JOHN L. KLINE, Treasure

Treasurer's Office, Bloomsburg, April 4th, 1892. PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM inser and beautifies the hi CONSUMPTIVE Pet Superstitions.

From Harper's Bazar. How many of us are there who do not once in a while feel just a little uncomfortable when we find that we have sat thirteen at the table, or have seen the moon over our left shoulders, or have done any of the thousand and one things that are supposed to portend evil? Not that we think for a moment any misfortune really will happen in consequence of these acts, but the suggestions are not pleasant, and we wish our attention had not been called to them.

Of course we all laugh at superstitions, and think them silly, as they are, but, nevertheless, we do not get away from the unpleasant feeling.

I knew an old lady who considered it positively wicked and unchristain to give up to "foolish superstitions," but she never would allow any one to rock an empty chair in her presence. You will see people in the street who have been hurrying as if anxious to lose no time, stop on a corner, and wait five minutes for a long tuneral procession to pass. They have not the courage to cross through it when an opportunity is offered, although they may waste moments that are golden to them.

The most sensible and practical people in the world will often take particular pains to skim off a patch of buobles that has risen to the top of their tea, because some one in jest has said it is a "sure sign of money."

It always requires a distinct effort for me to pass a pin that I see lying on the sidewalk, because of that absurdly bad rhyme, which, of course, I consider nonsense-

"See a pin and pick it up, All the day you'll have good luck." Sometimes these omens do not go well together, and even contradict fashion journals. We suggest to them each other. For instance, one will to become regular subscribers, thus tell you that the only lucky way to making sure of receiving their journal find a pin is with the head toward each month, and securing that valuable you; and just as you have the habit of book, "Dressmaking Simplified," that going around looking for pins with is given as a premium to each substheir heads toward you, another man will say, "It is very unlucky to pick up a pin with the head toward you. The only right way is to have the point toward you, for then the luck will be

"sharp." If at the table a little salt is spilt between two people, the way to avoid a quarrel is for each to take a pinch and throw it over his left shoulder. Salt always has seemed a wonderfully powerful mineral from the time when we were small. Which of us, when a child, did not firmly believe in that old joke about putting salt on a bird's tail? I remember a curly-headed little boy in kilts who went out into the garden with a handful of salt, resolved upon catching a bird. He was very patient, and cautiously tiptoed around for a long while. Finally, a little discouraged, he went in to his mother, and said, mournfully, "Mamma, they all flew away." His mother didn't laugh at him.

When we stop to think, we wonder how real these silly superstitions, in which nobody believes, are in their influence upon our actions. We hesitate to start on a journey on Friday; we walk out in the mud rather than go under a ladder; we don't give knives or sharp instruments to our friends; and we don't do a hundred things that we might, all because, though we are not superstitious, we would rather not do what suggests anything disagreeable.

That Tired Feeling

Is often the forerunner of serious illness, which may be broken up if a good tonic like Hood's Sarsaparilla is taken in season. This medicine invigorates the kidneys and liver to remove the waste from the system, purifies the blood and builds up the strength.

Constipation is caused by loss of the peristaltic action of the bowels. Hood's Pills restore this action and invigorate the liver.

A watchmaker in Nuremberg, Bavaria, has invented a device which displays on a face of a clock, one hour before it is about to run down, the warning word, "Wind."

Boils, carbuncles, and eruptions of all kinds are nature's efforts to throw off poison from the blood. This result may be accomplished much more effectually, as well as agreeably, through the proper excretory channels, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The fruit of an ordinary banana tree averages from thirty five to forty pounds weight in season.

The cocoa tree of the Maldive Islands every month produces a cluster of nuts.

The principal wheat exporting countries of the world are in the order named: the United States, British India, Austria-Hungary, Australasia and the Argentine.

Baldness ought not to come till the age of 55 or later. If the hair begins to fall earlier, use Hall's Hair Renewer and prevent baldness and grayness.

In South Africa the seller of any horse or ox is bound by law to provide two sureties that it was not stolen.

Why Our Prices for Clothing Are the Lowest in this Country

WE ARE THE LARGEST buyers of cloth and clothing materials in the world! also, sell more clothing than any other concern in the world; having stores in all of the principal cities in the United States. We buy and sell for cash. We do not make our profits all out of one store. A little from each satisfies us. We manufacture every garment we sell, you pay no middleman's profit here. We sell the best fitting ready-made clothing (for men and boys) you ever saw. Our stock this season is larger and better than ever. You are invited to look at it.

The Parisian Fashion Journals-

"La Mode de Paris" and "Album des Modes," so well known as the publications giving the choicest Paris styles one month in advance of all other journals, appear to be growing just a little too popular. The demand for them is growing so rapidly that the publishers, A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14 Street, New York, have found it difficult to keep up with the increasing demand each month. They claim that the American ladies are buying their journals to such an extent that most of the newsdealers are entirely out of them by the fifth of the month. As all the plates are made in Paris by the best artists, the publishers claim that it requires considerable time to catch up with such an increased demand We agree with our lady friends that these are superior to become regular subscribers, thus criber paying $350 in advance for either "La Mode de Paris" or "Album des Modes" for one year. You may place the order through your news agent, or send direct to the publishers.

We use Alcohol

oure alcohol to make Wolfe's Acme BLACKING. Alcohol is good for leather; it is good for the skin. Alcohol is the chief ingredient of Cologne, Florida Water, and Bay Rum the well known face washes. We think there is nothing too costly to use in a good leather preservative.

Acme Blacking retails at 20c. and at that price sells readily. Many people are so accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c. and 10c. a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to meet them with cheapness if we can, and to accomplish this we offer a reward of F
