Good boy wanted to learn jewelry business, by J. G. Wells.

"It leads them all," is the general reply of druggists when asked about the merit or sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Moore Jones was suddenly taken ill while at his work at the School Furnishing Company, Monday evening. He seemed to have a stroke of paralysis. He was taken to his home, entirely helpless. The next morning he was much improved and will probably be about again in a few days.

The following letters are held at the Bloomsburg, Pa., post office and will be sent to the dead letter office Dec. 8, 1891.

Mrs. Rachael Brunson, Dan'l Bowman, Mr. G. W. S. Hoffman, W. M. Kelsy, Miss Maggie Leiby, Miss Dora Mordan, Miss Ida Rone.

Persons calling for these letters will please say they were advertised Nov. 24, 1891.

One cent will be charged on each letter advertised.

Running a Newspaper.

To run a newspaper without occasionally publishing an item that is untrue, or gives offense, is like running a railroad without having smash-ups and accidents. It can't be done, truthfully remarks an exchange. No man in the world is so likely to be imposed upon as the editor of a newspaper. Pushed with work constantly—day and night—he must rely in a great measure upon second or third parties for information as to the events that transpire during the week. Frequently statements are received from good reliable people, but which are subsequently discovered, after having gone through many mouths to be without foundation in fact. If, therefore, kind reader, you find yourself aggrieved by a statement in your home paper, keep this fact in mind. Don't "fly off the handle," but go to the editor and ask for a correction, and take our word for it, in nine cases out of ten, if your case is just, you will be received like a gentleman and the correction made with pleasure.

There's a patent medicine which is not a patent medicine—paradoxical as that may sound. It's a discovery! the golden discovery of medical science! It's the medicine for you—tired, run-down, exhausted, nerve-wasted men and women; for you sufferers from diseases of skin or scalp, liver or lungs—its chance is with every one, its season always, because it aims to purify the foundation of life—the blood—upon which all such diseases depend. The medicine is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The makers of it have enough confidence in it to sell it on trial. That is—you can get it from your druggist, and if it doesn't do what it's claimed to do, you can get your money back, every cent of it.

That's what its makers call taking the risk of their wares.

Tiny, little, sugar-coated granules, are what Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are. The best Liver Pills ever invented; active, yet mild in operation; cure sick and bilious headaches. One a dose.

Livsey's Successor.

Treasurer-elect John W. Morrison has been appointed cashier in the office of the state treasurer to succeed William Livsey. Mr. Morrison will assume the position on the first of next month. It is probable that he will tender his resignation to Speaker Thompson as chief clerk of the house of representatives. This position pays $2,500 during the year when the legislature is in session and $1,000 the year following.

Resident Clerk Voorhes is an applicant to succeed Mr. Morrison as chief clerk. He is endorsed by Senators Quay and Cameron and is satisfactory to both factions it is said. Whether he will be appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Mr. Morrison is not known but it is said on good authority that the position and salary will be allowed to go by default and that Voorhes will not be appointed but elected at the beginning of the next session.—Patriot.

DANGEROUS EAR-RINGS.

Among the first of Dr. Koch's patients with consumption was a young girl infected from the ear-rings of a deceased friend. Barbery's Iodo-Acid, and specific disease are often derived from razors, brushes, towels, &c. Vigorous, healthy blood is the best safeguard against all parasites, and Cactus Blood Cure, the one only vegetable blood purifier known. No rival, no mineral, no failures.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON D. C. Nov. 23, 1891.

Is Secretary Blaine in revolt against the Administration? The re-election of Senator Sherman? Appearances indicate that he is, and ex-Gov. Foraker, who is here in attendance upon the meeting of the Republican National Committee, held today, while he refuses to talk for publication, loses no opportunity to let his personal friends understand that Mr. Blaine has promised him his aid in the fight he is making against Sherman. In consequence of the effect of the free champagne which was plentiful all day around the hotel at which the republican committee held its meeting, one of Foraker's friends related the following as the Blaine-Foraker programme: "You know, of course that Blaine dislikes Sherman and will be glad to see him end his public career by being defeated for the Senate; but you probably do not know that there is yet a stronger incentive for Blaine to combine with Foraker, and that is to prevent Ohio sending a McKinley delegation to the republican nominating convention next year. McKinley is Blaine's pet aversion and however the Senatorship contest may end, Foraker has undertaken, in exchange for Blaine's influence against Sherman to control the State delegation to the national convention and to prevent the name of McKinley being presented to that convention."

Chairman J. S. Clarkson, of the Republican National Committee, has always prided himself on being known as a "practical politician," and if the story that is being told of his action concerning the decision of the committee as to the next meeting place of the republican national convention be true, he is certainly the most "practical" politician ever at the head of a national committee. The story is that Mr. Clarkson let it be known to the leading men in the delegations from the competing cities, that he would like to know in writing, how much their delegation could guarantee as a republican campaign contribution next year, and that he also informed them that he intended using his influence, which they well knew was all powerful, to have the committee decide in favor of holding the convention in the city which promised the largest campaign contribution. It is further said that this was actually done by the several delegations or parts of them, and that the decision made this afternoon was really in favor of the city which had, through its delegation given a written guarantee of a larger cash contribution to the republican campaign fund than was offered by any of its competitors. What think you of that for "practical" politics? And the man from whose "practical" brain this very "practical" plan was evolved was elected by unanimous vote of the committee to succeed to the vacancy in the chairmanship made by Senator Quay's resignation. A worthy successor indeed.

The cares of administration may be great and pressing, but Mr. Harrison does not forget to "cast an anchor to windward" in the proposition of the Indiana "nigger" vote. One of them—D. F. Roberts, of Evansville—has been appointed Recorder of the General Land Office, to take the place made vacant by the resignation of the negro preacher who went back to Indiana for the openly avowed purpose of aiding to get a Harrison delegation from that State.

All sorts of improbable stories concerning the Speakership contest are being told here for the purpose of aiding or injuring this or that candidate, but there has really nothing occurred here during the week to either encourage or discourage any one of the candidates or his friends, although it is believed that something may have taken place in New York city during the latter part of last week, when several of the candidates were over there, that may later on have an important bearing upon the result; but even that is supposition, for the conferences which took place in New York were secret and none of those who attended any of them care to say at this time what was done. It is now apparent that the majority of the Members of the House will not arrive in Washington until after Thanksgiving day; therefore that the Speakership fight will have to wait until the turkey, etc., is disposed of before it can get down to business.

It is said that some of the republican Representatives will make a strong protest against giving ex-Speaker Reed the republican nomination for Speaker. When they do, it will be time enough to believe it. There was not a single republican in the last House who was not afraid of Mr. Reed, and if there is one such elected to the new House he has not been heard of here. Mr. Reed will rule the handful of republicans in the House with a rod of iron. See if he does not.

Gov. Hill spent Friday and Saturday in Washington arranging for quarters for the Congressional session.
