ADJUTANT GENERAL McCLELLAND.

William McClelland, Adjutant General of Pennsylvania, died at Harrisburg on Sunday. He was born Mar. 2, 1832, at Mount Jackson, Lawrence county. He received a common school education. April 23, 1851, he enlisted as a private in the Mount Jackson Guards, but the quota of Pennsylvania for three months having been filled, he re-enlisted for three years, going into camp June 8, the company becoming battery B, First artillery, Pennsylvania Reserves. Apr. 8, 1864, he received his first promotion as second lieutenant, others following in quick succession until Feb. 23, 1865, when he became captain of his company, serving in the First and Fifth army corps, and participating in the twenty-two battles fought by the army of the Potomac. He was slightly wounded April 1, 1865, at the capture of Petersburg, and honorably discharged June 9, 1865, by reason of the close of the war.

After he returned from the army General McClelland was admitted to the bar. In 1870 he was chosen by the Democrats as their candidate for Congress in the Lawrence district and was elected over J. B. Donnelly by a majority of 772. He was a candidate for re-election in 1872 and was defeated by William S. Moore. In 1873 he removed to Pittsburg, where he engaged in the practice of law. He was chosen secretary of the state Democratic committee several times and was chairman during the campaigns of 1876 and 1877. He was a member of the state executive committee for several years and during the last presidential campaign he was one of the secretaries of the National Democratic committee.

General McClelland was a director of the Pittsburg chamber of commerce and jury commissioner of the United States circuit court. He was one of the charter members of Duquesne Post, No. 259, and was recently appointed a member of the executive committee, national council of administration. He was also a member of the Union Veteran Legion and military order of Loyal Legion. He was appointed Adjutant General by Governor Pattison, January, 1891. He was appointed a member of the national board of World's fair commissioners over a year ago and at the organization of the state board he was elected a member, and subsequently appointed on the executive committee.

The adjutant general was a member of the Third Presbyterian church, Pittsburg, Rev. Dr. E. P. Cowan, pastor. Dr. Cowan will probably conduct the funeral services. A sister, Mrs. Winter, and a half sister, Mrs. S. H. Davidson, of Mt. Jackson, survive. He was the youngest of his family.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

We recommend shades to the new addition to the Court House. We also find the floor in cell No. 25, at the jail, should be repaired; also, that the water closet back of the Court House is in a filthy condition, and should be kept clean, and we also recommend that the boxes in the vault of the recorder's office should be lettered.

We find the late addition to the Court House to be durably built, elegant in appearance, convenient in construction, tastefully furnished and well supplied with light, heat and water. What we consider the only defects in the whole construction are the mistakes of the architect in locating the door in the front entrance, the center hall, the height of windows from the floor and the fire places which are on the east side of the building. But as a whole we believe our citizens will admire and appreciate it. The change made in elevating the apartments for the grand jury, from the small damp and dismal room in old basement, to the large airy, well lighted and ventilated rooms on the second floor, adjoining the general court room is appreciated by us, highly and will be in the future, we believe, by all who shall serve in like capacity. We cannot speak too highly of the front centre room on the second floor, specially fitted out for female witnesses, litigants and other ladies who are either compelled to attend the sessions of the court or do so occasionally for pleasure or education. The object for which this room is set apart deserves and receives our most sincere approval, and we recommend that the said room be kept open, clean and in order, not only during the sitting of the Court, but during business hours on all week days, so that during such days and hours it may be visited and occupied by ladies only, as their waiting room, and for their convenience. The public will greatly appreciate the removal of the Prothonotary's and Commissioners offices to the new rooms in front and will find them convenient and comfortable in every respect, besides thereby affording a place for the Treasurer's office, and a large and modern built vault for the security and preservation of the largely increased, and increasing public records.

The Judge's Chambers, and the new law library, located in the South-east corner of the second floor are conveniently connected for Bench and Bar and we approve of the privacy and advantages thus given to both, a privilege and necessity which here-to-fore they have not enjoyed. The extra Auditorium and waiting rooms on the third floor will, we believe, be found to be of great benefit and usefulness to the County, for the purpose of holding therein arbitrations, conventions, agricultural meetings and all public meetings of county organizations approved of by law. And for such purposes and use, when not occupied by holding Court therein, we commend them to the favorable consideration of the County Commissioners, and that the general Auditorium and Court room be kept exclusively for Court proceedings and purposes.

We hereby express our praise of the economical and successful management of finance of our county, by its faithful officials, which has resulted in supplying us with public buildings, comparing well in size and convenience with any county buildings in the state, and leaving our county with a debt so small, that without increasing the rate of taxation now at 2 1/2 mills, will, we believe, in a few years, be paid and discharged without our people feeling it as a burden.

We have examined, and somewhat carefully, the new addition to our Court House, and believe it very well adapted for the requirements of the county officers and people who have business here. The building is neat, convenient, and we believe worth the contract price. The Commissioners are to be commended for getting furniture that corresponds with the building, and putting in a neat and commodious system of files. This system of filing and preserving papers will facilitate the transaction of the public business.

We praise the honesty, care and economy in the management of our county affairs, and hope for a continuation of such management by those now in office and an acceptance by all who follow.

In conclusion, we express our appreciation of the uniform courtesy extended to the Grand Jury upon the part of the Court and its officers, and admire the disposition of the Court to speedily transact the public business but consistent with right.

Respectfully submitted, A. D. SEELY, Foreman.

A Tribute to Cleveland.

When, in 1884, in answer to the cry of "Turn the rascals out," Grover Cleveland was elected President he took the people at their word. Acting upon the idea that a public office was a public trust, Mr. Cleveland sought to give the country a Democratic administration based upon the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number. To the extent of his opportunity and knowledge he appointed fit men for office. He was sometimes misled by his advisers and party associates, and he made some mistakes. But he never persisted in his mistakes; and he went out of office carrying with him the respect of all parties.—Pittsburgh Press.

HOOD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT Sarsaparilla. THE IMPORTANCE OF PURIFYING THE BLOOD CANNOT BE OVERESTIMATED, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly its own curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

All gone—woman's suffering and woman's weakness. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription puts a stop to it. It's a remedy for all the delicate derangements and disorders that make her suffer, and a cure for all the diseases and disturbances that make her weak. It's a legitimate medicine, that corrects and cures; a tonic that invigorates and builds up; a nerve that soothes and strengthens. For bearing-down pains, displacements, all the functional irregularities peculiar to the sex, it's a safe and certain remedy. Other medicines claim to cure? That's true. But they don't claim to do this: if the Favorite Prescription fails to give satisfaction, in any case for which it is recommended, the money paid for it is refunded. Judge for yourself which is likely to be the better medicine. And think whether something else offered by the dealer is likely to be "just as good." You pay only for the good you get. On these terms it's the cheapest.

Ford, 1823 Vine street, Phila., F. Powell, Harrisburg; H. C. Demuth, Lancaster; S. B. Stillwell, Scranton; Louis Streuber, Erie; G. H. Welshons, Pittsburg.

Don't Do It.

Said my physician, who for six months had doctored me for dyspepsia without success, when I told him I was going to try Sulphur Bitters, they will only make you worse. I did try them, and now I am a well man and can eat anything. Sulphur Bitters are a great foe to doctors.—George Basset, N. Y. C. and H. R. Railroad, 2-5-2t.

A valuable horse belonging to Geo. A. Herring, and used in the delivery wagon of his meat market, met with a serious accident Monday. The horse was used in hauling ice, and by a misstep slipped and was strained about the kidneys. The animal suffered greatly, but may soon fully recover.

WEALTH—Is something which most people seek, and which but few are indifferent to no matter in what form it presents itself. The word "pecuniary," which is often used in speaking of a man's riches, comes from the Latin word pecus, which means cattle, and shows that formerly a man's wealth was reckoned by the cattle he possessed. Abraham is said to have been "very rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold." But no matter in what a man's riches may consist, it is all vanity and vexation of spirit, unless in connection therewith he has health. Emerson fully understood this when he said "the first wealth is health," and we have no doubt if he had known the virtues of S. S. S. that he would have recommended its use to all persons suffering from the diseases for which it is recommended. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.

You Find Them Everywhere. We are acquainted, says a knowing exchange, with quite a number of persons who "get more papers than they can read now," and do not want a county paper—as long as they can borrow it from a neighbor. These fellows always take a "family journal," published in New York or somewhere, containing thrilling and blood curdling romances, such as make young men despise home and yearn for the day when they can break away from home restraint and go out into the far west and be "bad men" and die with their boots on.
