The Man with the Knife.

A big man grasps a large, keen knife in his right hand, which is behind his back. With his left hand he holds a small man in such a position that the large, keen knife may be sunk to the hilt in his vitals at pleasure. "Hold on," says the little man as he squirms and turns pale, "I am not going to kurt you; I am for peace; no fight will be made against any party kicker; you may go in safety." A smile plays around the mouth of the man with the knile for an instant, but the mouth is never opened. The big man is Tom Platt; the little man is-but it is of no use to call his name; everybody knows him by his hat.

Relief Is Only in Democracy.

-Savannah News.

There is no chance for relief by affilia-tion with the third party, as it makes no attack on the plundering schemes of Re-publicanism. The great question of deliverance from our crushing burdens is wrapped up in the overthrow of the robber taria and an equitable adjustment of taxation and an economical administration of the government. This can only be reached by defeating the Republicans and securing a Democratic president and congress. Let every patriotic southern man aid in this great work .- Athens (Ga.) Banner.

An Arrant Humbug.

To say that in protecting Carnegie the country is protecting labor is a humbug. Every ship coming to America lands workingmen who take the place of American laborers. We have no objection to proper immigration, but while labor comes in free of tax, there is no reason why articles of common necessity should not come in the same way. If the laborers of this country are not entitled to protection against foreign cheap labor, then Carnegie is not entitled to protection against foreign cheap goods.—Des Moines Leader.

The Kansas Plan of Campaign. There will be lots of fun here after awhile. The Republican state committee has decided to take charge of the editorial columns of the Republican papers of the state. It will be the duty of the committee to write such editorials as the leaders dictate. These editorials will be run as paid matter and will be paid for out of campaign money. The state will be organized in blocks of twenty, with a paid captain whose duty it will be to march with the twenty to the polls and fire in the votes.-Salina (Kan.) Herald.

That Fusion Will Help Cleveland. The results of fusion at the west and northwest will have a tendency to improve Mr. Cleveland's chances at the expense of Mr. Harrison's. It is quite pos sible that no state will be removed from the Republican column by any of the plans now being formulated by the Democrats and "populists" of Kansas and the adjacent region, but whatever effect these schemes may have will be favorable to the Democrats rather than to their administration opponents -Providence Journal (Ind.).

IT PAYS

To be cautious in the choice of medicines. Many are injured by trying experiments with compounds purporting to be blood - purifiers, the principal recommendation of which would seem to be their "cheapness." Being made up of worthless, though not always harmless, ingredients, they may well be "cheap;" but, in the end, they are dear. The most reliable medicines are costly, and can be retailed at moderate prices, only when the manufacturing chemist handles the raw materials in large quantities. It is economy, therefore,

To Use

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the valuable components of which are imported, wholesale, by the J. C. Ayer Co. from the regions where these articles are richest in medicinal properties. "It is a wonder to me that any other than Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a show in the market. If people consulted their own in-terest, they would never use any other; for it is not only the best, but, on account of its concentrated strength and purity, it is the most economical." - James F. Duffy, Drug-gist, Washington st., Providence, R. I.

Dr. A. L. Almond, Druggist, Liberty, Va., writes: "Leading physicians in this city

"Although the formula is known to the trade, there can be no successful imitation of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Without having the enormous facilities of the J. C. Ayer Co., it is impossible for other parties to put together such valuable ingredients, at the low cost of Ayer's

" Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Licorice.

On the banks of the Tigris and the Ea phrates the licorice plant is chiefly grown. These great rivers flow through fint, treeless prairies of uncultivated and nearly uninhabited land. For three months of the year hot winds blow, and the temperature reaches one hundred and four degrees.

For six months of the year the climate is moderate and salubrious, and for three months bleak and wintry, the thermometer going down to thirty degrees at night.

The licorice plant is a small shrub, with light foliage, growing to about three feet high, where its roots can reach the water, It grows without any cultivation. No lands are leased for the purpose and no objection is made to its being cultivated. It grows on red earth soil, where the wood is best, provided it has plenty of water, and the ground is not more than fifty yards from the actual river or stream.

The wood, after being once dug up, grows better afterward. The time of collecting is generally during the winter, but it is possible all the year round. The root when dug is full of water, and must be allowed to dry, a process which takes the best part of a year. It is then sawed or cut into small pieces from six inches to a foot long. The good and sound pieces are kept, and the rotten ones are used for fire wood. It is then taken in native river boats to Bussorah, whence it is shipped in pressed bales to London, and again from there to America, where it is used largely in the manufacture of tobacco.

The black licorice stick sold in drug stores comes mostly from Spain, and is made of pure juice mixed with a little starch, which prevents it from melting in hot weather. The word "licorice" is of Greek origin, and means "sweet root."

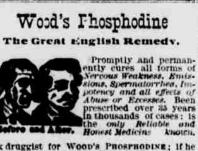

Remedy for a Wet Cellar.

The water can be prevented from ris-ing up through the bottom of your cellar by comenting it at a time when it has become perfectly dry. To be effective the walls must be of brick or stone and also cemented high enough to prevent the entrance of water through them. In other words, the bottom of the cellar and the lower portion of the walls must be cemented the same as a cistern, not to hold water, but to keep water from running into it. The work should be carefully done with good cement, and in most cases it will be cheaper in the end to have it done by a mason who understands his business thoroughly than to undertake to do it for one's self. After it has been well done, great care must be taken to guard against injuries, for a break in the cement means the entrance of water, and as long as the pressure is strong it will be almost impossible to stop it. When one must build upon such ground and excavate deep enough to be troubled with water from heavy rains saturating the soil, it is far the best plan to surround the house with drain tile, lower than the cellar bottom, and lead the water away from the building, if the situation will admit of it at a reasonable expense.

An Old-Fashiened Parson.

The convivial habits of the Scotch clergy of sixty to a hundred years ago were then thought not at all inconsistant with their cloth and their profession of sanctity. An old Scotch lady who formerly lived in Cornwall, Canada, recently gave this account of the minister under whom she had sat at home in her youth: "Ou, sye, weel do I mind Mr. Douglas. He wasna yin of that latterarappi Mony's the time I've seen him gaun' along the street where I lived a' the bet-ter for what he didna carry just to say AUDITOR'S NOTICE. verra straightly. We do not hesitate ready to refund the purchase price, if satis-factory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. C. A. Turning the Tables.

An Illinois sheriff was noted for his activity in looking up unlicensed peddlers. Taking his walk abroad one day, he came across an old fellow whom he at once concluded was an illegal trader, and inquired if he had got anything to sell.

"Have I got anything to sell, squire?" was the response. "Guess I have got blacking that will make them old cowhide boots of yourn shine so that you can shave in them. Got razors, too, an article you want, I should say, by the look of your beard. Got Balm of Columby, too, only a dollar a bottle, good for the hair, and assisting poor human nature

The sheriff bought a bottle of Balm of Columbia, and then desired to see the Yankee's license for peddling.

The document was produced, examined, pronounced genuine, and handed back to the old man.

"I don't know now that I care for this stuff," said the disappointed official. "What will you give for it." "Wa'al," answered the peddler, "I don't want it, squire; but seeing it's you, I'll give you thirty-seven cents for it."

The sheriff passed the bottle and pocksted the money, when the peddler said : "I say, I guess I have something to ask you now. Have you get a peddler's li-cense about you ?"

"No," said the sheriff, "I haven't any use for one myself."

"Waal, I guess we will see about that pretty soon," replied the Yankee. "If 1 understand the law, sheriff, it's a clear case that you've been trading and peddling Balm of Columby on the highway, and I shall inform on you." Thus he turned the tables; and the aberiff was duly fined for peddling without a license.

Instantaneous photography has re-vealed the fact that the former method of representing lightning as a flory sig-mg was entirely false.

The Monkey in the Menagerie. The Saratoga people in charge of Con-gress park turned an honest penny by collecting an admission fee to see President Harrison upon the occasion of his recent visit. This is a new industry that should be encouraged, although it is not a very pleasant spectacle for the American people to witness-their chief magistrate occupying the same position as the monkey in the menagerie. -Bristol (Pa.) Observer.

Clearly Defined Issues.

The federal control of elections and the Republican tariff are the subjects for discussion in this campaign. Not since war times have the political issues been more clearly defined. Not since the founding of the republic has the great principle of state rights, the principle of democracy, been surer of vic-tory.-Yonkers (N. Y.) Herald.

Uncle Jerry Rusk's Manipulations. Uncle Jerry Rusk, when he was a farmer, probably never put a rock into his hayload to make the fodder weigh more; but he doesn't scruple to use his agricultural reports to spread Republican politics. The atmosphere of Washington is not so pure as that of the meadow of an honest farmer .- Louisville Courier-Journal.

No National Platform at All. Dodging on the force bill and going back on the Sherman act, the Republican party is fast creating the impression that it has no national platform which it feels bound to indorse. It will deny everything or stand by anything in or-der to secure votes.-Detroit Free Press.
