The President Appaints Stephen B. Elitins to Sucreed Proctor.

WASCINGTON, Dec. 18, - President Harrison sent to the Senate yesterday the name of Stephen B. Elkins, of West Virginia, to be Secretary of War, as the successor of Senator Proctor, of Vermont, resigned,

Stephen Benton Elkins was born in Perry county, Ohio, September 26, He migrated to Missouri in his boyhood and began studying law. He was graduated from the University of Missouri in 1860. He served in the war on the Union side in 1862 and 1863 as captain in the Seventy-seventh Missouri Regiment. He was admitted to the bar in 1864, and then moved to New Mexico and opened an office. He was elected a member of the Legislature two years later, and was attorney-general and United States district attorney for the territory. He amassed a fortune by mining and stock raising. He resigned as United States district attorney in 1872, and was elected to Congress next year. He was reelected in 1875. His friendship for James G. Blaine began during his first term in Congress, and has continued with undiminished fervor, it is said, ever since. He became a member of the National Republican Committee in 1875, when he married the daughter of ex-United States Senator H. G. Davis of West Virginia. It was largely through his energetic advocacy of the plumed knight that Blaine was nominated at the Chicago selection. Convention of 1884.
