EMMONS BLAINE DEAD.

Emmons Blaine, son of Ex-Secretary of State James G. Blaine, died at the home of his father-in-law in Chicago, last Saturday, suddenly. He was at the Minneapolis convention, and worked hard in the interest of his father, and while there he became affected with bowel complaint which resulted in blood poisoning. The whole country, regardless of party affiliation will sympathize with the afflicted family in their bereavement. The deceased was assistant manager of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and his home was in Chicago. Walker Blaine, another son, died only a few years ago in Washington, and the death of a daughter, and the publicity of the domestic troubles of James G. Blaine, Jr., have rendered the path of life of the distinguished statesman from Maine anything but pleasant in his declining years.

A NEW LAUNDRY.

H. P. Chamberlin has purchased the machinery in Kingose's steam laundry, and will remove it to the new building now being erected by H. J. Clark on Centre street, as soon as the building is ready.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL CHAPEL.

The remodelling of the chapel at the Normal School is now completed, and the new auditorium is one of the finest in this section of Pennsylvania. It was opened to the public on Tuesday evening, the occasion being a lecture delivered by Mr. Clement T. Ambrose, who was greeted by a fair sized audience.

The hall will hardly be recognized as the same one, so many changes have been made. A new floor has been laid, sloping back from the centre of the room to the rear wall, thus enabling everyone on the floor to get a good view of the stage. A horse shoe gallery extends around three sides of the room. The gallery is supported by heavy iron pillars, which extend down to the cellar, where their foundations are set in brick piers, these bear the entire weight of the gallery, so that not a pound of its weight rests upon the floor of the hall.

In the chapel have been placed 1026 new opera chairs, furnished by the School Furnishing Company; 360 of the chairs are in the gallery. They are very comfortable seats, with a place for a hat underneath. Through the middle of the floor is a railing, separating the reserved seats from the others.

There are two entrances to the gallery, one over the door leading to the floor, which is the same as formerly, the other on the opposite side, leading up from one of the rooms on either side of the stage.

The stage has also been much changed and improved. It has been enlarged by extending it back to the rear wall of the building, the entrance doors changed and the ceiling arched and handsomely finished. The proscenium has been beautifully remodeled and frescoed, a new row of foot lights has been put in and the stage as a whole presents a very handsome appearance. The arched ceiling over the stage much improves the acoustic properties of the hall.

The hall is well lighted by a chandelier in the centre, under a handsome dome, frescoed in blue and white, and a number of smaller lights along the walls above and below the gallery, and a circle along the front of the gallery.

The hall will be used for the devotional exercises at the school every morning, and also for lectures, entertainments, etc.

Yes, That's the Trouble.

The Tribune says of the candidate of its party that he is "a President who has faithfully executed all its policies."

Yes, that's what is the matter with Mr. Harrison. That is why he has richly earned defeat.

He has faithfully executed the Republican policy of squandering the surplus, voting subsidies, increasing taxes at home and removing them abroad.

He has faithfully executed its policy of looting the public service for spoils and bestowing offices upon relatives, friends and supporters.

He has faithfully executed its policy of protecting rascals and rewarding its corruptionists.

He faithfully executed his part of the plan to pass a Force bill.

He signed and faithfully carried out the law passed to placate the silver kings and pacify the inflationists, which is reducing the gold reserve and threatening us with a silver basis.

Mr. Harrison has been too faithful by half to the behests of his party. He will go down with it in November. — World.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, June 24, 1892.

Whitelaw Reid may be forced off the republican ticket in a few days. Such were the startling words of a big republican who was a prominent Harrison worker at the Minneapolis convention. The Harrison people are just beginning to realize how great a blunder Reid's nomination was, and they also have a strong suspicion that they are the victims of a put up job. That the anti-Harrison men who it will be remembered controlled the New York delegation, prepared the whole scheme in advance so as to make Harrison's defeat certain before the people, if they failed to accomplish it before the convention. In proof of this they point to the fact that a committee from the New York typographical union was in Minneapolis to vouch for Reid's having turned his newspaper office over to union men, a statement, by the way, that was misleading, inasmuch as no change had at that time been either made or fully agreed upon. Now, it cost money to send a committee from New York to Minneapolis, and the Harrison folks want to know who sent those printers and who paid their bills out there, and if the Reid business was not prepared in advance, why they were sent there at all. These are awkward questions to answer.

It was to talk about this, as much as about the Cabinet and other vacancies, that Chauncey Depew was sent for. It was not believed that he knew anything about the inside working of the Reid scheme, it being thought that he was imposed on at the time; but his knowledge of New York politics is relied upon to aid in getting to the bottom of the matter. Reports have already come in from all sections stating that members of labor organizations will not support any ticket with Whitelaw Reid's name on it; they refuse to vote for a man who for fifteen years has been one of the most persistent and powerful enemies of organized labor in this country. Friends of General Grant have also been numerous heard from; they refuse to support the ticket if Reid remains upon it.

These things have alarmed Mr. Harrison and his managers, and they have started a movement to get rid of Reid. They hope to make the pressure so strong upon him that instead of writing the usual letter of acceptance Reid will decline, on the plea of important and complicated personal business requiring all his attention, or any other plea that may suggest itself to him; the important thing being that he decline the nomination.

The scorching report adopted by a majority of the House committee on reform in the Civil Service, which investigated the charges made by Teddy Roosevelt of violation of law by Federal officials in Baltimore, is not calculated to add to Mr. Wanamaker's comfort during this warm weather, although "Teddy" Roosevelt probably enjoys it greatly, as it is a complete vindication of the truth of his report. It charges Mr. Wanamaker with being either entirely ignorant of the terms of the law, or determined that this particular violation of it should not be punished, and says that the dismissals recommended by the Civil Service Commissioners should have been made.

After looking over the calendar and seeing that all of the Appropriation bills, except the general deficiency had been passed, and that the House was a long way ahead of the Senate, the democratic Representatives concluded that as nearly all of them wished to go to Chicago to help nominate the next President and vice President, it might be a good scheme to give the Senate a chance to catch up. So the House adjourned on Saturday to Wednesday, and on Wednesday it will adjourn until Saturday.

Today it is difficult to find a democratic Representative. They are all at Chicago, and a goodly number of Senators are keeping them company. Predictions as to the result are now out of order; the result itself is too near to bother with guessing about it. It all ways makes a fellow feel bad, too, if he guesses wrong.

Chauncey Depew has, if republican officials are to be believed, put Mr. Harrison in a rather awkward predicament. Mr. Harrison thought to tickle Chauncey and attach him permanently to the Harrison camp by tendering him the vacant Secretaryship of State, having been informed that Depew's business arrangement with the Vanderbilts were such that he could not possibly accept. What was his surprise, therefore, when Depew took lunch at the White House and the offer was made him, to be informed that he wanted a little time to consider the matter, instead of getting the positive declination that was expected. If Depew accepts, and the impression appears to be that he will, something else will have to be found for Secretary Tracy.

THURSDAY, June 30.—One vacant lot, fronting on Fifth street and bounded on east by Murray alley, north by Brugler alley, and west by lot of P. E. Wirt. Lot 4 1/2 feet front, 180 feet deep. Also good barn 18 by 28 feet. Terms, one-fourth cash, balance in two equal payments, 6 and 12 months.

As others See Him.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times of last Sunday writing from Chicago, thus alludes to the young Senator from this district:

By this time there was such tumbling and tossing of people, just like great waves, that it was only when a particularly handsome man came on top that any notice was taken of him. But William B. Given, of that good Democratic organ, the Columbia Herald, and Murtha P. Quinn, of Pottsville, were sufficiently attractive to elicit inquiries, while the boyish face, six feet and 200 pounds avoirdupois of the "Baby Senator," Grant Herring, brought about my head a shower of questions that could not have been answered in a week.

Delegate at-large and none larger that were as finely proportioned, few men in a lifetime have enjoyed such honors as this one at 30. When I had told that this young man had been retained as counsel by the Reading Railroad Company in the great case in which the legality of the Reading combine is to be tested, that seemed to establish the status of his legal ability.

How well we remember grandmother's attic, so fragrant with medicinal roots and herbs! Poor old soul, how precious they seemed to her! And yet, one bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would do more good than her whole collection of "yarbs."

PURE OLD RYE AND WHEAT WHISKEY.

We formerly had bonded warehouse room sufficient to store 8,000 gallons of whiskey, which we considered a stock sufficient to meet our trade, but we have now a larger stock of old whiskey, we were compelled to increase our storage room and have just completed an ironclad bonded warehouse with a capacity sufficient to store 30,000 gallons of whiskey.

We aim to sell no whiskey less than one year old and that on up to the oldest we have in stock except in original packages, thereby giving our patrons the benefit of the age.

What we claim over a great many other distillers: FIRST: Brantecreek being a rich fertile valley, we are able to get a superior quality of grain to manufacture our whiskey from.

SECOND: Having our flouring mill in connection with our distillery we clean all our grain for distillation over a rigid process of the smut, thereby making it as clean as the grain that is ground into flour.

THIRD: We hand wash, double distill our whiskey and then redistill on a copper still.

FOURTH: We wash our whiskey well thereby getting out the fusil oil and all impurities, which low whiskey contains.

FIFTH: We use no second-hand barrels, our whiskey is all put in new, clean, Indiana White Oak barrels which is considered the best barrel in the market.

SIXTH: It is a known fact that the hotter whiskey is kept the faster it will age, therefore, we heat our bonded warehouse with steam so the thermometer will register 70 degrees, when the temperature is at zero.

We have never distilled any corn, and do hereby guarantee all our whiskey positively pure free of wheat and for purity and quality we defy competition, and to any person who will find any poisonous drug in our whiskey, put in by us, as it leaves our distillery or sales-room we will forfeit $500.00. ASH & BROS., ELIASHREEK, CO. CO., PA. 6-16-3m.
