from the colds and draughts, and how apt he is to catch cold. There is no animal which is susceptible to draughts and chills as your horse. At night when sleeping his blood becomes sluggish and the is hable to catch cold. In recent years it has become the fixed rule with all owners of good stack to carefully blanket their horses not only when out of doors, out also in the stable. It has been found that horses eat less to keep warm, are kept in better coadition, and are more valuable by being blanketed. One of the most essential features which should he looked at when purchasing a horse blanket is its strength. Toe much credit carnot be given to the manufacturers of the celebrated 5-A Horse Blankets, who for years have insisted upon putting strong blankets upon the market, leclieving that the users of horse blankets would in time recognize the necessity and demand the 5-A Horse Blankets. The 5-A Blanket is what you want. There are 100 different styles made square for outdoor use and shaped for stable use at prines to suit everybody.
