

NEW ELECTION LAW.

CONTINUED.

SECTION 20. To provide for the cost of the said shelves or compartments and guard-rails in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Secretary of Internal Affairs and the Auditor General shall be and they are hereby constituted a board to decide upon a pattern of the said shelves or compartments, and a pattern of the said guard rails, and upon the material to be used for them, and such other furniture and apparatus as may be necessary, and to fix a limit of cost of the same per shelf or compartment, and per linear foot or rail, and the said board shall, within two months after the passage of this act, notify the commissioners of the respective counties of the pattern adopted and of the limit of cost, and the said commissioners after they have provided the said shelves or compartments and guard-rails, shall send to the Auditor General of the Commonwealth a statement of the voting places in the county, naming them, and of the number of shelves or compartments provided for each according to the pattern adopted, and of the cost of the same not exceeding the limit to be fixed as aforesaid, which statement shall be signed by the said commissioners, verified by the affidavit of one of them, and approved by the county controller or auditors. On receipt of the said statement the Auditor General shall draw warrants upon the treasury of the Commonwealth in favor of the treasurers of the counties from which the said statements shall have been received, for the sums therein stated to be due, and the State Treasurer is hereby directed to pay the said warrants.

The said shelves or compartments and guard rails shall thereafter be the property of the respective counties, and no further allowance shall be made to the counties, by the Auditor General, for providing the same.

SECTION 21. At the opening of the polls in each voting place, the seals of one package shall be publicly broken and the said package shall be opened by the judge of elections. The cards of instruction shall be immediately posted at or in each voting shelf or compartment, provided in accordance with this act for the marking of the ballots, and not less than three such cards and not less than five specimen ballots shall be immediately posted in or about the voting room, outside the guard-rail, and such cards and specimen ballots shall be given to any voter at his request. The second set of ballots shall be retained unopened by the respective judges of election until they are needed for the purpose of voting.

SECTION 22. Any person desiring to vote shall give his name and residence to one of the election officers in charge of the ballots, who shall thereupon announce the same in a loud and distinct tone of voice, and if such name is found upon the ballot check-list by the inspector or clerks in charge thereof, he shall likewise repeat the said name and the voter shall be allowed to enter the space enclosed by the guard-rail, unless his right to vote be challenged. No person whose name is not on the said list, or whose right to vote shall be challenged by a qualified citizen, shall be admitted within said guard rail until he has established his right to vote in the manner now provided by law and his name, if not on the check lists, shall then be added to both lists. As soon as a voter is admitted within the rail the election officer having charge of the ballots shall detach a ballot from the stub and give it to the said voter, but shall first fold it so that the words printed on the back and outside, as provided in section fifteen of this act, shall be the only wording visible, and no ballot shall be voted unless folded in the same manner. Not more than one ballot shall be given to a voter, except as is provided in section twenty-six of this act. As soon as a voter receives a ballot, the letter "B" shall be marked against his name on the margin of the ballot-check-list, but no record of the number of the ballots shall be made on the said lists. Besides the election officers and such supervisors as are authorized by the laws of the United States, or overseers appointed by the courts of this Commonwealth, not more than four voters in excess of the number of voting shelves or compartments provided, shall be allowed in said enclosed space at one time.

SECTION 23. On receipt of his ballot, the voter shall, forthwith, and without leaving the space enclosed by the guard-rail, retire to one of the voting shelves or compartments and shall prepare his ballot by marking in the appropriate margin or place a cross (x) opposite the party name or political designation of a group of candidates, or opposite the name of the candidate of his choice, for each office to be filled, or by inserting in the blank space provided therefor any name not already on the ballot, and in case of a question submitted to the vote of the people, by marking in the appropriate margin or place a cross (x) against the answer which he desires to give. Before leaving the voting shelf or compartment, the voter shall fold his ballot without displaying the marks thereon in the same way it was folded when received by him, and he shall keep the same so folded until he has voted.

After leaving the voting shelf and before leaving the enclosed space he shall give his ballot to the election officer in charge of the ballot box who shall, without unfolding the ballot, number it as required by the constitution of this Commonwealth, placing the said number in the right hand upper corner of the back of the ballot immediately to the left of the folding line printed thereon, and nowhere else, and shall then at once fold the corner at the folding line and fasten it securely down with the adhesive paste so as to cover the number on the ballot so that it cannot be seen without unfastening or cutting open the part so fastened down, and shall then deposit the ballot in the box. The voter shall mark and deliver his ballot without undue delay and shall quit the enclosed space as soon as his ballot has been deposited: Provided, That if at any time the constitution of this Commonwealth shall cease to require ballots to be numbered, no number shall be marked on the ballot and it shall be deposited in the ballot box by the voter himself.

SECTION 24. No voter shall be allowed to occupy a voting shelf or compartment already occupied by another, except when giving the help allowed by section twenty-seven of this act, nor to remain within said compartment more than three minutes in case all of such compartments are in use and other voters are waiting to occupy the same. No voter not an election officer shall be allowed to re-enter the enclosed space after he has once left it, except to give help as hereinafter described. Each voter's name shall not be checked on the voting-check-list by the officer having charge thereof as soon as he has cast his vote, in the manner now provided by law. It shall be the duty of the judge of election to secure the observance of the provisions of this section, to keep order in the room in which the voting is held and to see that no more persons are admitted within the enclosed space than are allowed by this act. Each party which has, by its primary meeting, caucus, convention or board, sent to the proper office a certificate of nomination, and each group of citizens which has sent to the proper office a nomination paper as provided in sections two and three of this act, shall be allowed to appoint three electors to act as watchers at each voting place, without expense to the county, one of whom shall be allowed to remain in the room outside of the enclosed space. Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners, or if the election be held in a township or borough, from the auditors of the same, stating his name, names of the persons who have appointed him and the party or policy he represents, and no party or policy shall be represented by more than one watcher in the same voting room at any one time. Watchers shall be required to show their certificates when requested to do so. Until the polls are closed no persons shall be allowed in the room outside of the said enclosed space, except these watchers, voters not exceeding ten at any one time, who are awaiting their turn to prepare their ballots, and peace-officers when necessary for the preservation of the peace. No person, when within the voting room, shall electioneer or solicit votes for any party or candidate, nor shall any written or printed matter be posted up within the said room, except as required by law.

SECTION 25. No list or memorandum of the names of voters, except such lists as are expressly authorized by law, shall be made within the voting room by any person or officer, nor shall any list or memorandum of the numbers marked upon the ballots be made or kept, except such lists as are expressly authorized by law: Provided, That any voter may make a memorandum of the number of his own ballot, and the watchers may keep their poll books and challenge lists. After the closing of the polls and before the ballot boxes are opened all the lists of voters upon which the numbers of the ballots are recorded, as now required by law, shall be placed in separate sealed covers, properly marked, and the stubs of all the ballots used, together with all unused ballots, and the ballot-check-list, shall also be enclosed in a sealed package properly designating the voting place, which package shall be sent to the proper office as required by law in the case of the ballots cast, and neither the said package nor the said lists of voters shall thereafter be opened, except by the return judges, or in the case of a contest, or upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Ben Butler at Sea.

HOW HE SAVED HIS VESSEL AND MEN FROM SHIPWRECK.

A characteristic which is the especial mark of Benjamin F. Butler is his fertility of resources and expedients. People know this mainly through the fact that in his law practice he is so often able to find some flaw or some crevice through which to extract a client whose case would be almost hopeless in the hands of anybody else. But this ability to "find a way out" has marked his whole life even from boyhood, any one who reads his book will be struck by it. In every difficulty, even though he might not adopt the prescribed and proper solution, he always was able to make one of some sort. This is well shown in his adventure on the shoals off Cape Hatteras, when bound for New Orleans during the civil war.

Owing to the carelessness or treachery of his ship captain, his transport steamer, the Mississippi, ran heavily upon the shoals. She had several regiments of soldiers on board, and a storm was coming on. The shore was a dozen miles away and the boats were sufficient to take off only a very small part of those on board. The captain was a traitor and the mate a "dolt," as Butler says in his forthcoming book, and there was no one on board who knew what to do. An anchor had been dropped, but the vessel rolled upon it smashing a great hole in her bottom. Luckily the ship had water tight compartments, but the water poured in so rapidly that it soon filled the forward compartments up to the sea level.

The lives of hundreds of men were dependent upon the immediate action of a man who knew nothing whatever of seamanship.

Butler ordered out a company of soldiers, with instructions to shoot the first man who tried to lower a boat. He set others at work by lighting the vessel by throwing overboard everything in the order in which it could best be spared. The ship was lying at right angles with the shore and he sent men out in boats to find channels by sounding and to mark it by anchoring pork barrels from which he had emptied the pork. He kept a solid body of men running back and forth the whole length of the vessel in order to keep her rocking so that she might not settle in the sand. He found out by the nautical almanac just when the tide would serve. When after anxious hours, he knew the tide to be at its height, he ordered every sail set, and the instant they were sheeted home, he gave the word for the engine to be started at full speed.

The ship had been resting part way over a narrow shoal. The combined force of sail and steam drove her a few feet farther on, and then the weight of her water-logged prow broke down the bank of sand and she slid forward into deep water. Such heartfelt cheers as went up Butler says he never heard before or since.

We've heard of a woman who said she'd walk five miles to get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription if she couldn't get it without. That woman had tried it. And it's a medicine which makes itself felt in toning up the system and correcting irregularities as soon as its use is begun. Go to your drug store, pay a dollar, get a bottle and try it—try a second, a third if necessary. Before the third one's been taken you'll know that there's a remedy to help you. Then you'll keep on and a cure'll come. But if you shouldn't feel the help, should be disappointed in the results—you'll find a guarantee printed on the bottle-wrapper that'll get your money back for you.

How many women are there who'd rather have the money than health? And "Favorite Prescription" produces health. Wonder is that there's a woman willing to suffer when there's a guaranteed remedy in the nearest drug store.

Deafness Can't Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

We use Alcohol

pure alcohol to make Wolff's ACME BLACKING. Alcohol is good for leather; it is good for the skin. Alcohol is the chief ingredient of Cologne, Florida Water, and Bay Rum the well known face washes. We think there is nothing too costly to use in a good leather preservative.

Acme Blacking retails at 20c. and at that price sells readily. Many people are so accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c. and 10c. a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to meet them with cheapness if we can, and to accomplish this we offer a reward of

for a recipe which will enable us to make Wolff's ACME BLACKING at such a price that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c. a bottle. We hold this offer open until Jan. 1st, 1893.

How the Pyramids Were Built.

A moneyed man, who was looking yesterday at the process of laying an artificial stone pavement in front of one of his many properties, started the friends who were standing about him by remarking: "I believe that the Egyptian pyramids were built in just that way." Pressed for an explanation, he said that while he had never been in Egypt he had read the works of all Egyptologists, including Brugsch and Piazzi Smyth, and had never found in any of them a theory which would satisfactorily account for the manner in which the pyramids were constructed. "Now," he said, "you must remember that the pyramids are built of stone which bears no resemblance to anything found within five hundred miles of their location. It is incredible that the Egyptians of four or five thousand years ago should have possessed the mechanical ingenuity to move these enormous blocks of stone from the granite quarries of Abyssinia or Syria to the pyramids. Is it not much more natural to suppose that the ancient Egyptians possessed the secret of making artificial stone, and that the pyramids were constructed by layer upon layer of Nile River mud, hardened by just such processes as we employ to make artificial stone? It is a much more plausible explanation of their construction than the laborious and unintelligent suppositions that the stones were carried across the desert to form the foundation and base of the pyramids. I fairly believe that the Egyptians of the ante-Christian era understood the manufacture of artificial stone, and that they built the pyramids out of it."

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Read proof below:

DR. R. J. KENDALL CO., DELVERIOS, Pa., Nov. 27, '90.

Gents: I would like to make known to those who are almost persuaded to use Kendall's Spavin Cure the fact that I think it a most excellent Liniment. I have used it on a Blood Spavin. The horse went on three days for three years when I obtained it. Use your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I used ten bottles on the horse and have worked him for three years since and has not been lame.

Yours truly, W. M. A. CURT.

GERMANTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1892.

DR. R. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

Gents: In praise of Kendall's Spavin Cure I will say, that a year ago had a valuable young horse become very lame, look enlarged and swollen. The horseman about here (we have no Veterinary Surgeon here) pronounced his lameness Blood Spavin or Thoroughpin, they all told me there was no cure for it, he became almost useless, and I lost a fine horse. I bought Kendall's Spavin Cure, so I figured him almost worthless. A friend told me of the merits of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, so I bought a bottle, and I could see very plainly great improvements immediately from its use, and before the bottle was used up I was not but that it was doing him a great deal of good. I bought a second bottle and before it was used up my horse was cured and has been in the best of health ever since. I will be glad to send you a testimonial of my horse's cure. I consider your Kendall's Spavin Cure a valuable medicine, and it should be in every stable in the land. Respectfully yours, J. DEWITT.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietor.
