VOL 26.

BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1891

NO. 45

Did you miss Jack, the Giant Killer? If so, don't do it again. It is fine.

C. E. Reice, the butcher, killed a four weeks old calf Monday that weighed 200 pounds. The calf was raised by Joe Kester, near Millville.

There will be a meeting of the School Board of the Bloomsburg School District, Friday evening Nov. 6th, at 7 o'clock.

For scrofula in every form Hood's Sarsaparilla is a radical, reliable remedy. It has an unequalled record of cures.

Rev. P. A. Heilman and family went to Muncy on Tuesday last to celebrate their father's 72nd birthday. It was a family reunion, and a very pleasant occasion.

A new industry has sprung up in Troy, the purchase of milkweed pods which are being shipped to Philadelphia to be manufactured into artificial flowers. They bring 20 cents per bushel.

The cost of the ballot booths to be erected agreeably to the provisions of the new ballot law, which takes effect next year, will average about eight dollars each, and the total cost to the State will be nearly $20,000. The booths are to be made of steel.

Washington Camp No. 319, P. O. S. of A. purpose giving the people of Bloomsburg an old fashioned ath of July in 1892, and hope the patriotic citizens of the town will render the needed assistance to make it a grand success.

Large congregations come to hear the sermons on the Ten Commandments in the Lutheran church on Sunday evenings. "The Jewish Sabbath or the Christian Sunday" will be the subject of next Sunday evening services.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Matthew's Lutheran church will serve a turkey dinner in the old Presbyterian church, Nov. 13th from 5 to 10 o'clock P. M. Price 50 cts.

The ladies can also procure aprons of every variety, and other useful articles.

Of Mrs. Scott's brightness, ease, and humor, it is hardly necessary to speak. Her gifts in her peculiar line are scarcely less than genius, while her winsome, changeful face, her crisp yet mellow tones, and her exquisite taste in dress, are a delight to eye and ear.—Post Dispatch, St. Louis. Bloomsburg Opera House, Nov. 6.

The hunting season began Monday. About a dozen of our sportsmen took advantage of it. It was a wonder some of them were not shot. The woods and fields were so filled with sportsmen that a stray ball could hardly miss them. The most successful of the hunters returned with 17 quail, 1 woodcock and 1 rabbit.

A gang of thieves entered Ash & Bro's mill at Briar Creek on Friday October 30th, and broke into two desks, and a door with a self lock on it. They went through the safe, which was not locked, and took all the papers out and distributed around on the floor and out side of the mill. All that was taken was $15.85 worth of stamped envelopes and postal cards. All other valuables had been taken out by Ash & Bros.

Five and one-half miles from Ricketts and twelve miles from the new tannery at Bowman's creek, Albert Lewis & Co., are building a large splash dam to float the millions upon millions of logs down the creek. The Loyalsock Extension is completed to a point about one and one-half miles beyond the splash dam, while the Harvey's Lake Branch extends up Bowman's creek seven miles this side of the tannery, leaving only three and one-half miles of road to connect. The distance from Ricketts to Harvey's Lake is fully twenty-five miles. From Harvey's Lake to Lopez is practically an unbroken forest, the amount of timber that has been cut being but a drop in the bucket to the amount still standing. For years to come this region is bound to be a veritable hive of industry, tanneries and saw mills already being in operation, wood working factories are sure to follow and in many places coal lies very near the surface. Fortunes will be made and lost in the next fifteen years in this immense lumber region.—Sullivan Review.

Hall's Hair Renewer is free from alcohol and dyes that injure the skin. It is scientifically prepared, and will restore gray hair to its original color and vigor.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

BLOOMSBURG, PA., Oct. 29, 1891. Special meeting of council held in council room, with president and all members present, except Rhodes.

On motion of Messrs. Gorrey and Allen the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, that the resolution passed November 17, 1891, appointing C. C. Kesty engineer in charge of the steam fire engine and the same is hereby repealed, and that the entire control and management of the engine be placed in the hands of the Friendship Fire Company, that no compensation be allowed to individuals hereafter for services with engine, but same to be defrayed by the Company from an appropriation to be granted them by the council.

Mr. Gorrey offered an amendment to By-Law No. 19, and moved that it be adopted. The resolution was as follows:

Resolved, that By-Law No. 19 which reads "The commissioner of Highways shall be subject at all times, in the performance of his duties, to the direction of the President of the Council," shall be amended so as to read: The commissioner of Highways shall be subject at all times, in the performance of his duties, to the direction of the President of the Council and the Committee on Highways."

Seconded by Mr. Furman, carried unanimously.

PAYMENT OF INSURANCE BY THE ROYAL AROANUM.

In behalf of Bloomsburg Council, the treasurer C. S. Furman, accompanied by the Acting Regent F. H. Jenkins, and the Secretary G. E. Wilbur, on Monday last delivered to Mrs. Thirma S. Peacock, widow of the late John F. Peacock, a draft for three thousand dollars—the amount of insurance held by the deceased in the above named order.

Mr. Peacock was one of the Charter members of this Council, which was organized in Feb. 1886. In the nearly six years of membership he has paid as follows:

Assessments	—	—	—	$104.88.
Quarterly dues for 6 yrs.	—	—	—	18.00
Medical Examination	—	—	—	2.50
Degree Fee	—	—	—	5.00
Benefit Certificate	—	—	—	1.00
or a total of	—	—	—	$131.38

making the cost per thousand $43.80, or only $7.30 per thousand each year. This is certainly a remarkable showing but is only one of more than 6,000 similar cases which have occurred since the Order was established fifteen years ago.

There are now 1,385 active Councils with a total membership of nearly 124,000.

CHURCH NOTES.

LIGHT STREET.

J. L. Crawford has broken ground for his new dwelling upon his lot.

Rev. Shaffer the Evangelical minister is holding a revival meeting at the church back of Millin.

The election passed off very quietly.

C. B. Ent is on the sick list, not able to attend the election.

Roland Buckwalter at present is on the sick list.

The farmers are busy gathering their corn.

M. L. Keller has finished husking his corn and reports seven hundred and seventy bushels of ears.

The prisoner arrested for stealing chickens and tried before the Literary society on Wednesday last week escaped the usual punishment connected with such offences.

Gossip! Gossip! There is plenty of it now, since there are several young men employed at the mill of G. M. Lockard.

A MEAN ACT.

Week ago last Saturday the Democracy of lower Luzerne held a grand rally at Red Rock and in honor of the event raised a fine hickory pole. During the Patison campaign the Democracy a year ago also raised a fine pole at Cambra. Last Saturday night some cowardly villains bored down the pole at Red Rock, and on Sunday night the one at Cambra. These may seem trifling things to the villains, and probably to the public at large, but may it not be the beginning of the building of a nest to hatch out another brood of "Robinson troubles."

It would seem that some people have profited by past experience. Perhaps their unsatiable thirst for revenge has not yet been satisfied.

Great labor has been expended on the preparation of the entertainment to be given in the Opera House next Tuesday evening. Though it is composed entirely of home talent, all the people who saw the first performance a couple of weeks ago, pronounced it a very enjoyable affair. The proceeds will be devoted to a worthy object in connection with the new Parish building of the Episcopal church and a liberal patronage is most respectfully solicited. All the new church buildings are ornaments to the town, and a benefit to the general public irrespective of creed. Therefore the efforts of the ladies and their efficient aids should be crowned with success.

Don't miss it this time, as this is the last appearance. Tickets 35 and 25 cents. Have your seats marked at Dentler's.

PROMPT PAYMENT.

THE FOLLOWING LETTER EXPLAINS ITSELF.

To the New York Life Ins. Co. GENTLEMEN:

To-day I received your check for $1500.00 the amount of the insurance upon the life of my deceased husband. I certainly am grateful to you, and the promptness with which you settled and paid this claim, without any abatement.

My husband was insured in your Company but for a few years. He had the prospect of years yet to live, but was taken away suddenly and while yet a young man. This provision that he made for his wife and children will be nearly all that is left us.

I appreciate the kindness also of your special agent Mr. J. G. Reifsnnyder, by whom the business was transacted.

Very respectfully,
MARY A. SAVITS.
Bloomsburg, Pa., Oct. 29, 1891.

Now and then we hear of a fair reader, occasionally we hear a good one but seldom do we hear a fine one. It was our fortune last evening to be a unit in the audience which greeted Mr. Scott, and we take pleasure in pronouncing him, in every sense of the expression, a fine reader.—Atlanta Constitution

Bloomsburg Opera House, Nov. 6.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

On Saturday night some miscreant or miscreants tore up about sixty-five square feet of the new concrete pavement in front of the Court House, or at least mutilated it so badly that it had to be relaid. This was, no doubt done under cover of the fact that it was Halloween, and probably the perpetrators thought they were playing a huge joke, and that the public would laugh at it. Could they hear the universal condemnation that has been expressed of their contemptible act, they would not feel that they have done a very smart thing. A joke is one thing, but the malicious destruction of property is quite another, and should the parties concerned in this outrage be discovered, they ought to receive the full penalty of the law.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION, ST. LOUIS, MO., MAY 2, 1888.

To the General Secretaries of the Y. M. C. A.

DEAR BRETHREN:—I take great pleasure in warmly commending to you Prof. and Mrs. John R. Scott, the distinguished elocutionists of our city. For years they have resided here, and their appearance in public always insures a full house, they being remarkable exceptions to the rule, "A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country."

They have recited for us again and again, with growing popularity; and now, as they leave us for a while to travel, I feel that I am doing our Associations a favor in thus highly commending them.

Yours very truly,
GEO. T. COXHEAD, Gen Sec'y.

At the earnest request of many who saw the entertainment of "Jack, the Giant Killer," the ladies having the matter in charge have consented to repeat it. There will be some changes and additions, and of course, the second presentation will be even better than the first though that is needless. Next Tuesday evening, November 10th, is the time, and the prices are 35 and 25 cents. Tickets can be procured at Dentler's, and of special agents.

Samuel Daily, who resided here for some time, and was employed by William Hughes and John B. Hunt at different times, was kicked by a horse at his home in Wyoming, one day last week, and died on Sunday night. He was buried on Tuesday.

Justice J. B. McCollum of the Supreme Court, has been greatly afflicted by the death of his son Charles, eighteen years old, who was crushed by the cars while attempting to board a moving train in Philadelphia last Saturday morning.
