WOLVERTON ON THE SILVER QUESTION.

The following letter explains the views of Congressman Wolverton on the question of free coinage:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
WASHINGTON, D. C. March 30, 1891.
Dear Sir: Enclosed find copy of House Bill 4426 known as the Bland Silver Bill. I will also send you some of the current literature pertaining to this discussion. The opposition to this bill is not because those opposed to it are opposed to bi-metalism, or to gold and silver coin, but because in another form it is simply protection to the silver mine owner, who is presumed to be, and generally is, of the wealthiest class in the silver producing districts of this country.

In other words because it enables a man who owns the bullion to walk into the mint with seventy cents worth of silver and come out with it stamped worth a dollar, and go out on the streets and employ a laboring man and give him the same seventy cents worth for a dollar's worth of labor, and in this way place in his pocket thirty cents' worth of the earner's money. At the present price of silver thirty cents of such a dollar, or thirty per cent, would be simply fiat money.

If by means of an International Congress some standard could be made to make the gold and silver dollar equal in value, there would be no objection in coining all the silver in the world into money, but to coin the Bland dollar under this bill is simply giving the silver bullion owner thirty per cent of protection in an indirect manner, which it seems to me would inevitably draw from this country all the gold and make our only money the Bland silver dollar.

Yours truly,
S. P. WOLVERTON.

SORE THROAT

Bronchitis, colds, coughs, asthma, and even consumption, in the early stages, yield to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Singers, actors, auctioneers, public speakers, clergymen, teachers, lecturers, and all who are liable to disorder of the vocal organs, find a sure remedy in this wonderful and well-known preparation. As an emergency medicine, in cases of croup, whooping cough, etc., it should be in every household.

"Two years ago I suffered severely from an attack of sore throat

And Bronchitis

It seemed as if I could not survive, all the usual remedies proving of no avail. At last I thought of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking two bottles of this medicine I was restored to health."—Chas. Gambini, Smith's Ranch, Sonoma Co., Cal.

"There is nothing better for coughs than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I use no other preparation."—Annie S. Butler, Providence, R. I.

W. H. Graft & Co., Druggists, Carson, Iowa, certify that all throat and lung troubles are speedily

Cured By Using

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It leads all others. "In January, 1889, I was taken down with measles and scarlet fever, and exposing myself too soon, caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs. I was forced to take to my bed and was so ill that the doctors despaired of my recovery, supposing me to be in quick consumption. Change of climate was recommended, but I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and soon found relief. After using several bottles, I was cured, so that I am now as well and rugged as ever."—John Dillander, Cranesman of Steam Shovel, G. S. & S. F. R. R. Co., Justin, Texas.

To run a newspaper without occasionally publishing an item that is untrue, or gives offense, is like running a railroad without having smash-ups and accidents. It can't be done, truthfully remarks an exchange. No man in the world is so likely to be imposed upon as the editor of a newspaper. Pushed with work constantly—day and night—he must rely in a great measure upon second or third parties for information as to the events that transpire during the week. Frequently statements are received from good reliable people, but which are subsequently discovered, after having gone through many mouths to be without foundation in fact. If, therefore, kind reader, you find yourself aggrieved by a statement in your home paper, keep this fact in mind. Don't "fly off the handle," but go to the editor and ask for a correction, and take our word for it, in nine cases out of ten, if your case is just, you will be received like a gentleman and the correction made with pleasure.

There are twenty well built towns in Kansas without a single inhabitant to waken the echoes of their deserted streets. Saratoga has a $30,000 opera house, a large brick hotel, a $20,000 school house and a number of fine business houses, yet there is nobody even to claim a place to sleep. At Fargo a $20,000 school house stands on the side of the hill, a monument to the bond-voting craze. A herder and his family constitute the sole population of what was once an incorporated city. This is a sad commentary on unhealthy booms. Those Kansas towns, like Wichita, advertised themselves as phenomenal boom cities. For while "everything was lovely and the goose hung high," but at last dry rot took hold on the boom towns and killed them.
