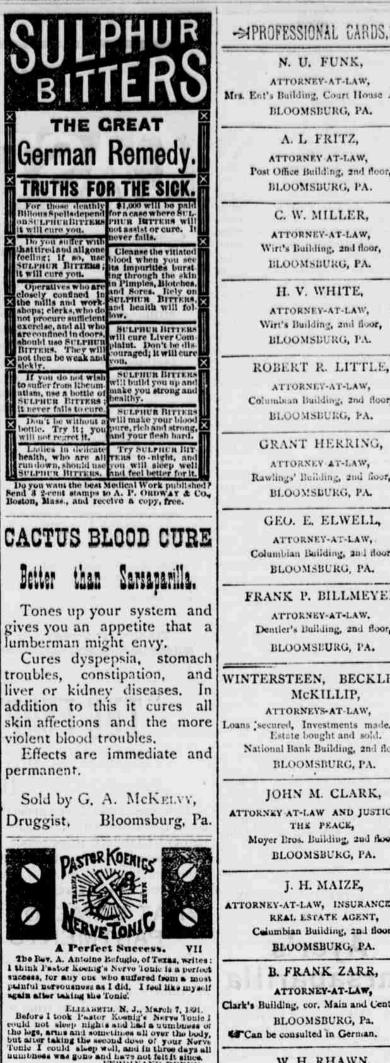

PITTSBURG, Sept. 3. - Promptly at 8 clock last evening the Exposition Society of Western Pennsylvania threw open the toors of its immense buildings for the third annual exhibition. The display will continue forty days and forty nights. Manager Johnston, who has opened twenty-two expositions, says that the prepara-tions eclipse anything which he has ever known. Cappa, with his famous band, is present.

The Penn Bank Litigation Ended. PITTSBURG, Sept. 4.-In 1884 Colonel E. J. Unger and others filed a bill in equity against the directors of the Penn bank, to hold them liable for the loss sustained during the second and last openings of that bank. Judge Ewing sustains the finding of Judge Rice, in which the di-rectors are found not liable but ordered to pay the costs, with exception of Severance and Hare, who are ordered to return the amount of deposits they withdrew after the doors were closed.

Salt Works Destroyed by Fire. PITTSBURG, Sept. 5.-Heck & Co.'s salt works, on Steuben street, were entirely destroyed by fire. The destroyed works, established seventy-five years ago, were probably the oldest in the state. Fireman Dan Hart, of engine company No. 2, was badly burned by falling into a vat of boiling salt water, and several families were driven from their homes by the spread of the flames. The origin of the fire is unknown. The works will be rebuilt at once.

A Thrilling Experience.

LANCASTER, Sept. 5. - While he was attempting to cut an electric wire, Charles Welch, of the Edison company, was transfixed with 600 volts of electricity. He shot downward from the bar on which he sat, but his body was caught on a wire under-neath, from which he hung unconscious in midair. He was rescued and will recover.
