Some one has said that a bargain is an article sold under its real value. Some advertisers are not believers in this theory or are as economical of the truth as they are with their bargains.

But "an honest tale speeds best being plainly told." This is our purpose in offering Wall paper bargains. They are bargains because they are as we represent them, full length, full weight, bona-fide goods.

We know one instance of a bargain in wall paper which after it was on the walls led pencil marks showed through. Whose was the bargain? Come and see us before buying elsewhere.

The Chance in the Democratic Party.

Those who, notwithstanding their sympathy with Mr. Cleveland's views, still hesitate to support him because of the Democratic tradition, who still see in the party the old body-guard of slavery, the apologist of crimes against liberty, free speech, and a free press, and the armed force that to save human slavery would have destroyed the American Union, might as reasonably regard the Republican party as the party of the alien and sedition laws and a United States Bank. Nothing could show more clearly the change in a party whose name is unchanged than the contest and the sentiment behind it which have resulted in the nomination of Mr. Cleveland. We are far from saying that the party has not great sins and great rascals to answer for. But no honest Republican but would agree that that was true also of the Republican party. Neither of the great parties is a normal party; that is to say, they have not grown out of the issues of the times. They are both organizations which have survived the situation from which they sprang, and are adjusted to later questions.—Harpers Weekly.

Where the grasses are kissed by the wand'ring breeze,
And the fields are rich with the golden grain;
Where the schooner ploughs through the prairie seas,
To its destined port on the western plain;
Where homes may never be sought in vain,
And hope is the thriftiest plant that grows;
Where man may ever his rights maintain,
The land is as free as the wind that blows.

The plague of breaking lamp-chimneys is abroad in the land. There are two sorts of chimneys; brittle and tough. Ninety-nine in a hundred are brittle. The worst are imported from Germany. The best are Macbeth's "Pearl-top" & "Pearl-glass."

Two sorts as to workmanship; fine and coarse. The fine are Macbeth's "Pearl-top" and "Pearl-glass." The coarse are rough and out of proportion; misfits and misshapen; they do not make a good draft; they smoke.

Two sorts as to glass; transparent and gray. "Pearl-top" and "Pearl-glass" are clear, fine and tough—not tough against accident—tough against heat.

Call for "Pearl-top" or "Pearl-glass" chimneys.

A FORTUNE

Inherited by few, is pure blood, free from hereditary taint. Catarrh, consumption, rheumatism, Scrofula, and many other maladies born in the blood, can be effectually eradicated only by the use of powerful alteratives. The standard specific for this purpose—the one best known and approved—is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the compound, concentrated extract of Honduras sarsaparilla, and other powerful alteratives.

Dr. J. W. Shields, of Smithville, Tenn., says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

"For many years I was laid up with Scrofula, no treatment being of any benefit. At length I was recommended to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves." THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

The People's party has not been able to secure a leader whose name would give added strength and standing to its cause. It has fallen back upon Gen. WEAVER, who polled a little more than 300,000 votes as the Greenback candidate for President in 1880.

Its protest would have been stronger with some other candidate. But its failure to secure one dose not rob the party of significance or of its importance as a factor in the present campaign.

The party is heterogeneous in composition, but it is in earnest. It represents discontent with existing conditions, and while many of the remedies it proposes for the evils it points out are crudely conceived and impracticable, the evils themselves are actual and the need of a remedy is great.

The party has its origin in the conviction that existing conditions unduly favor a class at the expense of the masses, and that is true. It is a protest against Plutocracy, and such protest is justified. It makes a demand for an equal chance for all men, and that demand is just.

The party proposes many wild and impracticable schemes for the popular betterment, some of them very mischievous in character. But there is a great company of voters in Northwestern States, as recent elections have shown, who do not fear the mischief threatened and are determined in their antagonism to existing conditions. It is far from unlikely that the People's party will carry the electoral vote of several far Western States hitherto securely Republican. They will in some of those States have the help of the Democrats, who, seeing no possibility of winning themselves, will help the People's party to win, thus lessening the Republican electoral vote where they cannot add to the Democratic.

It is easily within the possibilities that this third party may thus prevent a direct election and compel an election by the House. Its importance as a factor in the contest is not, therefore, to be despised, while the processes of political education may fairly be expected to teach many of the People's party men the truth that in the triumph of Democratic principles lies the true solution of the problems they are trying to solve in other ways. Men once awakened to the wrongfulness and mischief of the policies forced upon the country by Republicanism are in a fair way to become democrats in a season or two.—World
