A POLE WHO IS PUZZLING THE PHYSI-CIANS OF WILKES-BARRE.

WILKES-BARRE, January 18.

The local physicians are studying a case which is a physiological puzzle. About two years ago John Levichi, a young Pole, was injured in the mines. He was carried in a comatose state to the hospital. There nothing could be done for him. The patient suffered no pain apparently, but he insisted on sleeping thirteen hours out of the twenty-four. The hours he was awake he would devote to feasting. When his appetite was satisfied he would go off into a deep slumber at once, which would last for fourteen hours more. The doctors were puzzled and removed him to the Poor House.

A number of physicians examined the patient to day. They will make a report to the medical society. Super-intendent Eschelberg, of the poor This company will return next Monfarm, says it is certainly a remarkable case He has tried all means to keep full house. the man awake without success. The directors of the First National Bank of Muncy seem to have hit upon a plan of closing their mouths about as tight as the bank has been closed since the examiner took charge a week ago. Although the directors were in session almost all of Saturday they refused to give out any information regarding the business transacted. The rumor that the bank had been reorganized on Saturday seems to have been without foundation. The clared. st itement of the examiner, it is asserted, will show there is a shortage of $20,800.

The amount has not been paid into the bank by the Directors.
