Proctor Inn has opened up with bright prospects. The landlord, John P. Hill, understands his business, and many people are already making arrangements to visit the popular resort this summer. Persons desiring to secure rooms should write to John P. Hill, Jameson City.

The trustees of the Normal School have made a contract for repairs and additions to the Institute Hall. The desks will be removed and opera seats put in. A gallery will extend around three sides of the hall and the seating capacity will be more than doubled. It is expected that the work will be completed before commencement.

If the Rules governing the democratic voters of Columbia County mean anything, then three of the delegates to the recent State Convention betrayed the party. They were instructed by a vote of 19 to 12 to support Senator Grant Herring for delegate at large, and in the Committee rooms refused to vote for him. It was fortunate for Senator Herring that he was so popular all over the state that he could be selected as delegate at large, with the three instructed delegates working against him.

On Wednesday last the Building Committee of St. Paul's Parish House settled with Thomas Gorrey the contractor for the work, and gave him an order on Col. Freeze the Treasurer of the building fund, for the balance due on the contract which was promptly adjusted, satisfied and paid. The treasurer holds Gorrey's receipt in full, and every penny of the contract price has been paid to the contractor.

The work of grading and laying the pavement will be begun in a few weeks, and carried forward to completion under the efficient oversight of Mr. Geo. S. Robbins, who will have charge of the work. The old paving stone will be sold.

UNIFORMED POLICE.

On Wednesday night the town council did a good thing when it voted to pay a policeman who shall give all his time to his official duties. He is to receive a fair salary and wear a uniform. William Thomas was elected as such policeman. Whether this office shall be continued more than a year will depend entirely upon how the new officer shall perform his duties. The town has no use for an officer who will do nothing but stand on the street corners and look fierce. If he wants his salary he must earn it. One of the first things to which Officer Thomas should turn his attention is the breaking up of the gangs of young men who infest the street corners on Sunday night, and make profane and indecent remarks in the hearing of ladies who are passing. Although this nuisance has existed for years, and been frequently commented on by the paper, there has never been an arrest. An example should be made of a few, and that would put a stop to it for a time at least. We would call attention especially to the First National Bank corner, and the Third and Market corners where much annoyance has been felt.

Mr. Thomas is a good man for the place, and we have no doubt he will endeavor to perform his duty fully.
