The lawyers generally were pleased with Judge Metzger's manner of conducting business in court. He is prompt in his decisions, and when he once makes a ruling he does not permit any back talk.

W. S. Rishton, the Druggist, has secured the services of an experienced drug clerk from Philadelphia. All prescriptions left in his hands will be compounded by an experienced hand, and delivered when requested.

Prescriptions filled at night by applying at his residence Market St., below Main. 5-20-2t.

Miss Rose Staddon, who has been clerking at I. W. McKelvy's store for some time past, has been compelled to give up her position, by the death of her sister, Mrs. John C. Parker of Greenwood township, who died on Sunday last leaving her husband and six children, the youngest only two weeks old. Miss Staddon will remain with them, and have the care of the children.

The number of shares of stock allotted to the first series of Industrial Building and Loan Association of Bloomsburg, Pa., have been taken and the association will issue stock in the second series upon the 7th day of June next, that being the time of their next regular monthly meeting.

The number of shares will be limited to five hundred in each series. First payment will be $2.00 per share and $1.00 per share a month thereafter. For value of each share $200.00. Further information may be had by calling at the office of the secretary, Wirt's Block, Bloomsburg, Pa. A. N. Yost, Secretary. 5-13-3t.

W. S. Rishton, a graduate of the Phila. College of Pharmacy, has opened an elegant new store in Ent's building one door below the Farmer's National Bank where he will be pleased to see any who may need anything in his line.

He carries the largest, finest and best line of toilet preparations, perfumes, and sundries in the town.

His prescription department is stocked with a complete line of pure drugs and chemicals. Every prescription which goes out of his store is guaranteed to be composed of perfectly pure ingredients and exactly as specified on the Physician's prescription.

Look at Your Boy.

Study his tastes and his abilities. If he is an every day sort of a mutton don't try to make something else out of him by putting a lion skin on him. A lion is no better than a lamb. If it were God would have made all lambs lions. If your boy is built for a plow horse don't spoil the plow horse trying to make of him a racer. He will not make one, and he will be spoiled in disposition for anything. Teach him to make the best of the talents that are given him, and he will be a credit to himself and to you.—Bradford Era.

Gilmore's store and restaurant are among the finest in the land. New paint and paper have added to them greatly. The dining room walls are covered with French plate bevel mirrors, with chenille curtains at the windows and doors. The entire house is richly and tastefully furnished. By the way, the season has opened for spring chicken on Saturday nights, and Mrs. Gilmore cooks them most deliciously.

DEMOCRATS, ATTENTION!

Two years ago I announced myself as a candidate for the Legislature, and published during the campaign a circular setting forth my views, from which at this time permit me to quote: "If nominated and elected, I pledge you a faithful service as Representative, supporting the platform and the party, and in all things obeying the will of my constituency, regardless of my own private opinions; that upon questions of public concern, the peoples' will would be my law." Upon that pledge I went before the people. You gave me fifty-eight convention votes, more than two-thirds of the whole vote. At the polls you gave me 4,714 votes, all of which to me was most gratifying, and for which I am and ever will be truly thankful. I now ask of you a repetition of your kindness of 1890, with a wish that you will make my nomination unanimous for a second term to the Penn'a Legislature of 1893. If I have demonstrated that a "public office is a public trust, to be administered in the interest of the public," I shall expect a verdict at your hands of "well done good and faithful servant." I hereby renew my pledges A. D. 1890. E. M. TEWKSBURY, Catawissa, Pa., May 16, 1892.

As we go to press Thursday we learn of the sudden death of A. W. Fry. He complained of sickness through the day and immediately after eating supper died on a sofa without any warning. He was sixty-nine years of age, had always been a resident of Bloomsburg, this being his birthplace. For many years he has been a faithful janitor of the public schools and sexton at the Episcopal church.

Funeral services will be held at the house Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. P. A. Heilmann of the Lutheran church, of which he had been a member for many years. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. M. L. Kline, to survive him.

Change in Time Table

The Pennsylvania Railroad company announces that on May 22d into effect. This Company having ever in view the furnishing the best of accommodations for its patrons, will on above date place in service a through Pullman Parlor Car between Williamsport and Philadelphia to be run westward on train 21 leaving Philadelphia, Broad street 4:25 P. M. arriving at Williamsport 10:20 P. M. and eastward on train 14 leaving Williamsport 8:25 A. M. arriving in Philadelphia, Broad Street Station 3:00 P. M. This latter train will arrive in Philadelphia 15 minutes earlier than on present schedule making close connections for all sea shore points. This improvement in time and the additional Parlor car service, will no doubt be greatly appreciated by the traveling public.

No other changes of importance in Time Table will be made except that train 16 now leaving Williamsport for the East and South at 2:40 A. M. will leave 25 minutes later.

Why They Are Poor.

Country editors always remain poor, but that is because they are not mean enough to get rich. In order to get rich it is only necessary to trust nobody; to befriend none, to get everything and save all you get; to stint ourselves and everybody belonging to us; to be friend to no man and have no man for our friend; to heap interest upon interest, cent upon cent, to be mean, miserly, and despised for some thirty years, and riches will come as sure as disease and disappointment. And when pretty near enough wealth is collected by a disregard of the human heart at the expense of every enjoyment save that of wallowing in filthy meanness, death comes to finish the work. Country editors prefer to remain poor, live happy and the happy.—Jefferson County Sentinel.

Some of the Latest Fads.

Late news from Paris is to the effect that sealing wax has suddenly become once more fashionable. A meaning is now attached to each color. White sealing wax means a proposal of marriage; black, of course, mourning; violet, condolence; brown or old gold, an invitation to dinner; ruby is used by lovers; crimson is reserved strictly for business; green means hope; pale gray, friendship; pink, love letters; yellow, jealousy; gold and silver, constancy, etc. Note paper is to be had in corresponding shades and in all shades and forms.

Mourning paper is now absolutely black, edged with silver, and silver ink is used to write thereupon. A pretty novelty is the flower paper. It is of pale blue, pink, lilac or green, and is powdered all over with the buds and petals of flowers in a yet lighter hue. Forget-me-nots or gentianellas on the blue, roses and apple blossoms on the pink, crocuses, violets or twigs of lavender on the lilac, and buttercups and daisies on the green. The envelopes match the paper and are lined with silver. These are the latest fads in stationery.

The Deepest Lake in America.

Not long since we gave size and location of the deepest lake in this department. Below will be found some curious facts concerning "the deepest lake in America." It is in the Cascade Mountains, about seventy-five miles northeast of Jacksonville, Ore. It is called the Great Sunk Lake, and far outrivals the famous valley of Sinbad the Sailor. It averages 2000 feet down to the water on all sides. It is about fifteen miles long and four and a half wide, and looks like a mammoth sheet of glass, its mountainous shore preventing the wind from ever ruffling its surface. Locally it is believed to bottomless, thousands of feet of line having been let into its clear bosom without the weight touching anything more solid than water.

For thousands of ages it has lain still, silent and mysterious, in the heart of the Cascades looking like a gigantic trench scooped out by the hands of a giant genii.

Lamp-chimneys cost so little that we let them go on breaking. We go on buying and grumbling.

What should we do? Get Macbeth's "Pearl-top" and "Pearl-glass;" they are made of tough glass, tough against heat; they do not break in use; they do from accident.

They are fine, well made, exact; they fit the lamps they are made for; stand upright; the shade is right; they make a right draught for light; they are uniform. Both bear a label for your protection. Look for it. Be willing to pay a nickel more and stop this constant expense and annoyance.

You pay your money and you take your choice. It is a good thing when you are invited to take your choice to insist that you have something to choose from.

You will find no fault with us in this respect if you will come and look at our wall paper and window curtains.

If you have need of either come and see our stock; if you have not, come along just the same.

We know you will admire the beautiful combination in wall papers; the new shades in curtains and be astonished at what you can do at a moderate outlay.

A WORD ABOUT CATARRH.

It is in the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established it enters into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tantalizing and killing the refined pleasures of taste.

Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient and all alleviations are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. The Drs. have by a treatment local and constitutional, made the cure of this dread disease a certainty, and has never failed. Even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been removed, and the disease thoroughly averted.

They recognize the great principle that genius or talent, or exceptional skill in and profession, is a great public trust to be executed for the greatest good for the greatest number, hence they call your attention to the fact of their visit to your community, and to what you may expect from their treatment. The Doctors have devoted years to the study and treatment of

Chronic and Complicated Diseases

Which other physicians failed to treat successfully. Those delicate functions of the human frame, whose derangements have for centuries defied human skill, have in many cases yielded to the patient investigation and untiring perseverance of these doctors, and thousands of sufferers from diseases heretofore pronounced incurable, have consulted these gentlemen and been by them restored to health and usefulness.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EYE,
