

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 25, 1892. Mr. Harrison's visit to New York this week, while ostensibly for the purpose of attending the laying of the corner stone of the Grant monument, is in reality for the purpose of settling the question of his candidacy for a re-nomination. He will carry with him the two men who were taken into the cabinet solely to bring about his re-nomination—Secretaries Foster and Elkins—and while these political manipulators will meet the republican bosses of New York and other States and try to make bargains with them, Secretary Foster has just returned from Ohio, where he was to lay Harrison wires, and there is reason for believing, although he maintains to the contrary, that he found the anti-Harrison sentiment too strong for him, and that the Ohio delegation will go to Minneapolis uninstructed. With such states as Pennsylvania and Ohio sending uninstructed delegations, it becomes necessary for Mr. Harrison to capture the New York delegation or throw up the sponge.

Senator Teller is doing all he knows how to do to make himself disagreeable to the administration. Not satisfied with charging Mr. Harrison with having been in league with the money power lobby to defeat the free coinage bill in the House, he knocked the bottom out of a very nice little scheme which Mr. Harrison has been concocting for electioneering purposes by offering a resolution, which was adopted by the Senate, calling upon the President for information as to what steps have been taken toward the holding of an international monetary conference, and for copies of all correspondence with governments invited to participate therein. Senator Sherman made a hole for Mr. Harrison to crawl out by amending the resolution by adding "if not incompatible with the public interests", but Mr. Teller intimates that Mr. Harrison would better not try to make use of it. It is known that Mr. Harrison has had secret agents at work for months trying to get the European government to agree to take part in such a conference, and it is said that they have succeeded in getting a number of them to do so, and that the conference is to be held when it will do the republican party the most good—just before the election, when all sorts of promises can be made as to what it will do.

Senator Palmer has announced himself a candidate for the Presidential nomination, and he says he will endeavor to secure the support of the entire Illinois delegation. Senator Call has offered a resolution which, if adopted and carried out, would get together some very valuable information. It provides for the appointment of a committee to inquire into the present capitalization and the difference between such capitalization and their actual cost; their gross and net receipts; number of compensation of employees, amount of bonded indebtedness and capital and stock; and a list of stockholders and bondholders, giving their residences.

The Senate, in its usual ponderous way, is discussing the House Chinese exclusion bill. The republicans are trying hard to make party capital out of the democratic vote by which Representative Rockwell, of New York, was retained in his seat, notwithstanding the report of a majority of the Elections committee in favor of the contestant, Representative McMullin, of Tennessee, voiced the general democratic as well as the common sense view when he said of it: "I cannot see how it can affect the democratic party. It was a case upon which men could honestly differ and upon which they did differ. Mr. Rockwell had the advantage of the skill with which his case was presented, and there were many minds that were not made up until the final presentation of the case. The very length of the debate and the perfect freedom which marked it was sufficient

The seed is planted when you feel "run-down" and "used-up." Malarial, typhoid or bilious fevers spring from it—all sorts of diseases. Don't take any risk. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery invigorates the system and repels disease. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength. For all diseases that come from a disordered liver and impure blood, skin, scalp and scrofulous affections, it's the only remedy that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure in every case, you have your money back. You pay only for the good you get.

The worst cases yield to the mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. That's why the proprietors can, and do, promise to pay $500 for a case of Catarrh in the Head which they cannot cure.

to show the country that the democratic House was willing to listen to every phase of the case.

Some gossip has been caused by the report that Mr. Blaine was very brusque in his refusal of the invitation to accompany Mr. Harrison and the administration party which is to go to New York tomorrow evening to take part in laying the corner stone of the Grant monument, on Wednesday. Mr. Blaine is at least consistent; there was never any love displayed by him for General Grant in his life time, and he declines to make a pretense of it over his grave.

Senator Vorhees says of the platform adopted by the Indiana democratic convention: "It is a sound platform, embracing tariff reform and a currency of gold and silver and legal tender paper (greenbacks) on an equality with each other. This is the old democratic platform, and no new departure toward Wall street." He adds that the State ticket is a splendid one, with a practical farmer at its head, and that it is certain to sweep the State into the democratic column this year.

Thomas Jefferson's Grand-Daughter Dying.

Miss Sarah Nicholas Randolph is living critically ill at her residence, in Baltimore.

Miss Randolph is the youngest daughter of the late Col. Thomas Jefferson Randolph, of Edge Hill, Albemarle County, Va., and a great granddaughter of Thomas Jefferson. After the civil war Miss Randolph, with her sister, opened a large school for young ladies. She was afterwards principal of Patapsco Institute, Ellicott City, Md., and about ten years ago opened "Miss Randolph's school," in Baltimore. She wrote "The Domestic Life of Thomas Jefferson" and "A Life of Stonewall Jackson for Children."

The Republican State Convention at Harrisburg last week nominated Judge John Dean of Blair county for Supreme Judge, and William Lilly for congressman at large and Alex. Mc. McDonell.

Another vessel sailed from Philadelphia Saturday last, laden with provisions for the starving people of Russia. There has now been three years of famine, and no prospect for its abatement. Provisions must be furnished them until they can be able to move into some other country. Their land has become impoverished for want of fertilization, and it will be a long time before its fertility can be restored.

The State Supreme Court has decided a case from Montgomery county in which an interesting point was involved. Supervisor Thomas, of Upper Merion, put in a bill for the use of his horse and carriage during his term of office in driving over the district while road mending or on business of the office. The township refused to pay this and the plaintiff brought suit. The Montgomery county court gave him a verdict; the township appealed, but the Supreme Court affirms the lower tribunal in quashing the appeal. So the township must pay the Supervisor's bill.

L. E. Klotz, a resident of Mauch Chunk, and the only son of ex-congressman Robert Klotz who represented this district for two terms, was killed last Sunday night while going home from a hotel at Glen Onoko. He spent the evening at the hotel and started for town at 9 o'clock by way of the mountain in the rear of the hotel. After leaving the hotel a short distance he slipped, fell, and rolled down the mountain side several hundred feet. He was instantly killed.

The deceased graduated from Lehigh University in 1872 in civil engineering. After following the profession for several years he made a tour through Europe and after his return entered the banking business with his father.

This will be an unusually interesting year in politics. The two great political parties will select their best men; the contest will be waged with great earnestness. Every voter should acquaint himself with the men and policy of both parties. The campaign will be one of education. We should like to see the young men of this town organize themselves into an Independent Democratic club. No kickers should be permitted to join, or to have any influence in its organization. The young men should be the active workers, and the older heads give counsel. The democratic party suffer more defeats from lack of organization than any other cause. Let the young men come to the front of the battle.

From present appearances Ex-President Cleveland will probably have three-fourths of the delegates pledged to him at the Chicago Convention. If it should so happen that Senator Hill, in one of his peculiarly original and forcible speeches would present the name of the Ex-president, the last hope of the republicans would be abandoned, and the mere fun of counting the vote would remain to make Grover Cleveland again the occupant of the White House for four years. The republicans are fostering the vain hope of disensions in New York between the Hill and Cleveland men, but the indications now point to the election of Cleveland even without the vote of New York. But our neighboring state does not want to be on the outside, and when the convention meets will no doubt have a surprise that will blast the last hope of the republicans.
