Racing With Wolves.

Many a thrilling tale has been told by travelers of a race with wolves across the frozen steppes of Russia. Sometimes only the picked bones of the helpless traveler are found to tell the tale. In our own country thousands are engaged in a life and-death race against the wolf Consumption. The best weapons with which to fight the foe, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This renowned remedy has cured myriads of cases when all other medicines and doctors had failed. It is the greatest blood-purifier and restorer of strength known to the borough and township officers, within world. For all forms of scrofulous affections (and consumption is one of them), it is unequaled as a remedy.

"Just as Good."

Say some dealers who try to sell a sub stitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine-Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is Peculiar to Itself.

Reviving a Drowned Man.

A man, while fishing, suddenly fell into the water. A fellow-fisherman of benevolent aspect promptly helped him out, laid him on his back, and then beto certificates and papers designed for gan to scratch his head in a puzzled borough and township offices, shall be way. "What's the matter?" asked filed with the auditors and shall be de-cided by a majority of them. All objections as to the validity of certificates to revive drownded persons," said the or papers other than objections as to benevolent man, "and I know em all; form or apparent conformity as here- but I can't call to mind which comes tofore described, shall, in the case of first." At this point the rescued man certificates or papers designed for the opened his eyes and said faintly: "Is State at large, be filed in the court of there anything about giving brandy in common pleas of Dauphin county; the rules?" "Yes." "Then never mind the other fifteen."- London

The Boy Could Discriminate-

"And how old are you, my little man?" said a Detroit gentleman to a youngster he met on a Michigan Central train, the other day.

"Six years old he promptly replied.
"Any brothers or sisters?"

"Yep. a sister." "How old is she?"

"She's 6"

"Then you must be twins." "Course we is. Didn't think we was triplets, did ye?"—Detroit Free Press.

Dr. Tuckerman, editor of The Workman, Cleveland, has taken some pains to collect and compile the decisions of the United States court on this subject, and gives to the Washington Post, as the result of his investigations, the follow-

First—Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.

Second—If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them until all the arrearages are paid.

Third-If subscribers neglect or refuse to

paid.

Third—If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

Fourth—If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are half responsible.

Fifth—The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Sixth—If subscribers paid in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time, if they do not wish to continue taking it otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it, and the subscriber will be responsible until express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused," and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine the same as for theft.

Don't Care What the Newspapers Say. Have you ever met a man who doesn't care a blank what the newspapers may say of him, good, bad or indifferent? If you have met him, and the meeting chances to have been when the paper has made a little severe—if deserved—men-tion of him, you need not be told that he is the maddest man outside of a lunatic asylum. His contempt for newspapers is expressed in vehement maledictions and vows of vengeance on the bead of the editor.

Possibly you have met him when something pleasant has been said of him. He doesn't care for such things, not he; but notwithstanding this indifference you have observed, no doubt, that he reads the lauding paragraph over and over, and andibly wonders how the deuce those newspaper fellows manage to get hold of so many facts, and how they happen to know so much about him. He is pleased all over, and gives so much outward expression to his sate action that no one would ever imagine that he is one of the kind that don't care a continental blank what the newspapers say.

Let Us Hear from You.

If you have a bit of news, don't be afraid to send it to this newspaper. If friends from a distance are in town, let us know it. If you are about to make improvements of any kind, let us hear about it. If a former resident writes to you any news about himself, not of a private nature, it will also interest many others if made known through these columns. If you have a suggestion to make, or see a public evil, or an opportunity to you space to make it known.

But don't send any item to which you would be ashamed to sign your name, Don't try to mix us up in any of your quarrels. Don't send us family affairs or troubles which should not concern outsiders. And don't get angry when of them out entirely. If we were to publish everything which reaches us, we would soon appear in court as defend-ants in a libel suit, so you must let us use our discretion as to what is available and what is not.

Editing by Legislation.

Minnesota editors are greatly exercised over a bill which has passed the state senate. The measure provides that all articles, editorials, items or written accounts printed in any pamphlet, periodical, magazine, newspaper, sheet, circular or handbill which shall therein purport to give an account of or give intelligence of any political, official, personal or social act, writing or speech of any human being, living or dead, reflecting in any way upon such person's character, shall be subscribed by the full name of the person or persons who shall have written or contributed to such publication. The penalty for violation of this law is a fine of not less than twenty dollars or more than $100, or imprisonment for not less than thirty days or more than three months.

A Check Upon Corruption. The typical newspaper of today is far from being perfect, and none knows its deficiency better than those who print it. But when its imperfections have been named and criticised as they should be, the fact remains that it is today the greatest check upon political corruption to be found in the land. Years ago the sleepy organs that dozed while thieves plundered the treasuries might still hope for the public respect, but in this day they fail to serve the first purpose of the progressive journal, and an intelligent public so understands it.—Pottsville Miner's Journal.

The Patient Editor.

When a man takes a cigar out of his mouth to tell an editor to stop his paper because he "can't afford it," the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a great deal. And when he orders his paper stopped because he "hasn't time to read it," and then goes down and whittles a dry goods box for two hours, the editor may not say anything, but he thinks a great deal. And when he stops his paper because a two line item did not suit him and then pesters his neighbor by borrowing the paper, the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a great deal.

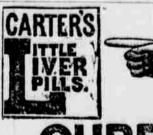

Pay the Printer.

When storm caverts around your door,
And you, by light of taper,
Sit closely by the evening fire
To read your country paper,
Just think of him whose work thus helps
To wear away the winter,
And put this question to yourself,
"Have I paid the printer?"
